Acheson Charges Mac Rejected U. N. Proposals; Chinese Reds Withdraw South Of Iron Triangle

Allied Tanks Drive Toward Assembly Area

Tokyo, Wednesday (AP) — Allied troops driving through intense artillery fire forced Chinese Reds back last night just south of their "iron triangle" in Korea.

It was the second time in 24 hours that furious Allied advances pushed the Reds into withdrawals.

Eighth Army armored columns overcame mud, Red gunnery and rear guard counterattacks as they rammed within less than 10 miles of the vital North Korean assembly area.

The Communists were forced to pull back last night north of Yonchon and Yongpyong in west and west-central Korea. The Allied columns thrust up roads leading to Chorwon and Kumhwa, the west and east anchors of the Red triangle.

The Reds had been pressured into withdrawals in the same area during the daylight hours yesterday.

Communist resistance began to weaken in the area, Eighth Army said today.

But it still was heavy in central Korea north of Hwachon, along another highway leading to Kumhwa. Even there the Reds had to give ground.

An Eighth Army staff officer said the minor Red withdrawals were "completely orderly and were carried out to secure better defensive positions."

In east-central Korea, other Reds put up a stiff fight near Inje. Three Red counterattacks were beaten back near Kansong on the east coast, where South Koreans have thrust more than 25 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Carrier-based and land-based planes teamed up in raids on both anchors of the "iron triangle." Land-based Marine jet pilots reported they blew up "several dozen buildings" and camouflaged trucks at Kumhwa.

Navy pilots from the U.S. carriers Princeton and Ben Homme Richard claimed they killed 75 Reds in an attack just south of Chorwon.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force reported its fighters and light bombers dealt hard blows last night at the Red buildup area just behind the battle line.

One of the air blows fell on Pyonggang, the apex of the triangle.

Allied forces punched out gains of nearly two miles.

AP Correspondent Stan Carter reported from the western front that Allied troops advancing toward Chorwon from the southwest received 200 rounds of artillery fire.

It was the most the Reds had thrown in weeks.

New Crisis Faces Iran

Tehran, Iran (AP)— Premier Mohammed Mossadegh was threatened with a new crisis yesterday from Fedayan Islam, secret Moslem society which boasts of a string of assassinations in Iran's stormy politics.

Hundreds of fanatical supporters surrounded the Tehran jail shouting for the release of Nyvab Safavi, fiery-eyed chieftain of Fedayan Islam. Leaflets were circulated threatening bloodshed unless he is turned loose.

The Majlis, lower house of Parliament, convened in an extraordinary session for the reported purpose of questioning the government.

Fedayan Islam also sent letters to the deputies demanding the dismissal of Deputy Premier Hussein Fatemi and accusing him of being a traitor.

Gable Fights Wife's Suit

Los Angeles, (AP)—Clark Gable yesterday turned his fourth wife's divorce suit into a court battle.

He filed an answer denying her charges of cruelty and contesting her claim to community property.

The actor said the former Lady Sylvia Ashley has a fortune of more than $1,000,000 and needs no financial aid from him. In their brief marriage, Gable said, all community funds were spent or pledged for payment of community indebtedness.

Community funds are those earned by either party during the marriage.

Mrs. Gable, one-time London showgirl and widow of Douglas Fairbanks, sued for divorce last Thursday. They were married Dec. 20, 1949.

Forced Savings Report Denied

Washington, (AP) — Secretary Snyder yesterday denied reports that the Treasury is thinking of proposing any sort of "compulsory savings" plan.

"That is not the case — the Treasury has no intention of proposing such a program," he said in response to a news conference question. Some of the reports have come from members of Congress.

Snyder emphasized specifically that the Treasury has "no intention at this time for any other type of savings bonds" than it now offers, nor for a change in the bond sales campaign methods.

Solons Seek Hike In Expense Money

Harrisburg (AP) — A bill to increase the expense money allotted state legislators was introduced yesterday in the Senate.

The bipartisan measure would boost yearly allowances for both senators and representatives from $2400 a biennium to $3600. Pay scales of $3,000 a year would remain the same.

Cancer Girl All Smiles At Commencement; Speakers Look To 'Bright Future'

Atlanta, (AP)—A shyly radiant and lovely girl for whom life is nearly over was graduated from High school last night with 185 classmates setting out cheerfully to lick the world.

For cancer-doomed, 18-year-old Betty Thompson the brief road ahead held only uncertain hopes of a brief marriage to Sailor Tom Amburn and then death, possibly in the fall.

But last night Betty smiled gently and clapped hands with the rest as speaker after speaker talked of the bright future ahead, of young hopes and young courage.

It was like any other High school graduation, only this one was held in the municipal auditorium to accommodate nearly 2,000 friends and relatives of the Russell High school graduates.

Betty, seated on a sofa off to one side of the stage, happily watched her classmates file into the auditorium beneath an arch of swords.

Soberly Betty listened to honor student Martha Ann Hemperly declaim on "the challenge to abundant living" and announce that none in the class "is facing the future with gloom."

Nor did her expression change as Miss Hemperly observed that many were living the abundant life because medicine had "saved the lives of many people from disease once thought incurable."

When it came to announce class awards and to hand out the diplomas, Betty's brother, David, lifted her from the sofa to her place with the rest of the class.

She wore her engagement ring from Amburn tonight though he was confined to a naval hospital at Norfolk, Va., with a severe case of nerves.

Betty and Tom were planning to be married. When Tom went home to talk to his parents the Navy cancelled his furlough for leaving the place he had given as his emergency address.

Near the end of the program she was awarded a loving cup by her classmates for being the school's outstanding citizen.

Grads Take Shortcut To M. A. Degrees

St. Louis (AP)— Graduates of St. Louis University's school of law took a shortcut to education yesterday in an academic mixup which left red-faced school officials hiding behind their Latin books.

The students were delighted, for instead of bachelor of law degrees the entire class of 110 received diplomas for doctor of laws.

Maybe Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin had something to do with it. He was the commencement speaker and was given an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

The mistake wasn't discovered until someone read the Latin inscription on the graduates' diplomas after the ceremony. School officials want the diplomas back to make a change. Most of the graduates prefer the sheepskins they received yesterday.

Boy Carries Out Instructions All Too Well

Sesser, Ill., (AP) — Virgil Robbins decided to have his valuable pointer dog vaccinated against rabies last week but didn't have time to leave his implement store. He asked a small boy to have it done and gave him a dollar for the fee.

The lad took the dog to the city hall and told Police Chief Wilford Day that Robbins wanted the dog "shot." "Surely not," Day said, but when the boy pulled out the dollar for the job the chief guessed Robbins meant it. Day said he'd shoot the dog but would take no money.

The boy returned to tell Robbins what he had done. Robbins rushed to the city hall and found his dog, for which he had spurned a $300 offer, had been destroyed.

Dope Peddlers May Face Death

Harrisburg, (AP)—A bill imposing the death penalty on persons convicted of peddling narcotics to children reached the General Assembly yesterday.

The measure, introduced in the House by Rep. Edward Dunn (R-Northumberland) would make the death penalty mandatory for anyone convicted of giving or selling narcotics to persons under 21.

Three Planes Collide

Dayton, O. (AP) — Two propeller-driven fighter planes collided with a jet fighter yesterday, shearing a wing off the jet, and killing two Air Force pilots. A third pilot suffered injuries, and a fourth escaped unscathed.

Going Home To Die

San Francisco (AP) — Navy Seaman James H. Vowell, "the friendliest boy" in the 1948 Bruceton, Tenn., High school graduating class, is going home to die. The Navy said yesterday the 21-year-old youth is suffering from a tumor at the base of the brain and two operations have failed to stop its spread.

School Bus Wrecked

Mt. Joy (AP) — A bus loaded with fifth-grade school children from Lancaster collided with a truck near here yesterday injuring 17 pupils, their teacher and five other persons.

Many Packers Suspend Beef Slaughtering

Chicago, (AP) — Meat - packing plants in many cities throughout the country have reduced or halted beef slaughtering and meat industry spokesmen said yesterday a sharp scarcity could appear in butcher shops by next week.

The packers blamed the condition on a scarcity of cattle sent to market and their inability to buy in compliance with OPS ceiling prices.

In Washington, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle warned cattlemen they are doomed to disappointment if they expect him to rescind his recent order for a rollback on live beef prices.

DiSalle said he attaches no particular significance to the meat packers' action in cutting production, and predicted the situation will straighten out shortly.

"It's just an adjustment," he commented.

In another development, President Truman and his top stabilization chiefs conferred with western cattle raisers for 75 minutes late in the day.

The White House withheld any comment, but former Gov. Roy Turner, of Oklahoma, spokesman for the western group, told newsmen later:

"We are all very happy."

He did not elaborate.

DiSalle said a survey of 160 cities showed retail beef supplies equal to or larger than stocks of a month ago.

But the big packers gave a different picture of the situation at their level.

The American Meat Institute, representing most of the packing industry said beef production has virtually stopped in many plants over the country.

"If present conditions continue, beef will become increasingly scarce in retail stores and the scarcity will be sharply in evidence next week," the institute said in a statement.

It said packers are unable to buy cattle at government price ceilings.

House Shelves Non-Resident Wage Tax Bill

Harrisburg, (AP)—The Republican House dumped back to committee yesterday "hot potato" legislation that would exempt non-residents from payment of local wage taxes in Pennsylvania.

The action by a 143-48 vote was taken as the bill neared the voting stage in the tedious legislative process. That move usually means the death of highly controversial legislation.

Asked if sending the bill back to the House Municipal corporations committee means it is dead for the session, Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican House leader said: "I hope it is."

The measure is closely tied-in with Gov. John S. Fine's deadlock bill to impose a tax of one-half of one per cent on personal incomes. That measure, which passed the House, has languished for more than a month in the Senate Finance committee when eleven GOP senators refused to support it.

More Guardsmen To Be Called

Washington, (AP) — Gen. J. Lawton Collins said yesterday he expects two or three more National Guard divisions will be called into Federal service within the next year.

The Army chief of staff also told reporters that the remaining three regular Army divisions going to Europe will be on their way "in the next two or three months." They will increase American forces there to the equivalent of six divisions.

The General, just returned from an inspection tour in Europe, said he found U. S. troops "in excellent shape all along the circuit."

AEC Discloses Plans

Louisville, Ky., (AP) — Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy commission, said yesterday the commission is about ready to give private industry authority to use atomic piles for producing power. He said many details remain to be worked out, however.

The Senator Answers!

(An Editorial)

Harrisburg (AP) — "There have been published reports that I am in favor of the proposed income tax," Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, (R-Monroe) said here yesterday afternoon.

"Such is not the case and I still maintain my stand as previously announced that there is no need for any additional taxes whatsoever.

"I still believe that by economies in government and reduction of ten per cent on all appropriations, sufficient savings can be made to take care of all existing demands," Senator Crowe said.

Out of the confused legislative grist of Monday's renewed meeting of the legislation, Senator Crowe was "reported" by the Associated Press (AP) to have decided to favor the income tax.

Early yesterday afternoon the Associated Press carried the above direct quotations from Senator Crowe which completely quashed the so-called "reports." Associated Press said last night they had not been able to contact Sen. George Wade, also "reported" to have turned in favor of the tax.

We, together with hundreds who wired Senator Crowe yesterday protesting any switch to the "sock-the-little-fellow tax," are happy that the "report" has been clarified.

The senator has been asked and he has answered. His answer displays that quality of constancy which is all too rare in most everything these days—but especially in seats of legislative action. We are proud to salute the Monroe Senator for sticking by his guns.

AFL Chief Demands Effective Controls Over Food Prices If Wages Are To Be Curbed

Washington, (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor yesterday demanded "'truly effective" controls over food prices.

Testifying before the House Banking committee, Green declared:

"We cannot stem inflation by halfway measures.

"If the worker's wages are to be regulated, he has every right to expect that the prices of the foods he has to buy at the grocery store will be effectively controlled."

Green testified as the House group drove to wind up its hearings this week on President Truman's request for a two-year extension of the government's controls authority, embodied in the 1950 defense production act.

The law, hotly debated by many segments of the nation's economy in recent weeks, is due to expire June 30 unless Congress agrees to extend it.

Similar hearings before the Senate Banking committee are also scheduled to end this week.

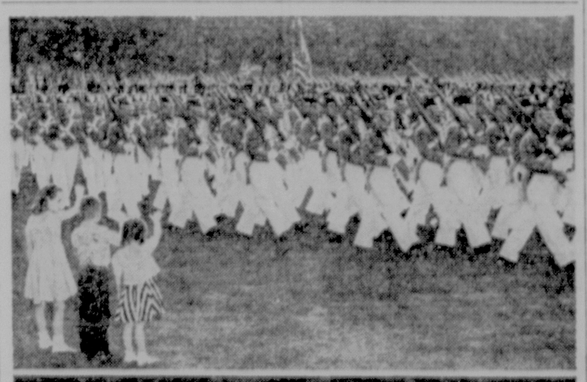

Elsewhere on the economic front:

One — Rep. O'Toole (D-NY) said the ability of large department stores to slash prices in the current price wars in New York and other cities "shows they have been gouging the customer' previously.

O'Toole, in a statement to the House, demanded a congressional investigation of prices and profits on all foods, furniture, radios, television sets, clothing and "other essentials of daily living."

Two — The government reported that unemployment dropped to 1,609,0000 in May — tne lowest figure since the end of World War Two — while employment jumped 1,148,000 to 61,193,000, the highest in six months.

Three — A tool industry spokesman, testifying before the Senate Banking committee, complained that labor "pirating" is causing small firms to lose skilled workers under the administration's wage freeze.

Safety Zone Plan Bared By Acheson

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson testified yesterday that Gen. Douglas MacArthur last November rejected an Allied proposal for a safety zone along the Korean-Manchurian border into which United Nations troops would not drive.

The secretary told senators this "demilitarized zone" was favored as a way to convince Red China the Allies had no intention of pushing into Manchuria or China.

He said the plan was backed by the British, French, Canadians and others but MacArthur did not think it was a good idea—and disapproved it. This was before the Chinese entered Korea in force.

However, Acheson said so far as he knew MacArthur did not violate military orders in sending troops to the Manchurian border.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, has accused MacArthur of violating policy by sending Allied forces to the border rather than South Korean troops.

MacArthur has testified that his mission as U.N. commander was to create a free and unified Korea and the only way he could do this was to destroy the enemy's armed forces or drive them out of all North Korea.

Presumably the Allied proposal was passed on to MacArthur as a suggestion and not in the form of a direct order. Most of the testimony in the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees hearing on the MacArthur ouster has been that the general was "meticulous" in obeying direct orders.

After Acheson completed his fourth day of testimony on Far East policy, Senator Brewster (R-Me) accused the secretary of a "bare-faced distortion" of U. S. China policy.*

The Maine senator said on the Senate floor that Acheson's review of China policy before the MacArthur inquiry group was "a miracle of contrived confusion."

Referring to Acheson's denial that State department officials had ever believed the Chinese Reds were just "agrarian reformers," Brewster said: "This is a very remarkable statement. It is either outright prevarication or else the secretary is ignorant of what State department foreign service officers were doing and saying in those days."

Earlier, Acheson declared the United States will not go it alone in seeking peace with the Chinese Reds — but will consult with the United Nations on all armistice proposals.

He said the present U. N. field commander could "bring about an armistice' 'in Korea but did not have authority to "work out a solution of the political problems of Korea.' '

Democratic Senator Gillette of Iowa promptly took issue with Acheson on this point and said: "I may say that I deplore your interpretation and repudiate it personally.

Gillette argued the U. N. has given the United States full command in the field in Korea and this government has authority to act "subject to a report to the Security Council and nothing more."

Acheson replied it was "very important" that the U. S. have "the enthusiastic and warm support" of all her U. N. Allies.

"The United States is endeavoring to follow the course which has tremendous international support," he added, "and is not contemplating taking unilateral steps of its own.' '

Fourth Firm Hikes Newsprint Price

Montreal (AP)— International Paper Sales Co., Inc., last night announced a $10-a-ton increase in the price of its newsprint, effective July 1.

The boost brings the price to $116 a ton in New York and $112 in Canada where there is an additional 10-per-cent sales tax.

International is the fourth newsprint company to announce a $10 raise.

Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Toronto, was the first to announce the boost. This was followed with similar announcements by Consolidated Paper Corp., Montreal, and Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Co., Quebec.

Borough Heads Entertained By Lions Club

Borough officials from Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap visited the local Lions club last night, on the initiative of Borough Secretary Harold Snyder, who is also secretary of the club.

Mayors Hal H. Harris, of Stroudsburg, and Forrest Smith, of Delaware Water Gap, headed delegations of their respective governments, all of whom were introduced by Secretary Snyder.

The speaker was Charles F. Ledecker, acting director of the Institute of Local Government of State College, who gave a talk on the borough form of civic organization.

He said that Americans take too much for granted the priceless institutions that have been handed down by the fathers and that among all such independent municipal government is among the greatest. He said that Russia or Hitler Germany could boast no such institutions. Hitler, as soon as he came to power, destroyed responsible municipal government and set up a dictatorship.

Good citizenship presupposes more than merely paying taxes and voting, the speaker declared. It also means that a person should take an active part in local affairs and be ready to stand for office, when the community needs such service. Local governments are the background of the nation. Democracy does not work unless all the people take part in it, he noted. Politics express human relations and Democracy must be strong at the grass roots right here at home.

Local citizens should seek to keep all possible local functions in possession of the home governments. For one thing this always saves money, he stated.

In the business session it was decided to have the annual club picnic on Sunday, July 15. Abeloff's lake is favored as the site for the event. A committee will be appointed.

All members were requested to work energetically on the sale of tickets to the coming circus, King Brothers. Installation of officers was set for the next meeting, June 12. They will take office at the first meeting in July.

Tom DeVivo reported on the outing for boys of the community conducted by the Lions and the Monroe Sportsmen's association at Snow Hill. He said that the attendance was large and that in addition to the fishing the youngsters enjoyed a feast provided by the clubs.

Examine Circuit For New Outlet

Before adding even one more outlet to existing electrical installations, a householder should check the circuit to prevent an overload.

The standard electrical code limits each circuit to 12 outlets except under a few special conditions. To determine how many outlets are on any one circuit, loosen the fuse for that circuit and count the number of outlets which are needed. If there are less than 12, it is safe to add another outlet.

If the proposed addition would cause this limit to be exceeded, it is necessary to run a new circuit from the fuse box to the new work. A qualified electrician should always be employed.

Gas turbine engines for highway freight hauling are being experimentally tested today.

C. J. Rogalinski Dies At Home, North Bergen

Conrad J. Rogalinski, North Bergen, N. J., died last week at his home. Mr. Rogalinski was well known here. He spent a great many summers in the Poconos.

He is survived by his wife, Esie and a daughter, Mrs. John Theurer, New York City. Interment was made in Woodlawn cemetery, Bronx, N. Y.

Mrs. William A. Rogalinski, sister-in-law of the deceased, attended rites held at the Schlemm funeral home, Union City, N. J.

42 Arrests Reported During May

Chief of Police Arthur Swink, of East Stroudsburg, last night reported 42 arrests by east borough police during May and the collection of $285 in fines.

The 42 arrests included one for larceny, eight for drunken and disorderly conduct, six others for disorderly conduct, one for illegal parking, two for driving through red lights, 13 for excessive speeding, and 11 other stop street sign violations.

In addition to the $285 in fines collected for the borough, a peddler's license was sold for $25 and that revenue brought the amount turned over to the borough treasurer to $310.

First Grade Pupils To Enroll Here

A pre-school clinic for children who will enter the first grade in the Stroudsburg Public schools in September will be held two days next week at the Ramsey school. The first registration day will be Monday, June 11, with the second on Friday, June 15. In each case the hours will be from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p. m.

Roger A. Dunning, director of elementary education, announced that Miss H. Eloise Bryan, psychologist of the Stroudsburg schools, will conduct the clinic and will be assisted by the first grade teachers of Stroudsburg.

All children who plan to enter first grade next year, with the exception of the children who have completed kindergarten this past year, are supposed to register during one of the two clinic days. Definite appointments may be made by calling Mr. Dunning at 3483-R or Mrs. Russell Balmer, 1721. To be eligible for first grade children must be 6 years old before February 1, 1952, and parents are asked to bring birth certificates and vaccination records.

Dr. David F. Kohn, of Mt. Pocono, will be out of town from June 10th to June 17th, inclusive. —Adv.

Price Wars Spread On Light Scale

New York (AP)—Local price wars broke out across the nation yesterday.

Drug, department, jewelry and appliance stores slashed prices on nationally advertised fixed-price merchandise.

Their action apparently was touched off by New York's price battle which raged through its sixth day, bringing reductions ranging to more than 50 per cent. The war started after the U.S. Supreme court upset "fair trade" price-fixing.

"If Macy's and Gimbel's can do it, so can we," read an advertisement in Atlanta, Ga.

A similar advertisement appeared in Claremont, N.H., and the New Brunswick, N.J., Appliance Dealers association said it would peg prices on former fair-trade items at current New York levels.

Affected were housewares, drug and cosmetics, watches, pens, lighters, television sets and other articles on which manufacturers had set "fair trade" prices for retailers to observe.

But most of the major department stores outside of New York still were holding the line on these prices. Even where price cuts were made, they usually did not include all of the fixed-price items.

In few cases were the cut prices elsewhere matching those posted in New York City's hotly-fought price war.

Early Asiatic tribes sometimes established "wastelands" between their territories, both tribes keeping out of them to avoid clashes.

A new kind of relay helps keep America strong

The American Indians relayed messages with smoke signals. Then the Pony Express galloped mail from point to point. Today, tall towers can flash Long Distance calls across country by radio waves. But the relay principle is the same.

Radio relay antenna towers are generally on high ground about 30 miles apart. Each tower picks up microwaves from its neighbor, focuses them like a searchlight, and beams them accurately at the next tower. And hundreds of Long Distance conversations can ride the beam side by side.

Radio relay supplements wire lines, coaxial cables and other cables. It greatly expands Long Distance facilities. And it is especially valuable right now when America's telephones are busy around the clock on history's biggest job of defense.

Lieutenant Frantz Heaps Praise On Company G Men On Basis Of Test Results

Lt. George L. Frantz, Myrtle St., Stroudsburg, said yesterday on the eve of his departure for Camp Atterbury, Ind., and the 109th Infantry Regiment, that "the people here can be nothing but proud of their Company G unit."

Frantz, fresh from a special course in the Fort Riley, Kan., U. S. Army intelligence school, had been acting commander of Company G up to March 17 when he was assigned to special training at Fort Riley.

Now due back with the 109th for assignment and probable promotion to captain, Lieutenant Frantz yesterday cited instances which Company G topped not only all other companies in the regiment, but rated tops in the entire division.

Tests given every man in every company of the 109th for knowledge of basic training, found Company G rating first in the regiments. They rated first on marchouts.

Mortar tests show 13 out of 15 Company G men assigned to tests qualifying against one, two or three men in other companies.

Frantz, a veteran of World War Two with extensive battle action in the Pacific, enlisted in Company G not long after the end of the war. He left here second in command under Capt. Gerald Shanley and was acting commander when Shanley was moved up to a regimental post.

Area Boys To Attend FFA Event

Some 25 boys from Monroe and Northampton counties will take part in Future Farmers of America week festivities at Pennsylvania State College beginning June 13.

Six instructors in vocational agriculture from the Pocono Mountains area FFA chapters will also attend.

Three boys will play with the State FFA band and 20 will take part in judging contests.

These include dairy judging, cattle, livestock, poultry, farm mechanics, agronomy, plant diseases and insects and tractor driving.

On June 14-15 boys will attend vocational agriculture education demonstrations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Learn and son, David, spent several days in Washington, D. C., recently, and while there attended commencement exercises at George Washington University. Mrs. Learn's brother, Frank Yeide, of Weatherly, was among the graduates.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilmar Johnson, of Haddonfield, N. J., spent the weekend in the locality, making their headquarters with Mrs. Ruth Learn and visiting friends. Their daughter, grandson and son were also with them.

Mrs. James Besecker was hostess over the weekend to Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Pack, Mrs. Mary Robertson and Robert Brooks, of Brooklyn. The visitors spent considerable time at the home of Mrs. William Clugston, a sister of Mr. Pack. On Saturday, they drove to Tunkhannock, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cassiburi.

The Bake sale held by the ladies auxiliary of the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co., on Saturday at the firehouse was an outstanding financial success. Mrs. Laura Niering was in charge of the affair and was assisted at the stands by Mrs. Tom Rowe and Mrs. Jack London. The many cakes, candy, pies, etc., were all sold in about six hours and the women wish to thank all who so generously supported this affair. Two beautifully decorated cakes were baked and donated by the son of Mrs. Landis, and same certainly deserved the praise they received.

There will be a meeting of the ladies auxiliary of the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. at the firehouse on Thursday night, June 7 and the newly elected president, Mrs. Elsie Besecker, is asking members to turn out in full force, as there are many matters pertaining to the summer activities to be discussed. The annual dues of the organization are now in order to be paid.

Joy Ruchtie, the six year old daughter of Mr. John H. Ruchtie, who has been attending school at Brodheadsville, was promoted to second grade with an honor roll grading of 90.6. Joy has been staying for several months with Mrs. Hollis Sheeler, due to the prolonged illness and death of her mother, and Mrs. Sheeler has been of great assistance to Joy in her school work.

Mrs. Florence Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Specht, also Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gebhart, of Philadelphia, were visitors at the Lank home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deschleit and Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Leuenroth motored to Allentown last Thursday for the transaction of business.

Jack Oaks, a cartoonist of New York, and his wife have been spending a week at Pocono View farm, the home of Michael Brignole, which was formerly the Harry Hallet homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lank Jr., and daughter Barbara, also Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klotz, of Philadelphia, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lank and Miss Mabel Gear over the weekend. Mrs. Klotz is the sister of Miss Mabel Gear.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pogson spent the weekend at their summer cottage. This is the first visit Mr. Pogson has made for many weeks.

The official board and women workers of the Cherry Lane Methodist church will meet at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Ralph H. Felthem on Prospect St., East Stroudsburg, on Tuesday night, June 12.

Bartonsville

Mrs. Robert Field

The public is invited to attend a Children's day program to be presented by the children of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school of this place at St. John's church, on Sunday afternoon, June 10, at 2:30.

Mrs. J. L. Hutton and daughter, Katie Ann, and Mrs. Thomas G. Hawkes, of Edgely, spent the weekend at Hawkeshill.

The Crusader class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school will hold their June meeting at the parish house on Friday night, June 8, at eight o'clock.

OILY BIRD WHO MIGHT GET THE WORM

The Valor of a Hero

There are many evil, sordid and cheap things in this life.

But too few of the genuinely heart-warming things get printed.

One was printed the other day—the story of Pfc. Robert L. Smith's reaction to some $121,000 raised for him by public subscription.

Pfc. Smith is 20—only 20. He's from Middleburg, Pa., and he's the first quadruple amputee of the Korean War.

For the sacrifice Pfc Smith has made there is no such thing as repayment. No reward could possibly match the fearful disaster war has visited on him.

Yet Pfc. Smith is everlastingly grateful for the money which has been raised for him.

But do you know what he wishes to do with some of it?

Turn it over to a fund to help other amputees—especially children who are handicapped in this dreadful fashion.

"There must be a lot of other people who are worse off than I am," he said.

"I don't want this money if someone else needs it more."

Which adds immeasurably to the glory of the man's character. And demonstrates how richly deserving he is of the relatively insignificant assistance people have given him.

Scrap Again

This country once more is running up against a problem that caused much trouble during World War Two—the scrap problem.

America's steel mills, with greatly increased capacity, are turning out more steel than ever before. But, to go on doing that, they must have a huge supply of scrap iron and scrap steel.

To that industry, scrap is a material just as essential as iron ore and coal.

Government officials warn that scrap stocks now are running "dangerously low," with some mills on a day-to-day basis.

These stocks, they say, should be built up rapidly this summer, against the winter months when collections fall off.

They urge railroads to tear up old tracks, auto wreckers to speed recovery of steel from dismantled cars, state and city governments to scrap such things as abandoned bridges.

As yet, they're not asking for a repetition of the wartime scrap-collection drives.

But it would be an excellent idea for everybody who can to start old iron and steel moving toward the mills by way of the scrap dealers.

For, without big and constant scrap supplies, the defense production program would be gravely handicapped and so would the effort to avoid a too drastic cut in production of goods for civilians.

The Senate's Water

For many years—nobody remembers just how many—the Government has bought bottled spring water for U.S. senators and the employes in their offices and committee rooms.

One theory is that the custom started at a time when Washington's city water was considered temporarily unsafe to drink.

Once started, it continued, at a cost estimated to have reached $18,000 a year. Only now has the Senate's Rules Committee decided, at the suggestion of Chairman Hayden, Arizona Democrat, to cut off the supply of bottled water.

For this small boon, the taxpayers can be grateful to Senator Hayden. He, or somebody, could give them cause for more gratitude by searching out and calling a halt to a lot of other Government expenditures which go on and on because nobody thought to stop them when their original purpose had been served.

On Manners And Morals

Jim Farley, the genius who made Franklin D. Roosevelt president of the United States when most thought that Al Smith should have been nominated, has devoted himself to many causes since his retirement from active politics. He now comes up in a new role of adviser to students who want to reach the hearts and minds of men.

As an adviser to ambitious youth, James Aloysius Farley should be invaluable, because he has been very good at reaching the hearts, if not altogether the minds of men. Also he has risen to heights of position and affluence by his own means. He has managed to become one of the best liked of human beings, receiving unstinted applause when he appears in public, particularly among a galaxy of candidates for public office who cannot understand why the applause evades them.

The answer perhaps lies in this remarkable paragraph in a speech Jim delivered at Ithaca College. This Chesterfieldian bit of wisdom is particularly pertinent at a time when both manners and morals seem to have suffered the onslaught of the vulgar. This is what Jim says:

". . . A person who is concerned in persuading other people to do something or buy something or just to be friendly and helpful must have what I shall call good manners. Now good manners is something more than knowing how to hold your soup spoon or how to dress when you go to a church wedding. It is much more than a capacity to say the pleasant but insincere thing. It is much more than mere tact. It is to feel and, above all, to show that you have a genuine concern in others. It means caring for people, respecting them, treating them as equals and sharing their fears and earthly concerns and their ideals. When these matters are felt and shown there need be no fear about winning confidence and winning friends, for this attitude will make itself known in a hundred ways."

Another paragraph in this speech could be heard by President Harry Truman to his great personal advantage:

". . . What I mean is the manifestation in all outward dealings with the public of a calm and friendly disposition. This is especially true in politics. We have learned in that very complex art that the most certain way that a man can defeat himself is to get angry. People are not interested in other people's angers. Anger does not attract; it repels. It causes the victim to say and do things that he would not otherwise say and do. He loses his balance of judgment. He makes mistakes. He reveals defects in his own personality and in his own ideas . . ."

Harry Truman's great troubles —and the country's too—come from his temper which goes off like a fire-cracker on the Fourth of July. For instance, the very fatherly letter that he wrote to Paul Hume, the music critic, might, with better manners and a bit of humor, have been a classic of paternal solicitude. As it is, it was just a heated diatribe with a threat that is as illegal as it was vulgar.

Similarly, his dismissal of General MacArthur represents both lack of grace and a lack of humor. After all, General Douglas MacArthur is no shavetail. He surely deserves consideration for his age and his services. Even if there were cause for a change in Korea and Japan, it could have been accomplished with urbanity, with some regard to manners. As it stands, the President looks like the cock-of-the-walk who is going to show whomever where he gets off and who is the big shot around here. No matter where the truth may lie as to the issues, there can be no question as to the gracelessness of the act.

Perhaps, if Mr. Truman got Jim Farley to come back to Washington to teach him to count ten every time he is tempted to show them, the country would be happier and so might Mr. Truman be, unless losing his temper and exhibiting unfortunate manners are essential to his nature. If so, it is an unfortunate nature.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

John Mason Brown, working on a biography of Daniel Boone, learned that when the intrepid trapper was asked, "Is it true that in all your years in the untracked woods you never were lost?" he replied, "That's right, but I must admit I once was bewildered for five days."

In the early days of the medical profession in the Blue Ridge country, most doctors carried a stock of drugs in the bottles and jars on the shelves in their back rooms, and were not above filling their own prescriptions for well-heeled patients. This custom naturally created deep resentment among the owners of the drug-stores in the vicinity, and a running feud developed on both sides of the fence.

In Mount Jackson, Va., one day, Sam Bissell appeared in Dr. Canfield's office with a stiff neck and flaming rash. "Done anything for this Sam?" asked the Doc. "Well, said Sam: "I dropped into Carson's drugstore and . . ." "And what did that arrogant, presumptuous renegade do for you?" interrupted the doc scornfully. Sam Bissell continued calmly, "He told me to come to you."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — After several less important appearances in films, Dinah Shore finally gets her big picture break. She's a star in "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick" —and a starlet fresh from such a crossroads couldn't be more excited.

It's the first screen performance by the Tennessee thrush since she sang a song in "Till the Clouds Roll By," four years ago. She has turned down other parts she didn't consider right.

In this one she's a crossroads widow pursued by a city slicker (Metropolitan Opera Baritone Robert Merrill) and defended by her hayseed admirer (Alan Young). She sings seven songs and even does a dance all around a three-room hotel set.

"I'm never happier than when I'm doing a dance routine," Dinah told me, but it's hard to figure when she's really ever unhappy. She "loves" radio, on which she appears three times a week. She's equally enthusiastic about television, on which she has appeared with Benny, Hope, and Berle. And about records, of which she has made around 200 in 10 years.

"But this"—Dinah indicated the biggest excitement is in picture-making— "this is a combination of all the others." She has no yen to do a songless dramatic role, however. Or more than one picture a year, which is what her new movie contract calls for, for the next seven years.

As Mrs. George Montgomery, Dinah added: 'It would be difficult to have two picture careers in the family all the time. This way it's a novelty, it's fun. We talk about the things that happened on our sets that day. But as a regular thing, I want to be home when he gets there."

George and Dinah cue each other in the study of next day's lines. He's working in a western at another studio.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington, June 5 — U. S. Communists and espionage agents, working the Kremlin side of the street, may have some tasty bait tossed their way soon to entice them to spill the beans about their Soviet bosses.

Federal judges recently, in peeling contempt of Congress plasters off the backs of sassy witnesses, have urged Congress to enact a law providing immunity to those who are stuffed full of Kremlin secrets but are afraid to talk lest they, themselves, wind up in the clink.

Right now a Kremlin stooge can tell a Congressional committee and even a Federal grand jury to mind their own business when they get nosey about Communist or espionage activities. Under present law a witness can't be forced to testify against himself if, in the opinion of the witness, the answers will lead to legal action against him.

The FBI either has to catch a spy red handed or talk him into confession before he can be prosecuted. A garden variety Communist has the same immunity from prosecution enjoyed by an espionage agent, and most of them lately have taken advantage of the fact.

All Congress has to do is to pass legislation granting immunity to witnesses who are willing to cooperate if promised freedom from prosecution. This in effect would be an extension of the time-honored practice of protecting states' witnesses. Most gangland prosecutions are based on granting protection to mob members who are willing to gab about their pals. The states' witness usually is promised either a parole or a light sentence in return for cooperation.

J. Edgar Hoover is on record in favor of Congressional action, which is good enough for me and should be for Congress.

One fly in the ointment, however, has been the reluctance of some Federal judges to take the cooperation of a friendly witness into consideration when passing sentence. In the recent Gold-Fuchs spy ring prosecutions a cooperative witness drew a 30-year term despite his willingness to spill the beans.

If Congress spells out the details whereby a witness can legally take advantage of immunity, there undoubtedly will be several startling results. A number of Communists are known to have cold feet, chilled as a result of the growing threat of war, and at the point where they would talk if they could do so without placing themselves in legal jeopardy. A number of atomic bomb scientists, who played hide and seek with Soviet agents during the war, would like to clean their skirts as well. Most of them have respectable teaching jobs now and, like all repentant sinners, they feel that cleaning their skirts would restore respectability and lead to a renewal of their teaching contracts.

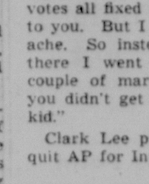

Some critics of the proposal, which is about ready for submission to Congress, don't think it's worth the effort. They feel that anybody who cooperated with the Kremlin ought to be plunked in jail. Short of this possibility, they think the Reds should at least be reduced to living off the dole,

The bleeding hearts, of course, take the opposite view. They rend the air with passionate pleas about how wrong it is to persecute men and women just because they made a mistake about Russia.

It's a funny thing about the knot heads who prattle about Communists caught with their hands in the security files. Posing as doe-eyed liberals, these saps sweat out a lot of sympathy for criminals and creeps when they could be using that sympathy over some of the things that really count.

I've heard a lot of apologies for Communists in my time, including some sad bleating about Alger Hiss, but never have I heard one of these bleeding heart boors say a kind word for people in this country who are really in trouble.

Peddling His Papers

The Washington Special: The 14 Senators and 4 Congressmen (who inserted that many columns and radio editorials into the Cong. Record in about as many weeks recently) gathered in the Senate office of Les Biffle yesterdoon, where the Runyon Fund treasurer made a complete report on the progress in cancer research . . . The President offered Robert Patterson Judge Learned Hand's Court of Appeals bench, but he could not accept. Judge Medina will probably get it . . . When Federal Judge Augustus Hand retires in August Judge Sam Rosenman can have it, but he will probably take a raincheck . . . Following his stirring speech recently at Virginia Military Institute, B. M. Baruch received a letter of congrats from the President. Meaning reconciliation.

Another reporter who won but did not receive a Pulitzer Prize is Clark Lee, who had the story of the Battle of Bataan — the story of the year in 1942— almost all to himself . . . Editors at the American Newspaper Publishers' Ass'n Convention stood in tribute when his name was mentioned . . . Clark Lee followed up Bataan by covering Coral Sea, Midway and Guadalcanal. He had a record Five bylined stories in a single paper—and two stories on one front page of the N. Y. Times . . . The Pulitzer Prize that year, however, went to an obscure epic on the Savo Island Battle.

Associated Press boss Kent Cooper, one of the Pulitzer Prize Committee judges, we hear, told correspondent Lee: "I had everything all lined up for the meeting at Columbia University. The votes all fixed for the prize to go to you. But I had a slight headache. So instead of going up there I went home and had a couple of martinis. That's why you didn't get the Pulitzer Prize, kid."

Clark Lee put on his hat and quit AP for Int'l News Service.

One way to get the Pulitzer Prize according to veteran newspaper aces, is to have publisher Roy Roberts of the Kansas City Star on your side . . . When the voting was on for the 1945 prize Pulitzers, Roberts made a rather desultory nomination for his fellow townsman, Hal Boyle of AP . . . Arthur Krock, the N. Y. Times' Washington man who thought his "exclusive interview" with Truman merited the prize for himself the other day, remarked: "Whoever heard of Boyle?" . . . Angered, publisher Roberts hustled around and got the votes for Boyle, who was well deserving of the award.

This year Mr. Roberts cut in his Associated Press friend Relman Morin on the splinter prize . . . The source for all of this P.S.'s: "Morin made a hit-run visit to Japan and Korea."

One of the news mags quoted Christian Science Monitor editor E. D. Canham: "Objective journalism is basically wrong; the facts need careful interpretation."

This Personal Journalist discovered that stale fact more than a quarter of a century ago. Objective reporting is not only basically wrong — it is agonizingly dull.

The effect of the gambling investigation is mounting . . . Two big connecting links between politics and crime have been convicted in New York, and the tremendous crowd of indictments are going to make International headlines . . . But the Sweepstakes Winners were publicized throughout the nation the other day.

The ironic result of the Kefauver investigation is this: It has forced the professional gambler to cover, but it can't drive the winning amateurs off the front pages.

Capt. Charles F. Blair, who flew over the North Pole the other matinee from Norway to Fairbanks, Alaska, and back home to New York, was so crowded for space he carried some of the gasoline in the wings . . .His only cargo was 3000 letters . . . These trans-Polar letters, the first North Pole airmail in history, were a gift from Capt. Blair to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund . . . All you stamp collectors and hunters of historic souvenirs: What are we bid?

Capt. Blair calls his one engine converted plane The Excalibur, the name of King Arthur's flaming sword . . . That, too, is the symbol of the fight against cancer.

Looking at Life

Anonymous letters usually go into the wastebasket but today I received one that not only gave me several good chuckles but it contains a lot of good common sense.

The writer, who lives in Norristown, Pa., signs herself only "Old Maid Philosopher" and tells me that she is quite far along in years.

I wish she would let me know who and where she is. I would like to meet her and tell her how much I enjoyed her letter.

Let me give you a few extracts from it. You won't agree with everything she says, neither do I. But it's worth reading.

"What is beauty of face or figure? I know a woman, now elderly, who in her younger days was considered a good looker. She never gave her prettiness any thought. She had the good sense to make the most of what nature gave her; had a flair for clothes, and while she had little means, bought only a few very good clothes of becoming color and style and good material. She had a lively disposition, a good sense of humor—yet a remoteness and dignity which forbade a too familiar intrusion. Now an old lady she is still noticed in every gathering or crowd. She is never jealous of others nor critical. She never prates religion but practices it."

"I think I am a fairly good Christian, but personally I don't turn the other cheek.

"Never have I looked for trouble and until I was fourteen did not take my own part. And didn't the other school mates take advantage of that fact! Suddenly I became another person and after I walloped a few, life became more peaceful and a lot more comfortable. By turning the other cheek one only encourages the bullies who go through life trampling on the weaker."

"Douglas MacArthur is my style of a man and I subscribe to his philosophy of interpreting and dispensing Christianity. With Marshall, Acheson and a few more top brass it is pure jealousy, and with Truman plain pig-headedness and egotism. At first I was all for the little man, as I knew he had a long, hard row to hoe, but now he is too much of a bantam rooster. Getting mean and struts. The more MacArthur's detractors blather, the bigger he looms. He counted the dead and wounded, while they talk appeasement. Appeasement, God, how I hate that word.

"That bunch in Washington are SHOUTING to Russia 'We are afraid of you.' Where is the spirit of '76?"

"A neighbor had a little shaggy white and black dog, named Teddy. No pedigree, but heaps of loyalty, love and an unbounded joy of life and fun.

"One day Teddy was hit by a car. Teddy's mistress ran to his side and just stood dazed. Lying on his side, dying, Teddy looked up at her and lovingly, joyously, wagged his tail several times in farewell. Then Teddy was still.

"When my turn comes to traipse over the Great Divide, may I, too, go out as gallantly as Teddy, on to a great new adventure."

And so on — six pages of thoughts from a woman who is nearing the "Great Divide," yet seems to enjoy every moment of the present "Adventure."

Here is another reason I want to meet her.

She says that our Connecticut mosquitoes "are larger and more enterprising" than those in her Eastern Pennsylvania.

Since she is so right in her other observations, she may be right about the mosquitoes, too.

So I want to visit her home, take along some Connecticut samples and compare them with hers.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

First Aid to Race Probers—A legislatice committee is taking a look-see at New York race tracks to see how racing operates. We are glad to offer some help in obtaining the Facts of Life at Horse Ovals:

1. The contests are for horses bred for speed and for racing addicts bred for endurance, gullibility and erraneous deductions.

2. The horses run from five and a half furlongs to a mile and three-quarters. The fans run much farther. A horse pops an osselet, bows a tendon, or breaks a leg and has to be retired. A bettor can suffer all four without weakening.

3. Horses begin race at the age of three and usually are thru at the age of eight. A race addict rarely seems to develop beyond the age of three and is through only when in the hands of eight pallbearers, seven of whom are still listening for inside information that he may yet snap out of it and stage an upset.

4. A race horse lives on choice oats and selected hay. (A bettor should live so well!)

5. The ponies race under weights, conditions and classifications. It is realized that there are limits to what they can accomplish on a given afternoon. A race track addict acknowledges no such limitations.

6. Weights are used to give every horse an equal chance. The fans do about the same, loaded or not.

7. Horses wear special shoes. Fans are lucky to wear any.

8. Interest in racing is sustained by huge purses. A horse can earn $100,000 for two minutes work. A fan may work all his life for it, even as an optical illusion.

9. The horses are ridden by a strange race called jockeys. They are too small to take a horse out of a park and yet big enough to show inclinations in that direction.

10. Betting is done by mutuels machines. A mutuels machine operates the same as a sausage grinder, except that the meat goes back to the butcher. It is a hamburger apparatus with a built-in cash register. It offers the only medium by which a man can spend an afternoon in a cement mixer and have it come under the head of outdoor sport.

11. To place a bet you go to a window. These windows are mostly on the ground floor to discourage jumping.

12. Suspense is added to racing by a photo-finish. A photo-finish is taken whenever two or more jockeys finish within telephonic communication of one another.

13. Racing is called the Sport of Kings but it is supported by Deuces Wild and Jacks Back to Back. It has raised to a high art the practice of talking out of one side of the mouth, and developed a race known as Whisperers Anonymous.

14. First race starts around 1:45 p. m. Wrong information begins around 6 a. m. All aboard!

East Stroudsburg Council Formally Organizes Sewer Authority

Five Citizens Appointed To Membership

Formal establishment of the East Stroudsburg Sewer authority took place last night as the east borough council adopted an ordinance signifying intention and desire to incorporate the body.

The ordinance authorizes the five-member body to acquire, bring about, maintain, operate and manage a sanitary sewage disposal system for the borough of East Stroudsburg and other areas as may be designated.

In the instrument presented for council's approval last night by Atty. Charles R. Bensinger, L. J. Kleinle, chief burgess; other borough officers and the members of council designated the five members of the authority and the length of their respective terms.

Dr. R. Fred Jones, 116 Washington St., was first named as a member for five years, while Carl T. Secor, 219 E. Broad St., supervising principal of East Stroudsburg schools, was designated as a four-year member.

Horace G. Walters, 751 Milford Rd., production manager for Paterson-Kelley Co., was placed in the three-year term, while B. K. Williams, 86 E. Broad St., head of B. K. Williams Co., was named for the two-year term. Rudy Manheim, 59 S. Green St., tavern and restaurant operator, was selected for the one-year term.

Attorney Bensinger explained that the first four named were placed in that order alphabetically, while Manheim was appointed to the fifth position on the authority board only last night.

He further explained that, under the 1945 law establishing municipal authorities, the five appointments must vary from one to five years in duration, although each member may be appointed to another term on expiration of his first.

The portion of the authority law pertaining to boroughs also stipulates that the authority board in this instance comprise five members. The law is definite, the attorney said, adding that no maximum or minimum number of appointees is prescribed, but that the law clearly states five members are required.

The ordinance passed last night gave the authority the go-ahead signal for all future sewer planning, and directed that the establishment of a sewage treatment works for the borough be the initial duty of the appointed body.

Now that the authority has been formally organized, it is empowered to meet and to select their own secretary and solicitor.

Three other ordinances — each ordaining and establishing lines and grades for streets—were also passed by the council last night.

First of these set up grades, lines and width of Harrison St., while the second ordained and established Grandview St., as a part of the borough's street network. The third street ordinance pertained to Rose St.

Each of the three included provisions for the laying of sidewalks and other future improvements.

Borough Engineer Edward C. Hess reported an odor condition on Milford Rd. near the Miller store, after which council authorized him to proceed with plans for installing a drain basin and trap at that point.

A motion to advertise for a new compressor for the street department was also passed. It was presented by Councilman Elton P. Hall and Russell Yoch.

Erection of a sign to prohibit heavy truck traffic on Maple Ave., was discussed, and it was also pointed out that a similar condition exists on Braeside Ave., where a restriction sign was placed several years ago. Lettering on the Braeside Ave. sign has since become obliterated, one councilman said.

Ives Wants To Know Where $17 Billions Are Going

Washington, (AP)—"Seventeen billion dollars!" said Senator Ives (R-NY) in a voice of awe. He shook his head, waved his glasses and said it again: "Seventeen billion dollars!"

That's what Congress will be asked to vote in foreign aid this year and next, the senator said—and how in thunderation can Congress find out where the money goes when the administration "tells us as little or as much as it cares to disclose?"

"'Just give us the money,' they tell us in effect. 'We have plenty of facts and reports and we shall be delighted to make them available to you—that is, of course, to the extent that it suits our purposes,'" Ives declared.

He had a remedy: Pass a law setting up a 12-member commission to study the handling of all the government's "overseas activities." On this body would be four senators, four House members and four people named by the President from the Executive branch.

Ives, testifying yesterday before a Senate subcommittee on expenditures, said the merits of the bill were obvious. And yet, he said, "virtually all the agencies which comprise the executive branch of the government have taken a solid stand against it."

Just about then Secretary of Commerce Sawyer came in. He said it might be a good idea for Congress to do some investigating—might save the taxpayers some money on foreign spending. But he couldn't see the need for a separate commission.

"It would be just one more Federal agency," Sawyer said, there are enough agencies now. I should think Congress could get all the information it wanted through its already established subcommittees."

Ex-President Hoover's Commission on Reorganizing the Executive Department has recommended a good, hard study of foreign spending. One of its reports said "confusion, inconsistencies and uncertainty" attend the various programs now.

East Borough Council Okays Play Program

East Stroudsburg borough council unanimously endorsed a long-range playground and youth program revealed last night in its formative stages by a committee representing the Citizen's Playground committee, the East Stroudsburg Exchange, the school board and the council.

Details of the program were not covered when the committee, headed by Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of the east borough Methodist church, appeared before the council last night.

Rev. Eaton explained that this is our first "but probably not our last appearance before you. We just came to see if we're on the right track."

He urged members of council to be mindful of the recreational facilities available to the youth of the borough, and emphasized the importance of playground work.

Assisted by W. Adolph Rake, who is chairman of the Exchange club's city planning committee; Horace G. Walters and Carl T. Secor, the delegation chairman then referred to their proposed program.

Much of this is still in the "thinking" stage, the minister explained as he apologized for a lack of details. But his remarks indicated the playground group is studying operation of the borough playground from a long range view.

At one point when Rev. Eaton repeated that the committee came seeking only council's endorsement at this time, Councilman Roy F. Lloyd observed that "we're all behind the program; all we have to do is sell it to our neighbors."

Councilman Jack A. Wyckoff introduced a motion endorsing the visiting committee's playground program, and it was passed unanimously after being seconded by Councilman Elton P. Hall.

In other business last night, the council awarded a bid for a new heating system for the municipal building to H. L. Cleveland, of East Stroudsburg. Cleveland had presented a bid of $3,262 for installation of a coal burning stoker system.

A higher bid for installation of an oil burning system was dismissed, after council members decided that that type of system would be more expensive to operate.

While considering its street repair program for the year, council noted that proposed resurfacing of Birch St., curb and gutter repairs to Sopher, Yetter and Grandview Sts. and work on Brookside Ave. will cost the borough approximately $11,271.

Reimbursements from property owners bearing a portion of the expense of curb and gutter work will reduce this to an $8,021 net cost.

A Yoch-Hall motion authorized that the Sopher, Yetter and Grandview St. curb and gutter work be put out on bids, while another approved the scheduling of S. Courtland St. for needed repairs.

A Hall - Gilliland motion to adopt an ordinance of application for county aid was also passed before adjournment.

Boys Register For Day Camp; List Vacancies

Registrations for the YMCA summer day-camp are coming in "very briskly," according to Harvey E. Burris, YMCA boys' work director.

He said there are a number of boys registered for each of the two-week periods, but he noted there are a number of vacancies left in each period.

Mr. Burris asked that registration blanks be mailed to the YMCA day-camp director, Monroe County YMCA. He said a dollar should accompany each registration.

Conferees Agree On Aid To India To Avert Famine

Washington (AP) — House and Senate conferees came to terms yesterday on a bill to lend India $190,000,000 for famine relief.

Under the compromise measure, the money would be used to buy 2,000,000 tons of grain and other basic foodstuffs in the United States.

The measure now goes to Senate and House for final approval.

The conferees eliminated a provision of the Senate bill which would have required India to make repayment in part with monazite sands, an ingredient of atomic research, and other strategic materials. They adopted the language of the house bill, which instructs loan negotiators to try to obtain some strategic materials, but not on an arbitrary basis.

Prime Minister Nehru has announced that India would be forced to refuse help if any political strings were attached to it.

Women To Fill Defense Jobs

Cincinnati, (AP)—A government official said yesterday 2,000,000 jobs must be filled by women and others in the country's defense program by the end of 1952.

The official is Mrs. Helen B. Sater, special field representative of the Women's bureau, Department of Labor.

Addressing a regionol social hygiene conference, she said:

"These two million extra jobs must be filled by women, older persons, the handicapped and workers from other nations.

"As the present emergency continues and the full impact of defense production makes itself felt, the number of women workers—now 19,000,000—is expected to increase to a point never before reached in this country, to a number above the 20,500,000 women in the labor force at the peak of World War Two."

Davis Weiss, Historian, Dies At 83

Brodheadsville—J. Davis Weiss, 83-year-old Monroe county historian and former justice of the peace, died yesterday at 5:30 p. m. in his home here.

For over 38 years Mr. Weiss was Chestnuthill township justice of the peace. In his younger days he taught school for over 15 years.

He served one term as Monroe county merchantile appraiser and was township constable for a number of years.

Always interested in folk lore and local histoy, Mr. Weiss amassed abundant and valuable information over the years and became known as an authority on Monroe county history.

He was the son of the late George and Lavina (Mosteller) Weiss, Brodheadsville and graduated from Fairview Academy here. He was a member of the Brodheadsville Reformed church.

Surviving are his wife, Mary, at home; one daughter, Mrs. Edgar Sittig, Shawnee-on-Delaware, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p. m. at the Edgar Hamm funeral home here. Rev. C. Clyde Levergood, of the Cherry Valley Methodist charge, will officiate.

Explosions Rip Plant

Stony Point, N. Y., (AP) — Wall-buckling explosions and fire ripped through a big chemical plant yesterday. There were no immediate reports of serious injuries, but several persons were treated for flash burns.

A spokesman for the company, Kay-Fries Chemicals, Inc., said the work shift was just changing as the series of blasts jolted the plant, and that all of the employes were believed to have escaped.

The explosions knocked out the north side of the metal-walled plant, which sprawls over a half acre of land, and turned other parts of the structure into hot, bulging ruins. The roof collapsed.

Furious flames, fed by huge vats of chemicals, swept the building for more than three hours, as fire trucks and other equipment from a half dozen surrounding communities battled the blaze.

The body of the brittle star, a deep sea dweller, varies in size from two inches down to a pinhead.

Win Pay Raises

St. Louis, (AP)—Some 51,000 employes of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. won pay raises yesterday in an agreement which was announced 20 minutes after a six-state strike was scheduled to begin.

Smithfield School Awards Diplomas To Ninth Graders; Exercises Scheduled Tonight

Minisink Hills—Twenty-first annual graduation of Smithfield township school was held last night.

For the first time in the school's history there will be a double commencement this year. Last night's exercises were for ninth graders who will be going on to High school.

Tonight at 8 there will be another commencement for eighth graders. Because of crowded conditions, the school will no longer have a ninth grade and eighth graders will also be leaving for another school.

Several awards were presented last night.

The Smithfield PTA music committee award was presented to Bunnie Jane Bartholomew and Gerard W. Wendt, who tied for the honor. Mrs. Ruth Shook presented the awards.

The DAR good citizenship award went to Benjamin Hartmann. Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr. made the presentation.

Bruce Huffman received the Charles Palmer Davis current events award. It was presented by Mrs. Margaret Heller.

Diplomas were presented by Raymond Hartmann, president of Smithfield township board of education. Congratulatory remarks were made by County Superintendent John C. Litts.

The address of welcome was given by Gerard Wendt. Roger Hartmann gave the 1951 class memorial.

Poems were recited by Raymond Anuskiewicz, Benjamin Hartmann, Joan Kresge, Ann Yetter, James Kunkle, Richard Zukawski, Harold White.

Music was provided by the Smithfield school band.

The girls' ensemble sang "Flag of Our Land."

Instrumental selections were played by Bunnie Bartholomew, flute solo; Carol Burnley and Gerard Wendt, trumpet duet; Bruce Huffman, saxophone solo; Fred Severud, baritone horn solo, and Carol Burnley, Yvonne Lambert, Fred Severud and Gerard Wendt, who played with a brass quartette. An instrumental ensemble from the band played a march.

Housewife's Reach Basis For Design

Cleveland, O.—To build the kitchen cabinets to serve the housewife's reach and the kitchen to fit the family are aims of the newest program of functional design of the kitchen, reported by Mrs. Mary Koll Heiner of Cornell University to the American Home Economics association here.

The continuous counters and overhead cabinets with many shelves now in vogue are not all that is needed to streamline working conditions for the housewife, says Mrs. Heiner. The body mechanics of the woman putting away the dishes and taking out the roast must be considered first.

The new concept of functional kitchen design uses the same methods which decrease fatigue and increase output in industry—changing the design of the man's work place to fit his normal and mixiMum reach.

The "body economy" value of each new kitchen storage design must be measured by reliable standards, such as are being developed now, reported Mrs. Heiner.

"The problems of an aging population indicate the need for less stooping and reaching and for better visibility," the speaker continued. "These aspects of more function design are equally important in youth. Age merely accentuates the problems."

Shiny Finish For Fixtures For Pictures

Want to clean your brass and copper fixtures, furnishings and ornaments, so the finish will last for years?

A veteran polisher of the building service squad at brass-framed Rockefeller Center gives this advice:

"Go down to your drug store and buy 15 cents worth of oxalic acid. Put the powder in a quart jar. Fill with water. Mix well. Dip your cleaning cloth into this mixture and then into some powdered pumice stone—you can get this at a drug store. Rub the cloth briskly over your metal, then wipe with a clean cloth. Your metal should gleam.

"Then dip another clean cloth into clear lacquer—make sure it is lacquer—and pat it over the metal's surface, covering it completely. Don't use a brush.

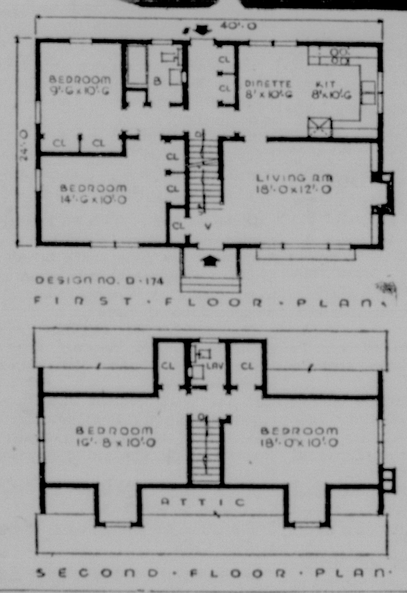

"Now the finish should last three or more years . . . without polishing."

"Oh, yes," he adds, "when after years, the finish does become dull again, use a little paint remover to take off the old lacquer, and repeat the entire process.

Fuse Blows, Lights

The hunt for that fuse that just blew out is eliminated by one of those simple twists of electrical science. A tiny incandescent lamp has been added to the fuse. Now, when the fuse goes out, the lamp goes on.

THE DAVIS has a narrow rectangular plan with a gable room which presents the most economical framing with consequent savings in carpenter labor. Main supports in this plan run through the center allowing use of short lengths.

First floor provides a kitchen-dining room, living room, two bedrooms and bath, with two more bedrooms and bath on second floor. All rooms are well supplied with closets.

Other features include full basement, picture window, fireplace with book shelves, open stairs, linen cabinet and recessed tub.

Exterior finish is siding, asphalt shingles, brick chimney, concrete steps, iron railings, shutter and flower box.

Dimensions are 40 feet by 24 feet. Floor area is 960 square feet while the cubage totals 21,120 cubic feet.

For further information about THE DAVIS, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Mend Roof With Good Compound

A roof that leaks all over can be given a coating of heavy asphalt and asbestos compound, which will fill up cracks and nail holes and preserve the roof for several years. However, before this coating is applied, all curled and broken shingles should be replaced or repaired.

If the leak is centered, it can be located by looking at the underside during a rainstorm. It is very likely to be at the junction of two surfaces—a valley or the joint between a chimney and the roof, or where a dormer is cut through. In this case, the fault is probably in the flashing, but if it is in the middle of a large roof area, it is likely to be from a curled or loosened shingle.

Cost To Decline

Mass production of air conditioning equipment is now getting well under way, and improved methods of distribution are expected to result in further savings to buyers of home or apartment air conditioning equipment, the Refrigeration Equipment Manufacturers association reports. The industry now has the capacity to produce two to three times as much equipment as before the war.

Outdoor Fireplaces

Outdoor fireplaces are found frequently in modern gardens and are no longer confined to the picnic grounds. This feature, popular on the west coast for a long time, is becoming a favorite with the garden enthusiast throughout the country.

Closet Space Lack Leads Complaints

Builders might benefit if they had an opportunity to hear home owners voice their grievances over defects in dwellings.

As suggestions for builders and contractors, a magazine recently conducted a poll of those features of a home—or lack of them—which irked home owners most. Lack of closet space was the complaint voiced most often, with an inadequate supply of electric outlets next in the voting.

Third in the unpopularity contest was uneven distribution of heat, while other complaints included poor kitchen arrangements, drafts, rooms that provide no wall space for furniture and rooms that lack sunlight.

Families with children complained about lack of space for keeping toys, and a universal protest against inefficient hot-water heaters was sounded. Garage doors that don't work were among the unpopular items, while a large number of feminine votes went to the house that is inconveniently arranged for care and upkeep.

Other items on the list of grievances against builders included refrigerators not large enough to store the family food supply, drain pipes that clog, lighting fixtures that glare, basements that flood with every rain, garages too small for ease of movement, pipes that rust, dark hallways and stairways, screens that rust and weak water flow.

Efficient Contractor Cuts Costs

The importance of obtaining the services of a general contractor rather than a home builder parceling out each contract himself cannot be too strongly stressed.

An efficient general contractor will save the builder money at every turn. One of his principal tasks is to co-ordinate construction. If works stops at one point it usually delays workmen all along the line. This is costly. A good contractor keeps material moving on schedule from supplier's to site, he sees that workmen deliver a full day's work and he knows how to avoid friction between unions and individual workmen.

Shoulders Details

Compliance with city ordinances, building codes and other laws is additional detail a general contractor takes off the shoulders of the home builder. Without a competent, financially responsible general contractor it is difficult to obtain financing for a home.

There will be no misunderstanding if everything is placed in writing.

PMF To Hold Sessions At Pocono Manor

Former State Sen. Andrew J. Sordoni of Wilkes-Barre, last night announced that the 45th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Motor federation with 57 member AAA clubs throughout the State, will be held on Monday and Tuesday, June 11 and 12, at Pocono Manor inn.

Pre-convention activities will get under way on Sunday night with the president's reception and dinner for members of the federation's executive committee, according to R. B. Maxwell, of Harrisburg, secretary-manager of the PMF.

Business sessions will be called to order on Monday morning by Mr. Sordoni and delegates will be welcomed by Gerald P. O'Neill, president of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the Monroe County Automobile club.

Busines: sessions will be concluded the following morning with the election of officers and the nomination of directors to the American Automobile association from the federation.

Walter Fossa will represent the Monroe County Automobile club at the meeting.

Large Elm Tree Cut Down Here

A sharp whirring sound emanating from N. Eighth St., near Main, Stroudsburg, attracted a sizable group of curious passers-by shortly after 3 p m. yesterday.

The mysterious noise proved to be that of a power saw eating its way into the trunk of a large elm near the Eighth St. curb at the side of the John F. O'Neil resident, 800 Main St.

A crew from C. G. Bush and Sons, East Stroudsburg RD 3 tree specialists, were cutting out large chunks of the standing trunk after dismembering the top of the tree, limb by limb.

John Steiger

John Steiger Graduates At Susquehanna

Newfoundland — John Steiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steiger, South Sterling, received a bachelor of arts degree in business administration at graduation ceremonies held Monday at Susquehanna University.

An alumnus of the Greene-Dreher High school, Steiger also was graduated from Keystone Junior College, where he majored in accounting. His extra-curricular activities there won him membership in the honorary Keys society. He also participated in basketball and was editor of the Keystonian.

Steiger entered Susquehanna in 1949 and became affiliated with the Christian association, the Business society, Bond and Key, and was recently nominated and accepted in the National Association of Cost Accountants. He was the managing editor of the Susquehanna, student newspaper, vice president of the Business society and played on the junior varsity basketball team.

Dr. C. S. Flagler will be out of town June 10 to 14.—Adv.

District 3 To Sponsor Bible School

Tannersville—Plans have been made for the community Daily Vacation Church school to be held in Pocono Township school from June 11 to 22.

The dean of the school is Rev. Garnet L. Zimmerman and the school is sponsored by District 3, Monroe County Sunday School association.

There will be classes for pupils between the ages of three and 15 years. The Beginners' class will be in charge of Mrs. Paul Shaffer. Miss Nita Warner will be teacher in the Primary department. Mrs. Robert Frailey will be in charge of the Junior group, and Miss Annabel Niering will be the teacher in the Intermediate department.

The district will again furnish transportation from all areas of the townships included in District 3.

Mrs. Paul S. Shaffer, teacher of the Beginners' department, will be in charge of the music. The assembly programs will be conducted by the various groups of the school.

Two Meetings Slated Tomorrow

Meetings of the Monroe County Production and Marketing administration and the county Agriculture Mobilization committee, both scheduled for yesterday, were postponed until tomorrow.

Mrs. William Bolcar, secretary for both groups, said the PMA board will meet at 10 a. m. Thursday and the mobilization committee at 1:30 p. m., the same day in the PMA office at the county court house.

War Bride Joins Family In U. S.

Pittsburgh (AP) — A young Polish war bride faced a big job yesterday — getting acquainted with two of her children.

Maryla Stiefvater, 26, was reunited with her daughters — Sharon, three, and Christine, two — after almost two years of separation and yards of immigration tape.

The Polish woman was a waitress at an officer's mess in Germany when she met Thomas Stiefvater, then serving in the U. S. Army of Occupation.

The couple married and had two children. In 1948 Tom was mustered out of the Army and brought Sharon and Christine to Pittsburgh. Maryla stayed in Germany to await the birth of Thomas Jr.

Candidates Draw For Positions

School Work Continues For Boys In Ag Class

Although schools are closing for the summer, vocational agriculture boys from Monroe and Northampton counties still have plenty of homework to do.

"Their school work doesn't stop in June," W. B. Frisbie, vocational agriculture supervisor, explained. "The boys have already begun productive enterprises in farming and farm practice."

A total of 168 boys from these two counties are undertaking 314 projects this summer. Some boys are carrying as high as eight projects; average for the two-county area is two.

During the summer they will have to keep up planning charts, keep a complete labor and cost account record of each project.

A total of 156 boys are conducting productive projects—those having some home use or which will yield a product for sale.

Schools taking part in the program are Bangor, Chestnuthill, Pen Argyl, Pocono, Polk, Stroudsburg.

MR. AND MRS. Harry Bond look reflective as they think back over the fifty years of their married life, while the picture at the right shows their five sons, all together. It was a gay family party, however, held last night in their honor.

The Harry Bonds Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Appenzell—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bond, of Appenzell, yesterday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a family party at their home. Their four sons and their families were all home for the celebration, and bouquets, cakes and a radio were among the gifts presented to the Bonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Bond were married in Tannersville by Rev. D. W. Le Crone, and lived for five years in Pittston, but for the past 45 years have made their home at the present home near Appenzell.

They had five sons, four of whom are still living: Ernest, LeRoy, Donald and William. Their fifth son was Reginald, who died. There are six grandchildren including Loretta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bond; Lorraine, Curtis and Harry, children of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bond; Donna Lou and David, children of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bond, and one great grandson.

Farewell Party Is Given By Mrs. Wilson

Mrs. Sarah Wilson, of 1 North Ninth St., Stroudsburg, entertained last night in honor of a friend, Mrs. Jane Wilson and son, Larry, who have made their home on Broad St., South Stroudsburg. They will leave on Friday for Wheeling, West Virginia, where her husband is now employed.

The table was decorated with orange blossoms, and games and refreshments were enjoyed by the guests who included Mrs. Murtle Long, Mrs. Mary Stallmer, Mrs. Anna Cramer, Mrs. Myrna Garris, Mrs. Hazel Schwartz, Mrs. Edith Christman, Mrs. Olympia Christman and daughter Barbara, Mrs. Martha Bonser, Mrs. Hattie Lasher, Mrs. Florence Henning, Mrs. Lena Wilson, Mrs. Hannah Dody, Mrs. Alice Beaujan and daughter Yvonne, Miss Eleanor Brown and Miss Doris Brown.

Flory Class Meeting

The Flory Sunday school class of the Stroudsburg Methodist church will hold a social on Thursday, June 7, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Ed Snyder, Thomas St., Stroudsburg.

Miss Catherine Ervey

Miss Ervey Graduated At Mansfield

Miss Catherine Ervey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ervey of East Stroudsburg, was graduated last week from Mansfield State Teachers College where she majored in public school music supervision.

A graduate of East Stroudsburg High school in the class of 1946, Miss Ervey worked for a year before entering Mansfield where she was active in many extra-curricular activities.

She was elected to Lambda Mu, national society of musicians, was a member of the college symphonic band, orchestra and glee club. Performed with the College players and was a member of the Women's Athletic association, the YWCA and took part in the May day play.

She will be supervisor of vocal music in all twelve grades at the Hackettstown, N. J., schools this September.

St. Mary's Guild Entertained At Girard Home

St. Mary's Guild of the Christ Episcopal church was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of the Misses Aimiee and Lucie Girard, Bryant St.

Mrs. Walter Angle presided at the business session with Mrs. J. E. Arnold giving the opening prayer. Gratifying reports of the successful rummage sale and spring luncheon were given. Further improvements to the parish house were discussed and a committee was appointed to study the matter and make suggestions.

Mrs. A. Starr Phelps reported on additional projects suggested by the Woman's auxiliary of the Protestant Episcopal church.

There will be no July meeting.

Parents Have Party For Second Grade

Mrs. Ethel Farleigh's second grade was given a party by their parents on Tuesday afternoon at school. Mrs. Sumner Lee Bossler gave three readings "Counting Eggs," "Guiseppe Buys an Automobile," and "The Class in Elecution."

Mrs. Farleigh was presented with a tray from the children with Marjorie Drake making the presentation.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. Russell Balmer, Mrs. Sumner Bossler and Mrs. James Kitson assisted with the party.

Children attending were Marjorie Drake, Robert Beehler, Veletta Davis, Billy Bartron, Carol Copenhaver, Laura May Hall, Carl Cyphers, Douglas Kitson, Glydia Yoch, Dorothy Bond, George Taylor, Lee Bossler, Viola Counterman, Susan Balmer, Karlene Baechtold, Susanna Harl, Donald Henry, Betty Ann Ace, John Eschenbach, James Farry and Billy Campbell.

Ball Game Marks All-Boy Birthday Party

Brian Farris celebrated his 8th birthday with an all-boy party held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Farris, 107 South 8th St., Stroudsburg, on Monday, June 4.

A complete dinner was served to fifteen boys, his classmates and neighborhood pals, at the Farris Home. Each boy received a red baseball cap as a favor and at 6:15 the entire party adjourned to the playground for the Little League baseball game in which one of the party, Barry Trethaway, was playing for the Security Trust Co. team.

Guests included John Savidge, Jimmy Gougher, Donald Grover, Russell LaBar, Billy Schoch, Russell Schaller, Ronald Walker, Alfred Strouse, Robert Haigh, Carl Kohl, Jay Harman, Stevie Jones, Rickey DePuy, Barry Trethaway, and Brian Farris.

June Wedding At Parsonage, Tannersville

The parsonage of the Evangelical and Reformed church at Tannersville was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, June 2 at 2:30 p. m., when Miss Martha Ridgeway, of Pocono Pines and Philadelphia, and Rudolph Henry Montbellier of Fort Lee, N. J., were united in marriage by the Rev. J. M. Shellenberger in the presence of twelve relatives and close friends.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Dora C. Field, of Pocono Pines, and the late Archie Lyle Ridgeway, wore a champaign colored lace dress with brown accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Riddagh of Philadelphia. Mrs. Riddagh wore spring-green embroidered organdy accented by a corsage of yellow rose-buds.

The bride's mother was attired in navy with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Montbellier is a graduate of Tobyhanna Township High school and Bethlehem Business College, and is employed by Farm Journal, Inc., of Philadelphia. The groom, son of the late Albert and Elizabeth Montbellier of New York, is employed by Hill's restaurant in that city.

A four-course dinner was served to the wedding party of fourteen at five o'clock, after which the bride and groom departed for a destination of their choice. They will be at home to their friends after Labor day.

Card Party Open To All On County Republican Day

All Republican Women of the county are invited to be the guests of the Council of Republican Women at an informal card party to be held on Tuesday afternoon, June 10 at Shawnee Inn, preceding the banquet on Thursday night.

Mrs. William W. Gorman, chairman of the card party, announced yesterday that all women whether they plan to attend the banquet or not were invited. There will be prizes for both bridge and canasta. Play will begin at 2 o'clock, and women may reserve tables if they wish though it will not be necessary.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, it was another one of those days, with everything happening at once and enough stories to fill social pages. And the thing is that no matter how much you get in, a lot of the colors are faded by the time you read it.

Can't put into print the happiness in Mrs. Bond's voice for instance when she was talking about their golden wedding party last night. And we should have mentioned too, that her mother, Mrs. Kresge, is alive to see how well her daughter's marriage has turned out. Over ninety she is, too.

Can't get down on paper the tears that mingle with the graduation rejoicing. However Bunnie Bartholomew's tears weren't all happy ones last night since her mother was taken sick yesterday afternoon and was in the hospital for Bunnie's graduation from Junior high.

Can't let you taste those fancy cakes that the Misses Girard served to the guild yesterday afternoon, or make you feel the satisfaction the Sisterhood felt at their dinner party.

However, if you could read between the lines of our day-to-day stories there'd be no need of soap operas or magazine cereals. And when you're really living it as we will be tonight at Nan's graduation, well who's got time for television?

Bridal Shower For Miss Cramer At Kresge Home

A bridal shower was held at the home of Rachel Kresge, Dreher Ave. Stroudsburg on Thursday, May 31, in honor of Miss Mildred Cramer.

Miss Cramer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cramer of East Stroudsburg and is to become the bride of John Fetherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Fetherman of Stroudsburg in late summer.

The bride-to-be received many gifts which had been arranged on a table decorated in white and pink. Assisting Mrs. Kresge as hostess was Mrs. L. W. Fetherman.

Other guests included Lois Aschel, Lorraine Cramer, Gertrude Kintner, Frances Plattenberg, June Fenner, Shirley Merwin, Jean Anthony, June Strunk, Nancy Miller, Nancy Van Why, Mary Heller, June Bamka, Frances Schaller, Olive Spring, Rose Schaller, Jane Dennis, Mrs. Ralph Fetherman and Ruth Gordon.

Games and cards were followed by refreshments.

Brownies Hold Mothers' Tea Investiture

A Mothers' Tea was held on Monday during the regular meeting of Brownie Troop No. 1 at the Presbyterian church, Stroudsburg.

Button flowers decorated the invitations which were made by the Brownies at the previous meeting. Singing games and songs were part of the entertainment, and the mothers participated in "Why Doesn't my Goose"—a popular fun song.

Joanne Dippre, Kathleen Edinger, Sandra Tretheway, Anna Gower and Ellen Spring looked into the pool, saw themselves, and were invested as Brownies. They received their Brownie Pins, and all gave the Brownie promise and sang the Brownie song.

Refreshments prepared by the Brownies were served and the meeting closed with the Girl Scout Goodbye song.

Those present were Mrs. Claus Jordan and Judy; Mrs. Helen Dippre and Joanne; Mrs. Ann Edinger and Kathleen; Mrs. Robert Haigh and Linda; Mrs. Robert Schell and Margaret; Mrs. Edward Warnick and Kay; Mrs. William Henry and Dianna; Mrs. George Spring and Ellen; Mrs. Sherwood Gower and Anna; Mrs. Elton J. Dening and Bethany; Mrs. Francis Grover and Donna; Mrs. Jack Tretheway and Sandra; Mrs. Lida Hauser and Brenda Torzillo; Jacquelyn Torzillo; Faith Zahoric; Dianne Yutz; Helen Louise Thomas; and Mrs. Frederic and Mrs. Roger Acker, leaders.

Frantz Will Mark 92nd Birthday

Stewart Frantz of Lennox Ave., East Stroudsburg, is today celebrating his 92nd birthday in the house he built 55 years ago. At that time it was the third house on "the flats," which is now pretty well built up.

Moreover it cost him $528 to build, he recalled, with the $28 for the foundations. It has served him well, and he brought up seven of his eight children there.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Amos Frantz, he was born in Snydersville, and worked in the limestone pits when he left the Snydersville school. At 21 he was working in Bethlehem, where he was when he voted for Garfield for president.

Later he moved to Stroudsburg and worked as a farmer on the Flory farm, now included in the town limits. There are four children still living: Mrs. Lewis Heiney, of Stroudsburg; Mrs. Bessie Miller, Allentown; Jesse Frantz and Lewis Frantz with whom he makes his home.

Candlelight Installation For Gradales

In an impressive, candle-lit ceremony Monday night at the YMCA the new officers of the Gradale Sorority for the coming year were installed and the new members were inducted. Mrs. Henry Kresge, advisor; Mrs. Jean Farry, Prima; Mrs. Evelyn Tweedie, Tribune; Mrs. Mary Scheller, Quaester and Mrs. Dot Andress conducted the ceremonies.

Mothers of the new officers witnessed the induction in which Mrs. Marie Catudal was installed as Prima, Mrs. Pat Dean as Pro Prima, Mrs. Audrey Wilkins as Tribune, Mrs. Grace E. Grace, as Quaester and Mrs. Dot Shields as Historian.

The new members joining during the past year in attendance were: Marion Burke, Janet Rodenbaugh, Dot Possinger, Jean Heller, Kay Sweeney and Beatrice Steinmetz.

A Past President's pin was presented to Mrs. Jean Farry, the retiring Prima. Mrs. Farry expressed her appreciation for the cooperation by everyone during the past year.

The Club Fernwood was chosen as the place for the annual banquet on Monday, June 18. All members desiring to go should meet at the YMCA on the night at 6:30. Reservations should also be made with Mrs. Marie Catudal.

Refreshments were served by the committee.

WSCS Officers Installed At Local Church

The new officers of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Stroudsburg Methodist church were installed by the new minister, Rev. Walter S. Johnston at the meeting held at the church on Monday night.

Mrs. Ray Welsh, retiring president, introduced Mr. Johnston, and after the installation, Miss Catherine Wolverton, the new president, took up her duties.

The meeting opened with devotions led by Miss Ruth Pipher, assisted by Mrs. Randall Roberts, with Mrs. Merlin Rutt as pianist. Silent prayer was given in memory of Mrs. Ralph Bisbing, an officer of the organization. Mrs. Walter S. Johnston and Mrs. Rhoda Wagner were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. Welsh was presented with a gift from the society by Mrs. Rutt, and the program included a talk by Mrs. Nelson Frantz on the Near East with a moving picture following "South of the Clouds" and "Bridges Into the Future."

Refreshments were served by the hostesses with Mrs. Earl Pipher as chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Robertson, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. H. Ray Saunders, Mrs. Alfred Repp, Mrs. Irving Price, Miss Ruth Pipher, Mrs. Laura Powers, Mrs. Randall Roberts, Mrs. Jerome Reinhart.

Ruth Hussey Accepts Role As Laurel Blossom Time Queen

Actress To Be Crowned At Dance

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Ruth Hussey, glamorous screen, stage radio and TV star, will be crowned Queen of the 1951 Laurel Blossom Time festival in Pocono Mountains at the revival of the annual Laurel Blossom coronation ball in Shawnee inn here the night of June 20.

Miss Hussey confirmed the appointment here on June 20 in a long distance telephone call with Mrs. Rowena Stephens, owner-operator of Pocono playhouse, Canadensis, where Miss Hussey will appear in the near future.

Preceding the grand coronation ball involving a court of 18 beautiful Laurel Festival princesses who will serve in Miss Hussey's Laurel Festival court, four of the fashion world's greatest authorities will collaborate to stage a spectacular fashion show.

Walter Fossa, who announced Miss Hussey's acceptance of the Queen role, last night, also gave details of the fashion show. It will star these designers and fashion experts:

Ceil Chapman, outstanding designer of exotic evening and cocktail gowns, who recently designed most of Elizabeth Taylor's wedding trousseau, will stage her particular specialty . . . a show of evening and cocktail gowns.

Emily Wilkins, authority on young misses dresses and author of widely read books on good grooming for young ladies, will display hits for many young people.

Alan Graham, just returned from Paris where he was with Jacques Fath, foremost designer in Europe, will deliver the Parisienne flavor and viewpoint on fashions.

Clair McArdle, who is best known for sports clothes and bathing suits which best typifies the American girl, will have a display of latest sports clothing including bathing suits such as are worn by vacationers in Pocono Mountains.

Attractive, professional models will be utilized by all the experts.

Women of the Poconos will see the glamorous fashions shown in the main lounge at Shawnee inn. The show will consume about one hour starting promptly at 8 p.m.

Coronation ball starts promptly at 9 p.m. with Tommy Tucker's band of the year playing for dancers. Dress is optional. Tickets now on sale and moving very fast throughout the Poconos region are $5 per person. Proceeds will be devoted to a permanent Laurel Festival fund.

Laurel Queen will be crowned just before midnight.

Two more high school princesses were announced yesterday. They are:

Gloria Hansen, Greene-Dreher High school, Newfoundland, was announced as princess representative for that school by Joe Jacobs, principal. She's 16, five feet six inches tall, weighs 134 pounds, blonde hair and green eyes. Miss Hansen is a senior and was Queen of May this year.

Joyce Carol Hill, Hawley High school, was selected to represent that region of the Poconos as princess. She's valedictorian; received a scholarship at Lebanon College of Music and has won the DAR medal for outstanding citizenship.

Two additional nominees for the princess contest division were also announced yesterday. They are:

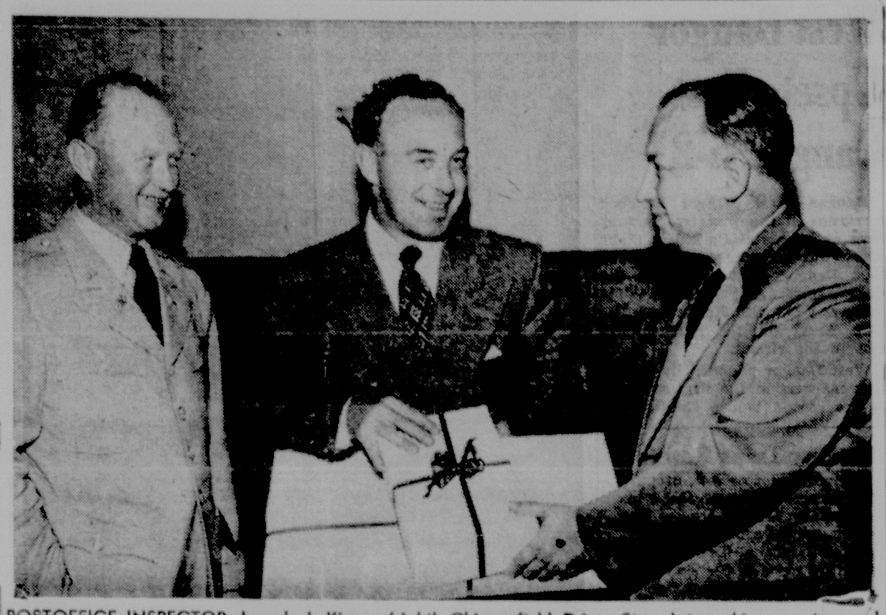

Betty Waltz, employe at Hotel Sterling, Sterling, Pa. She just completed senior year at Cornell, majoring in mathematics. Miss Waltz is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority and sang in Sage Chapel choir at Cornell.

Mrs. Bettsy Gaunt, 21, who is an employe of First Stroudsburg National Bank, is the other nominee. Mrs. Gaunt has light brown hair and green eyes. She is in the clerical contest division.

Pictures of all the contestants are on display in the E.A. Bell Insurance Co. window, Stroudsburg.

The United Nations Flag was adopted by the General Assembly on Oct. 20, 1947.

Death Valley is the lowest land surface in the western hemisphere.

POSTOFFICE INSPECTOR Joseph J. Kinane (right), Chipperfield Drive, Stroud township, was honored last night by Monroe County Postmasters' association at a dinner at Rhodes Inn, Scotrun. Speaker was Major Thomas E. Morrison, left Signal Corps depot, Tobyhanna. Louis DePaul, Mount Pocono postmaster and association president, is shown presenting Mr. Kinane with a gift. D-Day Occurred Seven Years Ago

Utah Beach, Normandy, (AP) — High French and Allied officers came to this strip of sand last night where history was made seven years ago.

It was the eve of the anniversary of D-day, when Allied troops swarmed over the English channel and battered their way into Hitler's "Fortress Europe."

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is due today to visit this area, for the first time since the war, and honor the soldiers who lost their lives here June 6, 1944.

Honor Roll Unveiled At Kresgeville

Kresgeville — Unveiling services for the Polk Township honor roll and dedication of a new lunch room were held Sunday at the township high school.

Services were under the direction of Mrs. Russell Shupp, president of Polk township memorial committee.

Principal speaker was Howard Mount, past commander of Thomas P. Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was introduced by James Gould.

Unveiling ceremonies were in charge of Mrs. Stanley Dunning, mother of a veteran; Mrs. Leon Werley, a Gold Star mother, and Mrs. John Souders, who substituted for another Gold Star mother who was ill.

During the unveiling, taps were played by William Andrews and Kathryn Griffith.

Edward Doney, a member of West End American Legion post, was in charge of dedication services for both the honor roll and lunchroom.

During the ceremony selections were played by Polk Township High school band, under the direction of Jay Albright, student leader.

Rev. Alton P. Albright, of Pleasant Valley Reformed charge, was in charge of the devotions.

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles.

We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving.

So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true.

We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be.

We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics.

We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides—at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale.

But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS.

One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflow Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price.

We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty.

We might claim—you'll find more room—more comfort—more luxury—a smoother ride—more conveniences—more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field.

But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own.

And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Special Golf Tournament Planned For Shawnee Course

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

There seems to be more interest each day in a baseball league that would enable kids between the Little League and American Legion ages to play the game in organized fashion and under proper supervision. If a team, group of teams or a league of this nature isn't formed this summer it is almost certain to become a reality next year. If the Exchange Club doesn't form such an organization, there are reports making the rounds that a group of adults, independent of clubs, will band together to do what they can for these boys.

It would be a shame to see the work done by the various Little Leagues go up in smoke, as boys passing their twelth birthdays would have to remain idle for a couple of years before being able to join the American Legion ranks. If the youngsters could be kept in action, under proper supervision, they would certainly help the baseball fortunes of both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools in future years.

Russell "Buck" LeBar, one of the greatest supporters of athletics at East Stroudsburg High school and a former employee of Hughes Printing Co., reports to Camp Kilmer, N. J., on Saturday, where he will depart for an unknown destination in Europe. LeBar is currently home on a seven-day delay enroute leave. LeBar passed on the information that Randy Morris, Russ Staples and Bill Quinlan, all former East Stroudsburg High athletic stars, are currently stationed at Camp Stoneman. Pittsburgh, Calif., where they are awaiting sailing orders for the Far East.

Staples played football, basketball and baseball at Eastburg, while Morris was a member of both the baseball and basketall squads. Quinlan will also be remembered as a member of the Pocono A. C. basketball machine, when Doug Schoonover coached the organization's entry in the Blue Mountain Basketball League. George N. Kemp American Legion Post baseball team is short of funds and could use some donations if anyone feels so inclined.

Foul play was noted during the first day of action at the newly constructed Delaware Valley Speedway last Sunday, when some unscrupulous character put blasting sand into the gas tank of a stock car owned by Harold "Bub" Learn. Tannersville, and Kenneth Werkheiser, 6th. St., Stroudsburg. The sand virtually ruined the machine's entire engine, but this column was informed last night that the car will be ready to run again this week, after many long hours of labor on the damaged engine.

Jolley's Auto Exchange, Stroudsburg Body Works, Taylor's Sunoco and Heller's Garage put the car together for Learn and Werkheiser and keep it in running order. However, the sand incident put all hands to extra work and took away an opportunity of winning some prize money from the drivers. The incident took place sometime between the first and third qualifying heats and according to reports received last night, the person who did the deed is about at the end of his ropes.

Frank Radler, outstanding pitcher and manager for the Stroudsburg Poconos during the past three campaigns and current pilot of the DeLand entry in the Florida-State League, underwent surgery recently for an ailing pitching arm and a growth the size of a marble was removed. The object had been pressing on a nerve and gave the hard working right hander plenty of pain. Radler now carries eight or nine stitches in his arm, and every follower of the DeLand club is hopeful that the surgery will return the hurler to active duty very shortly.

DeLand is currently two games behind the league leading Orlando club, while holding down the number two spot. DeLand recently won two straight games from the first place club, one by a 12-0 count. Radler's crew also had a seven-game winning streak snapped recently by the Sanford club, currently holding down seventh place in the standings. Radler's arm trouble will undoubtedly cause a great deal of concern in Monroe County, where he became a great favorite with both diamond fans and non-fans alike during his tour of duty with the Poconos.

Mike Rubish, golf professional at Glen Brook Country Club, played baseball with such present and former major league stars as Joe DiMaggio, Joe Gordon, Charley "Red" Ruffing, George Dickey, Walt Judnick, Jerry Priddy, Ferris Fain and Bob Dillinger, while stationed in Hawaii during World War II, with the Seventh Air Force. Mike also played on a football team at the same base which featured 13 or 14 all-Americans and several pros. Rubish at one time held down an end position with the Washington Redskins, of the National League. However, Mike's one and only love in the sports world remains golf, a game he started playing as a kid. Rubish has made a terrific hit as a pro at the local club during the early portion of the present season.

Pirates Find New Power To Blast Out Total Of Twenty-One Hits For Favorable Verdict, 8-0

Boston (AP) — The last place Pittsburgh Pirates supported Paul La Palme with a 21-hit attack as he shut out the Boston Braves, 8-0, last nightafter drawing his first major league starting assignment. It was the fifth straight setback for the slumping Tribesmen, who were limited to five safeties.

The lefthanded La Palme, brought up from Indianapolis two weeks ago, is a former Braves' farmhand. He did not permit an opposing hitter to get to second base until the ninth inning, when Walker Cooper singled after Bob Elliott walked.

Paced by George Metkovich with two doubles and as many singles, the Pirates left 18 base runners stranded to equal a major league record first set by the 1905 Pittsburgh club.

Billy Meyer's previously luckless forces fattened their batting averages at the expense of starter Johnny Sain and three others. Ralph Kiner clouted two doubles and a single and Hank Schenz, Wally Westlake and George Strickland also totaled three hits each.

As far as the Braves were concerned, the game was over when Metkovich and Kiner each doubled in the third inning. Sain was driven to cover in the fifth, when the Pirates built up a 6-0 lead.

Konstanty's First Start Of Season Results In Loss For Phillies At Hands Of Chicago, 3-2

Philadelphia, (AP)—Jim Konstanty, making his first starting appearance since he lost the world series opener, 1-0, to the New York Yankees last fall, failed again last night as a starter as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2.

The loss put Konstanty's log for the season at two wins and five defeats. He was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth inning after allowing all the Cubs' runs.

The Cubs won the game in the fourth. A triple, two doubles and a single produced their three runs.

Bounce Back

The Phils bounced back in the fifth with two runs, but brilliant pitching by Bob Rush turned them back in the late innings when they threatened to knot the score.

The game ended with Ed Pellegrini perched on third base with the tying run. He was running for Willie Jones who had tripled, missing a home run by inches.

The Phils' bespactacled relief pitcher was no puzzle to the Cubs as a starter. They tagged him for nine hits in the five innings he worked, and he was in trouble in the first and third before Chicago finally pushed across its winning runs.

A great peg by Richie Ashburn cut down a Cub runner at third base in the first and a fast double play killed off a potential Chicago rally in the third.

In relief, Russ Meyer held the Cubs to two hits in the last four innings, but his heroic effort came after the damage had been done.

The Phils two runs were unearned. Del Ennis opened the fifth with a two bagger, the first hit off Rush. After Jones walked, Granny Hamner bounced one in front of the plate.

Browns Trip A's Behind Garver, 10-1

St. Louis (AP) — Picking up two runs in each of the first three innings the St. Louis Browns backed up the masterful four-hit hurling of Ned Garver for a 10 to 1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics last night. It was Garver's eighth victory.

Garver was hitting as well as pitching, knocking out a single and a double and batting in one run.

Hits Hard

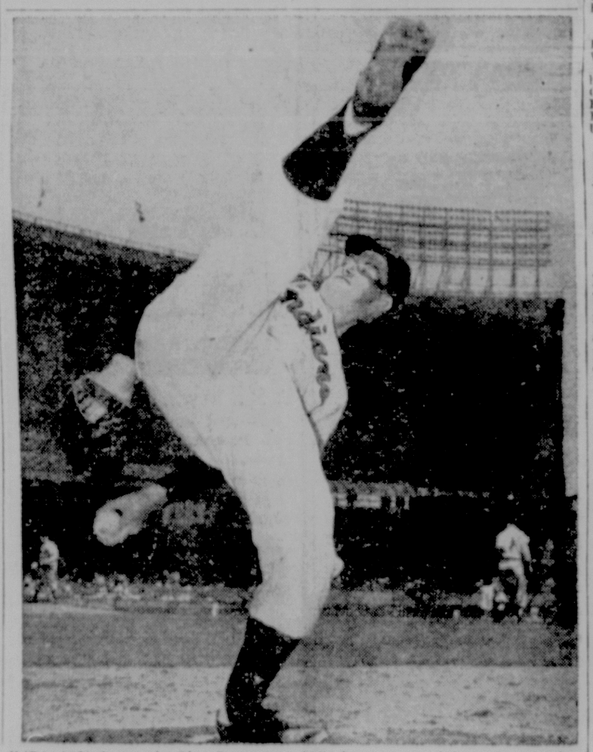

Sherman Lollar also clubbed the ball freely, batting in two runs with a third-inning four-bagger, another one in the first with a single, and he scored from second in the eighth after he hit a double.

Garver held the A's to just one hit for six innings—a single by the newly-acquired Hank Majeski.

In the seventh Ferris Fain and Lou Limmer both singled and when Gus Zernial did the same, Fain scored for the lone Philadelphia tally. A doubleplay brought Garver out of the inning.

Ned walked just one man—Eddie Joost in the ninth—and a doubleplay killed that threat.

Maglie Notches Ninth Victory As Giants Decision Reds, 3-2

New York, (AP)—Sal Maglie turned in his ninth straight victory last night as he pitched the New York Giants to a 3-2 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds. The Giants broke a scoreless tie with two runs in the seventh. Wes Westrum and rookie Willie Mays singled the runs home.

Maglie was in trouble throughout, granting nine hits to the six the Giants collected off Harry Perkowski and Frank Smith.

Ted Kluszewski homered for the Reds in the eighth. Bob Usher tripled to start the ninth and scored the Reds' final run on pinchhitter Barney McCisky's fly ball. Maglie retired Grady Hatton and fanned Connie Ryan to end the game.

First Start

Perkowski, making his first start since the 1949 season, blanked the Giants on one hit until the seventh inning. He walked Al Dark to start the frame. Dark moved to second on a bunt and scored the first run of the game on Wes Westrum's single. Monte Irvin beat out a hit and, after Whitey Lockman forced Irvin at second, Mays singled to score Westrum.

The Giants pushed over what proved to be their winning run in the eighth. Maglie singled to start the inning. He advanced to second on a sacrifice, moved to third on a single by Dark and crossed the plate after Bob Thomson flied out.

Count Turf Wins Polynesian Purse

New York (AP)— Count Turf, the Kentucky Derby winner, turned on the jet power in a stretch drive yesterday to win the $5,000 Polynesian purse at Belmont park and leave Bold—the Preakness champion—far behind.

Appearance

For a time it appeared as if the Putnam stable's Combat Boots, only other starter, would shame both of the big two in the three-year-old ranks.

But Little Conn McCreary, who bounced home Derby day with Count Turf, managed to get Jack Amiel's speedster under the wire in the final jump for a neck decision. Bold was eight lengths back of Combat Boots at the finish.

West Bangor Upsets East Bangor, 5-2

Bangor—West Bangor bunched five runs in the first two innings here at Memorial Park last night and went on to take the measure of East Bangor, 5-2, and knock the visiting contingent back into a three-way tie with Roseto and Pocono A. C. for the number one spot in the circuit.

West Bangor pounded Unger for four markers in the first and one in the second before chasing the hard working right hander in the third in favor of Bob Parsons.

Rally Fails

East Bangor attempted to pull the contest out of the fire in the late innings, but the best the visiting contingent could do was a pair of runs in the sixth frame.

"Ulio" Uliano hurled a masterful two hitter for the winning contingent, giving up a triple to Tucker and a single to Gilbert and had a no-hitter with two outs in the sixth round.

Uliano helped his own cause by blasting out two of West Bangor's six safeties.

Legion Club To Hold Practice

All members of the George N. Kemp American Legion Post baseball team are urged to attend tomorrow night's baseball practice at East Stroudsburg Playground, it was announced last night by Tom Carmella, athletic officer at the local American Legion Post.

Carmella also announced that the team had recently been presented with a dozen new baseballs by Jim Copenhaver, of Kreamee Ice Cream. The Legion club is in need of other equipment and donations will be gladly received, Carmella further stated.

Games

Any team of this or any other area wishing to book a game with the American Legion club is urged to contact Carmella as soon as possible.

Tomorrow's drill is listed for 5:30 p. m. and is the most important drill session to be held by the squad during the present campaign.

Pirates Sign Hurler

Pittsburgh, (AP) —The Pittsburgh Pirates signed up a school boy pitcher whom they found in their own backyard.

The hurling prospect is Jackie Brown, 18-year-old, 180-pounder from nearby Elizabeth, Pa., who has a couple of no hitters to his credit.

Option

The youth, was optioned to the Waco, Tex., club in the class "B" Big State League. That club immediately optioned him to Salisbury, N. C., in the North Carolina State League, a class "D" loop. Both clubs are Pirate farm units.

First National Bank Gains Nod Over People's Coal, 6-5

A sixth inning rally failed by two runs of giving People's Coal Co. its first Stroudsburg Little League victory of the season last night, as the First Stroudsburg National Bank scored a 6-5 verdict before a large crowd at Stroudsburg playground.

The First National club took a 4-1 lead at the end of the first inning and People's Coal Co. came back to cut its deficit in half with a marker in the second.

Winning Runs

However, the ultimate winner put the contest on ice with two more tallies in the fifth and held the upper hand through the final out, despite the fact that People's Coal came up with three markers in the sixth.

Kitchen was the big gun for the losing aggregation, banging out three hits in four trips to the plate, while Setzer, with two-for-three, led the First National attack.

Tonight's contest, on the same field, is listed between People's Coal Co. and Stroudsburg Security Trust. The game will begin at 6:30.

Barthold Leads Field At Glen Brook

Mrs. Fran Barthold won a recent golf tournament for women at Glen Brook Country club, with a score of 75, including handicap over the rolling 18-hole layout. Mrs. Oriale Nitrauer finished second with a count of 77 strokes for the same distance.

A total of 20 players took part in the action and in addition to the two top prize winners the list included Sally Fansler, Peg Cramer, Henrietta Baldwin, Bea Towe, Alice Groner, Pat Rubish, Vi Shaffer, Madine Lockwitch, Lorraine Farber, Georgia Litchenberg, Lorraine Rusk, Bobby Westbrook, Helen Haynes, Peg Shell, Lorene Hansen, Mickie Wallace Jo McDowell, Fran Barthold, and Ann Newman.

Clinic

These women will also meet in their weekly golf clinic session tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

The clinic will feature a discussion on rules, mannerisms of golf and fundamentals of long irons.

Mike Rubish, golf professional at Glen Brook, is also starting a caddie clinic at the course on Friday, at 9 a. m. The clinic is being held to improve the work of the caddies. Those boys making an "A" rating will be allowed to play golf on Mondays.

Brion Gains Decision

London (AP) — Cesar Brion, rugged Argentine heavyweight, spoiled Jack Gardner's bid for major recognition last night when he outpointed the British and European heavyweight champion in a bloody ten-round bout before 50,000 fans in White City Stadium. Gardner had an 18 pound weight edge, 210 to 192.

Both fighters bled freely from eye cuts and the young Briton's face was a red smear as the final bell sounded.

Bowlers To Meet

A special meeting of the Monroe County Bowling Association officers will be held a week from tonight at the home of Robert Cooke, 710 Phillips St. The meeting is listed for 8 p.m.

May Claim Title

Pompton Lakes, N. J., (AP)—Joe Louis said yesterday he would claim British recognition as the world heavyweight champion if he whipped Lee Savold in the Polo grounds on June 13.

"That's the first I ever heard of a heavyweight champion fighting and not having a chance of losing his titles," said Louis. "Sure I'll claim it."

A. C. Signs Bonser

Tom Bonser, veteran infielder, was signed by Pocono A.C., Monroe County's entry in the Blue Mountain league yesterday, it was announced last night by Fred Hershey, general manager of the club.

Duff To Present Prizes To Winners

Shawnee-on-Delaware — A special golf match has been arranged for the Shawnee Inn course on Tuesday, June 12, when Republican Day will be celebrated at this Pocono Mountain resort. Sen. James H. Duff will be on hand to present the various tournament prize winners with their rewards.

The tournament has been designated as the Senatorial Sweepstakes Golf Tournament, and is under the direction of co-chairman Mrs. Frank Patterson Jr. and Mrs. Olaf Pederson.

Plans

Plans call for the tournament to last all day and a large field is expected to enter the battle. Groups are planning to come from the Portland Cement Co., Bethlehem, as well as many local players and golfers from neighboring areas.

Several judges and state senators and representatives will also be in the starting group.

The tournament is being held in conjunction with the banquet of Monroe County Councils of Republican Women at Shawnee Inn.

Duff and Sen. Homer Capehart are the featured guests at the affair.

Tigers Blank Senators, 4-0

Detroit (AP)—Gene Bearden started his first game for the Detroit Tigers last night and blanked the Washington Senators with only four hits. George Kell rapped four straight singles and Jerry Priddy homered as the Tigers won, 4 to 0.

Vic Wertz saved a shutout for Bearden, who had been a relief pitcher until tonight, by a leaping catch against the rightfield screen in the ninth inning. Bearden, whose 20 wins in 1948 helped Cleveland win the pennant, allowed only three balls to be hit farther than the infield in the first five innings. He recorded his second win against one loss.

Bunch Singles

A crowd of 16,164 saw the Tigers bunch singles by Dick Kryhoski, Priddy and Kell for a run in the third inning.

Don Johnson, who suffered his second loss against no wins, gave way for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning.

Priddy lined his third homer of the year into the lower leftfield stands. Kell and pinchhitter Steve Souchock singled and Johnny Groth scored them both with a two base blast to deep right center.

Patterson-Kelley Tucker's Triumph

Tucker's Chevrolet and Patterson-Kelley scored victories in the Monroe County Softball league last night. Tucker's team won over Worthington Mower, 15-11, at East Stroudsburg Junior High school, while Patterson-Kelley shaded Line Material, 6-5 at East Stroudsburg Playground.

Winning Hurler

Larry Levy was the winning hurler for Tucker's, while Rev. Ernest Campbell and Marv Decker divided the losing chores for Worthington Mower. George Mickey was the winning pitcher for Patterson-Kelley and Ray Pensyl the loser for Line Material. Bill Lee homered in the fifth with one on for Patterson-Kelley.

Tonight's schedule calls for Union Printers and Eagles to meet at East Stroudsburg Junior High and Tucker's and IAM tangle at East Stroudsburg Playground.

Pale Hose Show Power Against Bosox

Chicago (AP) — In two mighty scoring thrusts of four and six runs, the sizzling hot Chicago White Sox smothered the Boston Red Sox, 10-2, for their fourth straight win in three days over the Red Sox.

This time it was Randy Gumpert, notching his fourth win without defeat, who tooled the victory that kept the White Sox three and one-half games ahead of the runner-up New York Yankees.

The Yankees kept pace with an 8-2 win over the Cleveland Indians.

Run Wild

Parading to their eighteenth win in their last 20 starts, the White Sox broke up a budding mound duel between Boston's Willard Nixon with a four-run outburst in the sixth inning which erased a 1-0 Boston lead.

Nixon, suffering his first loss against three wins, yielded to Boston ace, Mel Parnell in the sixth. But Parnell beat a hasty retreat after pitching a two-run homer to Jim Busby, his first of the season. Before Bill Evans and "Chuck" Stobbs finally got the side out, the White Sox had hammered seven straight hits and rattled across six runs.

Gumpert scattered eight hits so effectively, the Bostons got more than one safe blow in only one inning, the ninth when the Red Sox countered their second run.

Portland Host To Johnsonville

Portland—The only contest on the Blue Mountain League schedule will be held here tonight, with the cellar-dwelling Johnsonville club invading the home domain of the fifth place Portland Apollos. The contest is scheduled to get underway at 6:15 p. m.

Record

Johnsonville has lost all eight of its league starts this season, while Portland is currently sporting a record of three victories and a quartet of setbacks.

George Kays will probably do the pitching for Portland, while John Polinsky will undoubtedly be on the hill for Johnsonville.

Yankees Put End To Losing Habit With Verdict Over Indians In Final Contest Of Series, 8-2

Cleveland (AP) — The faltering New York Yankees finally came up with the unbeatable combination of good pitching and solid socking yesterday to rout Cleveland 8-2 and snap the sizzling Indians' winning streak at nine games.

Allie Reynolds, the big Cherokee righthander, tossed a five-hitter and his teammates backed him up with a 13-hit barrage, including homers by Yogi Berra and Bobby Brown and three doubles.

Breaks Spell

The victory broke the world champions' three-game losing spell and kept them three and one-half games back of the inspired Chicago White Sox who walloped Boston, 10-2.

Berra's homer in the second and Brown's four-bagger in the sixth enabled the Yanks to hold a 2-1 edge over Early Wynn for six innings. Then the Yanks broke the game wide open with two runs in the seventh inning, three in the eighth and one more in the ninth.

Dodgers Increase Lead In Senior Circuit With One-Run Decision Over Cardinals In Thriller

Brooklyn (AP) — Roy Campanella's double to center scored Carl Furillo from first in the ninth inning yesterday to enable the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers to nip the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2. It was the Dodgers' fourth straight victory and stretched their league lead to four and one-half games over the Cards.

The loss snapped the Cards' modest two-game win streak.

Homer Helps

Trailing 2-0 going into the last of the seventh, the Dodgers closed in on Gil Hodges, eighteenth homer of the season. They tied it up 2-2 in the eighth when George Munger, who had pitched fine five-hit ball through the first seven frames, tossed his lead away with an error.

Carl Erskine, who replaced starter Joe Hatten in the eighth, was the winner. Howie Pollet, Munger's relief, was charged with the loss.

Jersey Player Leads Field

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Miss Betty Park, Glen Ridge Country Club of New Jersey, will lead the Women's New Jersey Golf Association into the final round of its golf tournament here this morning, after touring the Shawnee Inn layout in 80 strokes yesterday. With the help of a nine handicap the straight shooting lassie finished the 18-hole grind with a 71 net score.

Miss Jean Carlson, Manasquan River course, was second with a net count of 72, on the strength of an 80 gross score and an eight handicap.

The Neilson Spring Tournament Trophy will be awarded to the player with the lowest net score at the end of tomorrow's action.

Mrs. Paul Geary was third in the net score standings at the end of 18 holes, using a 96 with a 20 handicap for a 76 score.

Other low gross scores in yesterday's initial round belonged to Mrs. William Hockenjos, Baltusrol, with an 82; Mrs. A. J. Bryant, Upper Montclair, 83, and Mrs. James Dorment, Montclair, 84.

Mrs. Hockenjos was the center of attention for most of the round due to the fact that the Baltusrol member was playing with a handicap of only three strokes.

Association Holds Tourney

Skytop—Dr. John Flanagan, Schuylkill Valley Country Club, moved out in front of the pack at the end of the first round of the annual spring golf tournament of the Philadelphia Senior Golfer's Association here yesterday, on Skytop Lodge's 18-hole layout.

Second place in the "A" division is currently held by Henry E. Snayberger, also of Schuykill Valley, with an 85 gross, 11 handicap and 74 net score. Flanagan's first place figures are 87-15-72.

Third Place

Third place is occupied by Harry Thompson, Plymouth County Club, with 86-10-76 figures. The remainder of the top six in this division are Al Ziegler, Springhaven, 90-12-78; George Pain, Rolling Green, 93-12-81, and Ralph Campbell, also of Rolling Green, and also with a score of 93-12-81.

Money Bill Submitted To House

Harrisburg (AP)— A $625,115,405 general appropriations bill to finance the bulk of Commonwealth operations in the next two years was submitted to the House yesterday.

In other years, the bill signalled the approach of adjournment of the Legislature. But it's a different story in 1951 because of the Senate deadlock on taxes.

Chairman Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) of the House Appropriations committee explained his introduction of the bill this way:

"The House has completed its action on taxes. Now it is ready to start work on appropriations."

The Senate is at an impasse on passing Gov. John S. Fine's proposal for a one-half of one per cent personal income tax because of the opposition of 11 GOP senators and 20 Democrats. The $119,000,000 measure cleared the House more than a month ago.

Chairman Leroy Chapman (R-Warren) of the Senate Finance committee forecast that the general appropriations bill, after passing the House, will be held up indefinitely in the Senate until the tax picture is cleared up.

The appropriation bill is $4,716,185 above Fine's budget estimates. Some $5,125,000 was added to the estimates but other items were cut by $1,198,350.

Proper Window Space

When the modernization of a house is contemplated, the size of the windows is a point to be considered. Small windows, unless they are on the sunny side of the house, are often inadequate for the proper lighting of a room. Small panes of glass in the sash are also less efficient than a window with single or double panes.

New York Butter

Mix Determines Concrete Strength

The strength of concrete is determined by the water-cement ratio. Under average conditions, the use of six gallons of water to one sack of cement and enough sand and pebbles to give a workable mixture will provide a strong watertight concrete.

If seven gallons of water are used to one sack of cement under the same conditions, concrete of much lower strength will result. But if conditions permit the use of only five gallons of water to one sack of cement, concrete of about double strength and durability of the seven gallon mixture will result.

Sloppy mixtures generally produce a weak, porous concrete. Mixtures that are too dry may result in a honeycombed concrete of low strength.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Take your time—that is, take time to evaluate properly, time to do a job well, not just finish it. And don't strain along the way, if you would avoid defects in the completed work.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Where you can help another to facilitate matters, solve problems or make easier the tasks of all, by all means do it. We always gain by aiding others. Smile.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Note admonition to Aries, it holds for you today. Don't try too hard, nor attempt too much. But neither should you shirk duties in the excuse that your day is crowded—be steady, ready.

June 21 to July 23 (Cancer)—Don't miss out by being cantankerous or moody—likely temptations. Save yourself headaches and stomach trouble by sleeping clear of argument and resentment. Be inwardly happy.

July 24 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Avoid harming health through anger—anxiety. Act, think logically and you will arrive at solid, logical gains. Take only honorable, practical heads into your confidence.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Look into your everyday habits for flaws that so often unwittingly upset the applecart. Could you not have left unsaid that criticism, or forgotten that other person's error?

September 23 to October 23 (Libra)—In a pinch a rightly developed Libra native can handle more than his—or her—share, and come out on top. Here—is a chance to show your mettle; although odds may be unknown. Keep smiling.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Not especially attractive for other than routine matters and work for which you are trained. But good endeavor and earnest trys always bring some sound returns. Don't discourage.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Activities and interests that require keen mental alertness are tops today, which suggests also that if intelligent management is maintained you should benefit anew in YOUR job.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—More finesse and delicacy today will bring surer results, and better. Difficult tasks, laborious work ask greater care, patience. AND, know what you are doing in investments!

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Day can be much as you wish, depending upon how you approach client or task and how you manage from there on. Don't expect great results, but do work earnestly, hopefully.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Aspects more favorable than otherwise so keep this in mind as you work, study, teach. Research, journalism, all-brain work under fine Mercury aspects. Have faith in YOU and your work.

YOU BORN TODAY: A natural leader, ambitious, ardent, generous. At times too flighty in fancy to give the real talented YOU a chance to perfect an undertaking before moving to another. Strive for inner contentment, patience. And keep right enthusiasm alive daily. Great variety of talents in Gemini, general capability, too, but proper consistency of effort and system are essential to success. Periods for complete rest and relaxation necessary for good health. Birthdate: Nathan Hale, Amer. patriot; Pierre Corneille, Fr. dramatist, poet; John A. Roebling, engineer, designer Brooklyn Bridge.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

GET ACQUAINTED
WITH THESE UNUSUAL FEATURES OF ROG'S RUMPUS ROOM

- The ultimate in Pocono atmosphere and decour
- The huge tree cross-sections imbedded in the bar room floor.
- The sunken dance floor.
- The "View-all" dining mezzanine.
- The Red Telephone at the entrance desk (I know that this is a silly feature, but I have had over 200 comments about it in one week). (Attention Phone Company: stock up on Red Telephones.)
- The menu that features only the unusual.
- The Kitchen that is staffed with experienced connisseaurs (and very temperamental!).
- The prices that compare.
- The orchestra music now playing on week-ends that is unique and fitting.
- The "Moon-Tip Terrace" where you can see all of the Poconos you read about in those fancy folders.
- Roger—the only head waiter in the country who cannot remember your name. (Horrors!)

Vacation Bible School Opens Next Monday

The East Stroudsburg Community Vacation Church school will be held June 11 to 24 in Grace Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg. Rev. William Wunder is the host pastor.

The daily sessions, Monday through Friday will convene at 9 a. m. and close at 11:30 a. m. The closing of the school will be held Sunday, June 24 at 7 p. m.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Vacation Church school, for many years known as the Daily Vacation Bible school. Special efforts are being put forth this year throughout the country to mark this half century celebration.

Rev. B. H. Hostetter, of the Christian & Missionary Alliance church of East Stroudsburg is dean of the school. He will be assisted by the local pastors and a selected corps of workers from the cooperating churches.

Two radio broadcasts have been arranged during the sessions of the school. They will coincide with the Design For Living programs of Station WVPO, on Friday, June 15 and 22.

The opening chapel services will be held in the auditorium of Grace Lutheran church. Miss Charlotte Herman will serve as the organist and the pastors and department heads will conduct the devotions and bring the morning Childrens' Sermons.

The average attendance of the school in past years has been slightly over 300 and the workers are anticipating a similar response on the part of the children this year.

Staff of this year's school includes:

Beginners, Mrs. B. H. Hostetter, superintendent; Mrs. Elwood Shiffer, Barbara Shiffer, Mrs. M. Finelli, Bernina Hostetter, Mrs. E. Werkheiser, Silvia Younkin, Betty Stiff, Mrs. Stanton, teachers.

Primary, Miss Mildred Deacon, superintendent; Mrs. Fran Wingerter, Mrs. Sara Bard, Lauretta Baucher, Eleanore Decker, Marlene Shatto, Charlotte Toewe, Connie Werkheiser; Dolores Keller, teachers.

Juniors, Mrs. Paul Cramer, superintendent; Mrs. Grant Keiper. Mrs. Arthur Wiest, Charlotte Herman, Joan Wallace, Mrs. Fred Fatzinger, Frances Naugle, Mary J. Williams, Connie Beers, Joan Fritz, teachers.

Intermediate, Mrs. Dewey Jacoby, girls; Larry Vail, boys.

Safety guards include William Strunk, Frank Schaller, Bernard Capuano, Paul Hoffman.

Portland

Mrs. Gwladys Carpenter
Ph. Portland 22-B

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Cramer and daughter, Pat, Mrs. William Healey and daughter Mrs. Ethel Seeley visited on Sunday with Mrs. Healey's son and family at Chester.

The Children's day services of the Portland Presbyterian church has been postpond until Sunday June 17 and will be held at the morning hour of the worship service. There will be no Sunday school on that Sunday. The offering on Children's day will be given to the Board of National Missions. Parents who desire baptism for their little ones will find this an ideal Sunday and should contact Dr. David R. Edwards at the Manse.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Levine and son, Sanford, of Elizabeth, N. J., are spending some time with Mrs. Levine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Effross and family on Delaware Ave.

Acheson Charges Mac Rejected U. N. Proposals; Chinese Reds Withdraw South Of Iron Triangle

Allied Tanks Drive Toward Assembly Area

Tokyo, Wednesday (AP) — Allied troops driving through intense artillery fire forced Chinese Reds back last night just south of their "iron triangle" in Korea.

It was the second time in 24 hours that furious Allied advances pushed the Reds into withdrawals.

Eighth Army armored columns overcame mud, Red gunnery and rear guard counterattacks as they rammed within less than 10 miles of the vital North Korean assembly area.

The Communists were forced to pull back last night north of Yonchon and Yongpyong in west and west-central Korea. The Allied columns thrust up roads leading to Chorwon and Kumhwa, the west and east anchors of the Red triangle.

The Reds had been pressured into withdrawals in the same area during the daylight hours yesterday.

Communist resistance began to weaken in the area, Eighth Army said today.

But it still was heavy in central Korea north of Hwachon, along another highway leading to Kumhwa. Even there the Reds had to give ground.

An Eighth Army staff officer said the minor Red withdrawals were "completely orderly and were carried out to secure better defensive positions."

In east-central Korea, other Reds put up a stiff fight near Inje. Three Red counterattacks were beaten back near Kansong on the east coast, where South Koreans have thrust more than 25 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Carrier-based and land-based planes teamed up in raids on both anchors of the "iron triangle." Land-based Marine jet pilots reported they blew up "several dozen buildings" and camouflaged trucks at Kumhwa.

Navy pilots from the U.S. carriers Princeton and Ben Homme Richard claimed they killed 75 Reds in an attack just south of Chorwon.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force reported its fighters and light bombers dealt hard blows last night at the Red buildup area just behind the battle line.

One of the air blows fell on Pyonggang, the apex of the triangle.

Allied forces punched out gains of nearly two miles.

AP Correspondent Stan Carter reported from the western front that Allied troops advancing toward Chorwon from the southwest received 200 rounds of artillery fire.

It was the most the Reds had thrown in weeks.

Forced Savings Report Denied

Washington, (AP) — Secretary Snyder yesterday denied reports that the Treasury is thinking of proposing any sort of "compulsory savings" plan.

"That is not the case — the Treasury has no intention of proposing such a program," he said in response to a news conference question. Some of the reports have come from members of Congress.

Snyder emphasized specifically that the Treasury has "no intention at this time for any other type of savings bonds" than it now offers, nor for a change in the bond sales campaign methods.

Solons Seek Hike In Expense Money

Harrisburg (AP) — A bill to increase the expense money allotted state legislators was introduced yesterday in the Senate.

The bipartisan measure would boost yearly allowances for both senators and representatives from $2400 a biennium to $3600. Pay scales of $3,000 a year would remain the same.

New Crisis Faces Iran

Tehran, Iran (AP)— Premier Mohammed Mossadegh was threatened with a new crisis yesterday from Fedayan Islam, secret Moslem society which boasts of a string of assassinations in Iran's stormy politics.

Hundreds of fanatical supporters surrounded the Tehran jail shouting for the release of Nyvab Safavi, fiery-eyed chieftain of Fedayan Islam. Leaflets were circulated threatening bloodshed unless he is turned loose.

The Majlis, lower house of Parliament, convened in an extraordinary session for the reported purpose of questioning the government.

Fedayan Islam also sent letters to the deputies demanding the dismissal of Deputy Premier Hussein Fatemi and accusing him of being a traitor.

Gable Fights Wife's Suit

Los Angeles, (AP)—Clark Gable yesterday turned his fourth wife's divorce suit into a court battle.

He filed an answer denying her charges of cruelty and contesting her claim to community property.

The actor said the former Lady Sylvia Ashley has a fortune of more than $1,000,000 and needs no financial aid from him. In their brief marriage, Gable said, all community funds were spent or pledged for payment of community indebtedness.

Community funds are those earned by either party during the marriage.

Mrs. Gable, one-time London showgirl and widow of Douglas Fairbanks, sued for divorce last Thursday. They were married Dec. 20, 1949.

Going Home To Die

San Francisco (AP) — Navy Seaman James H. Vowell, "the friendliest boy" in the 1948 Bruceton, Tenn., High school graduating class, is going home to die. The Navy said yesterday the 21-year-old youth is suffering from a tumor at the base of the brain and two operations have failed to stop its spread.

Cancer Girl All Smiles At Commencement; Speakers Look To 'Bright Future'

Atlanta, (AP)—A shyly radiant and lovely girl for whom life is nearly over was graduated from High school last night with 185 classmates setting out cheerfully to lick the world.

For cancer-doomed, 18-year-old Betty Thompson the brief road ahead held only uncertain hopes of a brief marriage to Sailor Tom Amburn and then death, possibly in the fall.

But last night Betty smiled gently and clapped hands with the rest as speaker after speaker talked of the bright future ahead, of young hopes and young courage.

It was like any other High school graduation, only this one was held in the municipal auditorium to accommodate nearly 2,000 friends and relatives of the Russell High school graduates.

Betty, seated on a sofa off to one side of the stage, happily watched her classmates file into the auditorium beneath an arch of swords.

Soberly Betty listened to honor student Martha Ann Hemperly declaim on "the challenge to abundant living" and announce that none in the class "is facing the future with gloom."

Nor did her expression change as Miss Hemperly observed that many were living the abundant life because medicine had "saved the lives of many people from disease once thought incurable."

When it came to announce class awards and to hand out the diplomas, Betty's brother, David, lifted her from the sofa to her place with the rest of the class.

She wore her engagement ring from Amburn tonight though he was confined to a naval hospital at Norfolk, Va., with a severe case of nerves.

Betty and Tom were planning to be married. When Tom went home to talk to his parents the Navy cancelled his furlough for leaving the place he had given as his emergency address.

Near the end of the program she was awarded a loving cup by her classmates for being the school's outstanding citizen.

School Bus Wrecked

Mt. Joy (AP) — A bus loaded with fifth-grade school children from Lancaster collided with a truck near here yesterday injuring 17 pupils, their teacher and five other persons.

Grads Take Shortcut To M. A. Degrees

St. Louis (AP)— Graduates of St. Louis University's school of law took a shortcut to education yesterday in an academic mixup which left red-faced school officials hiding behind their Latin books.

The students were delighted, for instead of bachelor of law degrees the entire class of 110 received diplomas for doctor of laws.

Maybe Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin had something to do with it. He was the commencement speaker and was given an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

The mistake wasn't discovered until someone read the Latin inscription on the graduates' diplomas after the ceremony. School officials want the diplomas back to make a change. Most of the graduates prefer the sheepskins they received yesterday.

Boy Carries Out Instructions All Too Well

Sesser, Ill., (AP) — Virgil Robbins decided to have his valuable pointer dog vaccinated against rabies last week but didn't have time to leave his implement store. He asked a small boy to have it done and gave him a dollar for the fee.

The lad took the dog to the city hall and told Police Chief Wilford Day that Robbins wanted the dog "shot." "Surely not," Day said, but when the boy pulled out the dollar for the job the chief guessed Robbins meant it. Day said he'd shoot the dog but would take no money.

The boy returned to tell Robbins what he had done. Robbins rushed to the city hall and found his dog, for which he had spurned a $300 offer, had been destroyed.

Many Packers Suspend Beef Slaughtering

Chicago, (AP) — Meat - packing plants in many cities throughout the country have reduced or halted beef slaughtering and meat industry spokesmen said yesterday a sharp scarcity could appear in butcher shops by next week.

The packers blamed the condition on a scarcity of cattle sent to market and their inability to buy in compliance with OPS ceiling prices.

In Washington, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle warned cattlemen they are doomed to disappointment if they expect him to rescind his recent order for a rollback on live beef prices.

DiSalle said he attaches no particular significance to the meat packers' action in cutting production, and predicted the situation will straighten out shortly.

"It's just an adjustment," he commented.

In another development, President Truman and his top stabilization chiefs conferred with western cattle raisers for 75 minutes late in the day.

The White House withheld any comment, but former Gov. Roy Turner, of Oklahoma, spokesman for the western group, told newsmen later:

"We are all very happy."

He did not elaborate.

DiSalle said a survey of 160 cities showed retail beef supplies equal to or larger than stocks of a month ago.

But the big packers gave a different picture of the situation at their level.

The American Meat Institute, representing most of the packing industry said beef production has virtually stopped in many plants over the country.

"If present conditions continue, beef will become increasingly scarce in retail stores and the scarcity will be sharply in evidence next week," the institute said in a statement.

It said packers are unable to buy cattle at government price ceilings.

House Shelves Non-Resident Wage Tax Bill

Harrisburg, (AP)—The Republican House dumped back to committee yesterday "hot potato" legislation that would exempt non-residents from payment of local wage taxes in Pennsylvania.

The action by a 143-48 vote was taken as the bill neared the voting stage in the tedious legislative process. That move usually means the death of highly controversial legislation.

Asked if sending the bill back to the House Municipal corporations committee means it is dead for the session, Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican House leader said: "I hope it is."

The measure is closely tied-in with Gov. John S. Fine's deadlock bill to impose a tax of one-half of one per cent on personal incomes. That measure, which passed the House, has languished for more than a month in the Senate Finance committee when eleven GOP senators refused to support it.

More Guardsmen To Be Called

Washington, (AP) — Gen. J. Lawton Collins said yesterday he expects two or three more National Guard divisions will be called into Federal service within the next year.

The Army chief of staff also told reporters that the remaining three regular Army divisions going to Europe will be on their way "in the next two or three months." They will increase American forces there to the equivalent of six divisions.

The General, just returned from an inspection tour in Europe, said he found U. S. troops "in excellent shape all along the circuit."

Dope Peddlers May Face Death

Harrisburg, (AP)—A bill imposing the death penalty on persons convicted of peddling narcotics to children reached the General Assembly yesterday.

The measure, introduced in the House by Rep. Edward Dunn (R-Northumberland) would make the death penalty mandatory for anyone convicted of giving or selling narcotics to persons under 21.

Three Planes Collide

Dayton, O. (AP) — Two propeller-driven fighter planes collided with a jet fighter yesterday, shearing a wing off the jet, and killing two Air Force pilots. A third pilot suffered injuries, and a fourth escaped unscathed.

AEC Discloses Plans

Louisville, Ky., (AP) — Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy commission, said yesterday the commission is about ready to give private industry authority to use atomic piles for producing power. He said many details remain to be worked out, however.

The Senator Answers!

(An Editorial)

Harrisburg (AP) — "There have been published reports that I am in favor of the proposed income tax," Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, (R-Monroe) said here yesterday afternoon.

"Such is not the case and I still maintain my stand as previously announced that there is no need for any additional taxes whatsoever.

"I still believe that by economies in government and reduction of ten per cent on all appropriations, sufficient savings can be made to take care of all existing demands," Senator Crowe said.

Out of the confused legislative grist of Monday's renewed meeting of the legislation, Senator Crowe was "reported" by the Associated Press (AP) to have decided to favor the income tax.

Early yesterday afternoon the Associated Press carried the above direct quotations from Senator Crowe which completely quashed the so-called "reports." Associated Press said last night they had not been able to contact Sen. George Wade, also "reported" to have turned in favor of the tax.

We, together with hundreds who wired Senator Crowe yesterday protesting any switch to the "sock-the-little-fellow tax," are happy that the "report" has been clarified.

The senator has been asked and he has answered. His answer displays that quality of constancy which is all too rare in most everything these days—but especially in seats of legislative action. We are proud to salute the Monroe Senator for sticking by his guns.

AFL Chief Demands Effective Controls Over Food Prices If Wages Are To Be Curbed

Washington, (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor yesterday demanded "'truly effective" controls over food prices.

Testifying before the House Banking committee, Green declared: "We cannot stem inflation by halfway measures.

"If the worker's wages are to be regulated, he has every right to expect that the prices of the foods he has to buy at the grocery store will be effectively controlled."

Green testified as the House group drove to wind up its hearings this week on President Truman's request for a two-year extension of the government's controls authority, embodied in the 1950 defense production act.

The law, hotly debated by many segments of the nation's economy in recent weeks, is due to expire June 30 unless Congress agrees to extend it.

Similar hearings before the Senate Banking committee are also scheduled to end this week.

Elsewhere on the economic front:

One — Rep. O'Toole (D-NY) said the ability of large department stores to slash prices in the current price wars in New York and other cities "shows they have been gouging the customer' previously.

O'Toole, in a statement to the House, demanded a congressional investigation of prices and profits on all foods, furniture, radios, television sets, clothing and "other essentials of daily living."

Two — The government reported that unemployment dropped to 1,609,0000 in May — the lowest figure since the end of World War Two — while employment jumped 1,148,000 to 61,193,000, the highest in six months.

Three — A tool industry spokesman, testifying before the Senate Banking committee, complained that labor "pirating" is causing small firms to lose skilled workers under the administration's wage freeze.

Safety Zone Plan Bared By Acheson

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson testified yesterday that Gen. Douglas MacArthur last November rejected an Allied proposal for a safety zone along the Korean-Manchurian border into which United Nations troops would not drive.

The secretary told senators this "demilitarized zone" was favored as a way to convince Red China the Allies had no intention of pushing into Manchuria or China.

He said the plan was backed by the British, French, Canadians and others but MacArthur did not think it was a good idea—and disapproved it. This was before the Chinese entered Korea in force.

However, Acheson said so far as he knew MacArthur did not violate military orders in sending troops to the Manchurian border.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, has accused MacArthur of violating policy by sending Allied forces to the border rather than South Korean troops.

MacArthur has testified that his mission as U.N. commander was to create a free and unified Korea and the only way he could do this was to destroy the enemy's armed forces or drive them out of all North Korea.

Presumably the Allied proposal was passed on to MacArthur as a suggestion and not in the form of a direct order. Most of the testimony in the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees hearing on the MacArthur ouster has been that the general was "meticulous" in obeying direct orders.

After Acheson completed his fourth day of testimony on Far East policy, Senator Brewster (R-Me) accused the secretary of a "bare-faced distortion" of U. S. China policy.*

The Maine senator said on the Senate floor that Acheson's review of China policy before the MacArthur inquiry group was "a miracle of contrived confusion."

Referring to Acheson's denial that State department officials had ever believed the Chinese Reds were just "agrarian reformers," Brewster said: "This is a very remarkable statement. It is either outright prevarication or else the secretary is ignorant of what State department foreign service officers were doing and saying in those days."

Earlier, Acheson declared the United States will not go it alone in seeking peace with the Chinese Reds — but will consult with the United Nations on all armistice proposals.

He said the present U. N. field commander could "bring about an armistice' 'in Korea but did not have authority to "work out a solution of the political problems of Korea.' '

Democratic Senator Gillette of Iowa promptly took issue with Acheson on this point and said: "I may say that I deplore your interpretation and repudiate it personally.

Gillette argued the U. N. has given the United States full command in the field in Korea and this government has authority to act "subject to a report to the Security Council and nothing more."

Acheson replied it was "very important" that the U. S. have "the enthusiastic and warm support" of all her U. N. Allies.

"The United States is endeavoring to follow the course which has tremendous international support," he added, "and is not contemplating taking unilateral steps of its own.' '

Fourth Firm Hikes Newsprint Price

Montreal (AP)— International Paper Sales Co., Inc., last night announced a $10-a-ton increase in the price of its newsprint, effective July 1.

The boost brings the price to $116 a ton in New York and $112 in Canada where there is an additional 10-per-cent sales tax.

International is the fourth newsprint company to announce a $10 raise.

Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Toronto, was the first to announce the boost. This was followed with similar announcements by Consolidated Paper Corp., Montreal, and Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Co., Quebec.

Borough Heads Entertained By Lions Club

Borough officials from Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap visited the local Lions club last night, on the initiative of Borough Secretary Harold Snyder, who is also secretary of the club.

Mayors Hal H. Harris, of Stroudsburg, and Forrest Smith, of Delaware Water Gap, headed delegations of their respective governments, all of whom were introduced by Secretary Snyder.

The speaker was Charles F. Ledecker, acting director of the Institute of Local Government of State College, who gave a talk on the borough form of civic organization.

He said that Americans take too much for granted the priceless institutions that have been handed down by the fathers and that among all such independent municipal government is among the greatest. He said that Russia or Hitler Germany could boast no such institutions. Hitler, as soon as he came to power, destroyed responsible municipal government and set up a dictatorship.

Good citizenship presupposes more than merely paying taxes and voting, the speaker declared. It also means that a person should take an active part in local affairs and be ready to stand for office, when the community needs such service. Local governments are the background of the nation. Democracy does not work unless all the people take part in it, he noted. Politics express human relations and Democracy must be strong at the grass roots right here at home.

Local citizens should seek to keep all possible local functions in possession of the home governments. For one thing this always saves money, he stated.

In the business session it was decided to have the annual club picnic on Sunday, July 15. Abeloff's lake is favored as the site for the event. A committee will be appointed.

All members were requested to work energetically on the sale of tickets to the coming circus, King Brothers. Installation of officers was set for the next meeting, June 12. They will take office at the first meeting in July.

Tom DeVivo reported on the outing for boys of the community conducted by the Lions and the Monroe Sportsmen's association at Snow Hill. He said that the attendance was large and that in addition to the fishing the youngsters enjoyed a feast provided by the clubs.

Examine Circuit For New Outlet

Before adding even one more outlet to existing electrical installations, a householder should check the circuit to prevent an overload.

The standard electrical code limits each circuit to 12 outlets except under a few special conditions. To determine how many outlets are on any one circuit, loosen the fuse for that circuit and count the number of outlets which are needed. If there are less than 12, it is safe to add another outlet.

If the proposed addition would cause this limit to be exceeded, it is necessary to run a new circuit from the fuse box to the new work. A qualified electrician should always be employed.

C. J. Rogalinski Dies At Home, North Bergen

Conrad J. Rogalinski, North Bergen, N. J., died last week at his home. Mr. Rogalinski was well known here. He spent a great many summers in the Poconos.

He is survived by his wife, Esie and a daughter, Mrs. John Theurer, New York City. Interment was made in Woodlawn cemetery, Bronx, N. Y.

Mrs. William A. Rogalinski, sister-in-law of the deceased, attended rites held at the Schlemm funeral home, Union City, N. J.

42 Arrests Reported During May

Chief of Police Arthur Swink, of East Stroudsburg, last night reported 42 arrests by east borough police during May and the collection of $285 in fines.

The 42 arrests included one for larceny, eight for drunken and disorderly conduct, six others for disorderly conduct, one for illegal parking, two for driving through red lights, 13 for excessive speeding, and 11 other stop street sign violations.

In addition to the $285 in fines collected for the borough, a peddler's license was sold for $25 and that revenue brought the amount turned over to the borough treasurer to $310.

First Grade Pupils To Enroll Here

A pre-school clinic for children who will enter the first grade in the Stroudsburg Public schools in September will be held two days next week at the Ramsey school. The first registration day will be Monday, June 11, with the second on Friday, June 15. In each case the hours will be from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p. m.

Roger A. Dunning, director of elementary education, announced that Miss H. Eloise Bryan, psychologist of the Stroudsburg schools, will conduct the clinic and will be assisted by the first grade teachers of Stroudsburg.

All children who plan to enter first grade next year, with the exception of the children who have completed kindergarten this past year, are supposed to register during one of the two clinic days. Definite appointments may be made by calling Mr. Dunning at 3483-R or Mrs. Russell Balmer, 1721. To be eligible for first grade children must be 6 years old before February 1, 1952, and parents are asked to bring birth certificates and vaccination records.

Dr. David F. Kohn, of Mt. Pocono, will be out of town from June 10th to June 17th, inclusive. —Adv.

Committee chairmen in charge of the program are Marge Evermon, class night committee; Georgia Russopulos, class gifts; Barbara Waltz, class prophecy; Maria Auffant, class will; Gary Emanuel, casting sub-committee.

Church Choir Enjoys Outing

Junior choir of St. John's Lutheran church held their annual picnic Saturday at the roadside rest on Route 611 near Bartonsville.

Those present included Robert Cathcart, director; Kay Shook, Ruth Fetherman, Martha Yost, Sandra Bolich, Laura Knapp, Judy Fisher, Sharee Kellow, Bonita Renninger, Jacquelyn Renninger, Margie Muehlhan, Evelyn Kishpaugh, Jeannette Munson and Mrs. Russell Decker.

Price Wars Spread On Light Scale

New York (AP)—Local price wars broke out across the nation yesterday.

Drug, department, jewelry and appliance stores slashed prices on nationally advertised fixed-price merchandise.

Their action apparently was touched off by New York's price battle which raged through its sixth day, bringing reductions ranging to more than 50 per cent. The war started after the U.S. Supreme court upset "fair trade" price-fixing.

"If Macy's and Gimbel's can do it, so can we," read an advertisement in Atlanta, Ga.

A similar advertisement appeared in Claremont, N.H., and the New Brunswick, N.J., Appliance Dealers association said it would peg prices on former fair-trade items at current New York levels.

Affected were housewares, drug and cosmetics, watches, pens, lighters, television sets and other articles on which manufacturers had set "fair trade" prices for retailers to observe.

But most of the major department stores outside of New York still were holding the line on these prices. Even where price cuts were made, they usually did not include all of the fixed-price items.

In few cases were the cut prices elsewhere matching those posted in New York City's hotly-fought price war.

Early Asiatic tribes sometimes established "wastelands" between their territories, both tribes keeping out of them to avoid clashes.

A new kind of relay helps keep America strong

The American Indians relayed messages with smoke signals. Then the Pony Express galloped mail from point to point. Today, tall towers can flash Long Distance calls across country by radio waves. But the relay principle is the same.

Radio relay antenna towers are generally on high ground about 30 miles apart. Each tower picks up microwaves from its neighbor, focuses them like a searchlight, and beams them accurately at the next tower. And hundreds of Long Distance conversations can ride the beam side by side.

Radio relay supplements wire lines, coaxial cables and other cables. It greatly expands Long Distance facilities. And it is especially valuable right now when America's telephones are busy around the clock on history's biggest job of defense.

Lieutenant Frantz Heaps Praise On Company G Men On Basis Of Test Results

Lt. George L. Frantz, Myrtle St., Stroudsburg, said yesterday on the eve of his departure for Camp Atterbury, Ind., and the 109th Infantry Regiment, that "the people here can be nothing but proud of their Company G unit."

Frantz, fresh from a special course in the Fort Riley, Kan., U. S. Army intelligence school, had been acting commander of Company G up to March 17 when he was assigned to special training at Fort Riley.

Now due back with the 109th for assignment and probable promotion to captain, Lieutenant Frantz yesterday cited instances which Company G topped not only all other companies in the regiment, but rated tops in the entire division.

Tests given every man in every company of the 109th for knowledge of basic training, found Company G rating first in the regiments. They rated first on marchouts.

Mortar tests show 13 out of 15 Company G men assigned to tests qualifying against one, two or three men in other companies.

Frantz, a veteran of World War Two with extensive battle action in the Pacific, enlisted in Company G not long after the end of the war. He left here second in command under Capt. Gerald Shanley and was acting commander when Shanley was moved up to a regimental post.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilmar Johnson, of Haddonfield, N. J., spent the weekend in the locality, making their headquarters with Mrs. Ruth Learn and visiting friends. Their daughter, grandson and son were also with them.

Mrs. James Besecker was hostess over the weekend to Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Pack, Mrs. Mary Robertson and Robert Brooks, of Brooklyn. The visitors spent considerable time at the home of Mrs. William Clugston, a sister of Mr. Pack. On Saturday, they drove to Tunkhannock, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cassiburi.

The Bake sale held by the ladies auxiliary of the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co., on Saturday at the firehouse was an outstanding financial success. Mrs. Laura Niering was in charge of the affair and was assisted at the stands by Mrs. Tom Rowe and Mrs. Jack London. The many cakes, candy, pies, etc., were all sold in about six hours and the women wish to thank all who so generously supported this affair. Two beautifully decorated cakes were baked and donated by the son of Mrs. Landis, and same certainly deserved the praise they received.

There will be a meeting of the ladies auxiliary of the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. at the firehouse on Thursday night, June 7 and the newly elected president, Mrs. Elsie Besecker, is asking members to turn out in full force, as there are many matters pertaining to the summer activities to be discussed. The annual dues of the organization are now in order to be paid.

Joy Ruchtie, the six year old daughter of Mr. John H. Ruchtie, who has been attending school at Brodheadsville, was promoted to second grade with an honor roll grading of 90.6. Joy has been staying for several months with Mrs. Hollis Sheeler, due to the prolonged illness and death of her mother, and Mrs. Sheeler has been of great assistance to Joy in her school work.

Mrs. Florence Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Specht, also Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gebhart, of Philadelphia, were visitors at the Lank home recently.

OILY BIRD WHO MIGHT GET THE WORM

The Valor of a Hero

There are many evil, sordid and cheap things in this life.

But too few of the genuinely heart-warming things get printed.

One was printed the other day—the story of Pfc. Robert L. Smith's reaction to some $121,000 raised for him by public subscription.

Pfc. Smith is 20—only 20. He's from Middleburg, Pa., and he's the first quadruple amputee of the Korean War.

For the sacrifice Pfc Smith has made there is no such thing as repayment. No reward could possibly match the fearful disaster war has visited on him.

Yet Pfc. Smith is everlastingly grateful for the money which has been raised for him.

But do you know what he wishes to do with some of it?

Turn it over to a fund to help other amputees—especially children who are handicapped in this dreadful fashion.

"There must be a lot of other people who are worse off than I am," he said.

"I don't want this money if someone else needs it more."

Which adds immeasurably to the glory of the man's character. And demonstrates how richly deserving he is of the relatively insignificant assistance people have given him.

Scrap Again

This country once more is running up against a problem that caused much trouble during World War Two—the scrap problem.

America's steel mills, with greatly increased capacity, are turning out more steel than ever before. But, to go on doing that, they must have a huge supply of scrap iron and scrap steel.

To that industry, scrap is a material just as essential as iron ore and coal.

Government officials warn that scrap stocks now are running "dangerously low," with some mills on a day-to-day basis.

These stocks, they say, should be built up rapidly this summer, against the winter months when collections fall off.

They urge railroads to tear up old tracks, auto wreckers to speed recovery of steel from dismantled cars, state and city governments to scrap such things as abandoned bridges.

As yet, they're not asking for a repetition of the wartime scrap-collection drives.

But it would be an excellent idea for everybody who can to start old iron and steel moving toward the mills by way of the scrap dealers.

For, without big and constant scrap supplies, the defense production program would be gravely handicapped and so would the effort to avoid a too drastic cut in production of goods for civilians.

The Senate's Water

For many years—nobody remembers just how many—the Government has bought bottled spring water for U.S. senators and the employes in their offices and committee rooms.

One theory is that the custom started at a time when Washington's city water was considered temporarily unsafe to drink.

Once started, it continued, at a cost estimated to have reached $18,000 a year. Only now has the Senate's Rules Committee decided, at the suggestion of Chairman Hayden, Arizona Democrat, to cut off the supply of bottled water.

For this small boon, the taxpayers can be grateful to Senator Hayden. He, or somebody, could give them cause for more gratitude by searching out and calling a halt to a lot of other Government expenditures which go on and on because nobody thought to stop them when their original purpose had been served.

On Manners And Morals

Jim Farley, the genius who made Franklin D. Roosevelt president of the United States when most thought that Al Smith should have been nominated, has devoted himself to many causes since his retirement from active politics. He now comes up in a new role of adviser to students who want to reach the hearts and minds of men.

As an adviser to ambitious youth, James Aloysius Farley should be invaluable, because he has been very good at reaching the hearts, if not altogether the minds of men. Also he has risen to heights of position and affluence by his own means. He has managed to become one of the best liked of human beings, receiving unstinted applause when he appears in public, particularly among a galaxy of candidates for public office who cannot understand why the applause evades them.

The answer perhaps lies in this remarkable paragraph in a speech Jim delivered at Ithaca College. This Chesterfieldian bit of wisdom is particularly pertinent at a time when both manners and morals seem to have suffered the onslaught of the vulgar. This is what Jim says:

"... A person who is concerned in persuading other people to do something or buy something or just to be friendly and helpful must have what I shall call good manners. Now good manners is something more than knowing how to hold your soup spoon or how to dress when you go to a church wedding. It is much more than a capacity to say the pleasant but insincere thing. It is much more than mere tact. It is to feel and, above all, to show that you have a genuine concern in others. It means caring for people, respecting them, treating them as equals and sharing their fears and earthly concerns and their ideals. When these matters are felt and shown there need be no fear about winning confidence and winning friends, for this attitude will make itself known in a hundred ways."

Another paragraph in this speech could be heard by President Harry Truman to his great personal advantage:

"... What I mean is the manifestation in all outward dealings with the public of a calm and friendly disposition. This is especially true in politics. We have learned in that very complex art that the most certain way that a man can defeat himself is to get angry. People are not interested in other people's angers. Anger does not attract; it repels. It causes the victim to say and do things that he would not otherwise say and do. He loses his balance of judgment. He makes mistakes. He reveals defects in his own personality and in his own ideas ..."

Harry Truman's great troubles —and the country's too—come from his temper which goes off like a fire-cracker on the Fourth of July. For instance, the very fatherly letter that he wrote to Paul Hume, the music critic, might, with better manners and a bit of humor, have been a classic of paternal solicitude. As it is, it was just a heated diatribe with a threat that is as illegal as it was vulgar.

Similarly, his dismissal of General MacArthur represents both lack of grace and a lack of humor. After all, General Douglas MacArthur is no shavetail. He surely deserves consideration for his age and his services. Even if there were cause for a change in Korea and Japan, it could have been accomplished with urbanity, with some regard to manners. As it stands, the President looks like the cock-of-the-walk who is going to show whomever where he gets off and who is the big shot around here. No matter where the truth may lie as to the issues, there can be no question as to the gracelessness of the act.

Perhaps, if Mr. Truman got Jim Farley to come back to Washington to teach him to count ten every time he is tempted to show them, the country would be happier and so might Mr. Truman be, unless losing his temper and exhibiting unfortunate manners are essential to his nature. If so, it is an unfortunate nature.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

John Mason Brown, working on a biography of Daniel Boone, learned that when the intrepid trapper was asked, "Is it true that in all your years in the untracked woods you never were lost?" he replied, "That's right, but I must admit I once was bewildered for five days."

In the early days of the medical profession in the Blue Ridge country, most doctors carried a stock of drugs in the bottles and jars on the shelves in their back rooms, and were not above filling their own prescriptions for well-heeled patients. This custom naturally created deep resentment among the owners of the drugstores in the vicinity, and a running feud developed on both sides of the fence.

In Mount Jackson, Va., one day, Sam Bissell appeared in Dr. Canfield's office with a stiff neck and flaming rash. "Done anything for this Sam?" asked the Doc. "Well, said Sam: "I dropped into Carson's drugstore and . . ." "And what did that arrogant, presumptuous renegade do for you?" interrupted the doc scornfully. Sam Bissell continued calmly, "He told me to come to you."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — After several less important appearances in films, Dinah Shore finally gets her big picture break. She's a star in "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick" —and a starlet fresh from such a crossroads couldn't be more excited.

It's the first screen performance by the Tennessee thrush since she sang a song in "Till the Clouds Roll By," four years ago. She has turned down other parts she didn't consider right.

In this one she's a crossroads widow pursued by a city slicker (Metropolitan Opera Baritone Robert Merrill) and defended by her hayseed admirer (Alan Young). She sings seven songs and even does a dance all around a three-room hotel set.

"I'm never happier than when I'm doing a dance routine," Dinah told me, but it's hard to figure when she's really ever unhappy. She "loves" radio, on which she appears three times a week. She's equally enthusiastic about television, on which she has appeared with Benny, Hope, and Berle. And about records, of which she has made around 200 in 10 years.

"But this"—Dinah indicated the biggest excitement is in picture-making— "this is a combination of all the others." She has no yen to do a songless dramatic role, however. Or more than one picture a year, which is what her new movie contract calls for, for the next seven years.

As Mrs. George Montgomery, Dinah added: 'It would be difficult to have two picture careers in the family all the time. This way it's a novelty, it's fun. We talk about the things that happened on our sets that day. But as a regular thing, I want to be home when he gets there."

George and Dinah cue each other in the study of next day's lines. He's working in a western at another studio.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington, June 5 — U. S. Communists and espionage agents, working the Kremlin side of the street, may have some tasty bait tossed their way soon to entice them to spill the beans about their Soviet bosses.

Federal judges recently, in peeling contempt of Congress plasters off the backs of sassy witnesses, have urged Congress to enact a law providing immunity to those who are stuffed full of Kremlin secrets but are afraid to talk lest they, themselves, wind up in the clink.

Right now a Kremlin stooge can tell a Congressional committee and even a Federal grand jury to mind their own business when they get nosey about Communist or espionage activities. Under present law a witness can't be forced to testify against himself if, in the opinion of the witness, the answers will lead to legal action against him.

The FBI either has to catch a spy red handed or talk him into confession before he can be prosecuted. A garden variety Communist has the same immunity from prosecution enjoyed by an espionage agent, and most of them lately have taken advantage of the fact.

All Congress has to do is to pass legislation granting immunity to witnesses who are willing to cooperate if promised freedom from prosecution. This in effect would be an extension of the time-honored practice of protecting states' witnesses. Most gangland prosecutions are based on granting protection to mob members who are willing to gab about their pals. The states' witness usually is promised either a parole or a light sentence in return for cooperation.

J. Edgar Hoover is on record in favor of Congressional action, which is good enough for me and should be for Congress.

One fly in the ointment, however, has been the reluctance of some Federal judges to take the cooperation of a friendly witness into consideration when passing sentence. In the recent Gold-Fuchs spy ring prosecutions a cooperative witness drew a 30-year term despite his willingness to spill the beans.

If Congress spells out the details whereby a witness can legally take advantage of immunity, there undoubtedly will be several startling results. A number of Communists are known to have cold feet, chilled as a result of the growing threat of war, and at the point where they would talk if they could do so without placing themselves in legal jeopardy. A number of atomic bomb scientists, who played hide and seek with Soviet agents during the war, would like to clean their skirts as well. Most of them have respectable teaching jobs now and, like all repentant sinners, they feel that cleaning their skirts would restore respectability and lead to a renewal of their teaching contracts.

Some critics of the proposal, which is about ready for submission to Congress, don't think it's worth the effort. They feel that anybody who cooperated with the Kremlin ought to be plunked in jail. Short of this possibility, they think the Reds should at least be reduced to living off the dole.

The bleeding hearts, of course, take the opposite view. They rend the air with passionate pleas about how wrong it is to persecute men and women just because they made a mistake about Russia.

It's a funny thing about the knot heads who prattle about Communists caught with their hands in the security files. Posing as doe-eyed liberals, these saps sweat out a lot of sympathy for criminals and creeps when they could be using that sympathy over some of the things that really count.

I've heard a lot of apologies for Communists in my time, including some sad bleating about Alger Hiss, but never have I heard one of these bleeding heart boors say a kind word for people in this country who are really in trouble.

Peddling His Papers

The Washington Special: The 14 Senators and 4 Congressmen (who inserted that many columns and radio editorials into the Cong. Record in about as many weeks recently) gathered in the Senate office of Les Biffle yesterdoon, where the Runyon Fund treasurer made a complete report on the progress in cancer research ... The President offered Robert Patterson Judge Learned Hand's Court of Appeals bench, but he could not accept. Judge Medina will probably get it ... When Federal Judge Augustus Hand retires in August Judge Sam Rosenman can have it, but he will probably take a rain-check ... Following his stirring speech recently at Virginia Military Institute, B. M. Baruch received a letter of congrats from the President. Meaning reconciliation.

Another reporter who won but did not receive a Pulitzer Prize is Clark Lee, who had the story of the Battle of Bataan — the story of the year in 1942— almost all to himself ... Editors at the American Newspaper Publishers' Ass'n Convention stood in tribute when his name was mentioned ... Clark Lee followed up Bataan by covering Coral Sea, Midway and Guadalcanal. He had a record Five bylined stories in a single paper—and two stories on one front page of the N. Y. Times ... The Pulitzer Prize that year, however, went to an obscure epic on the Savo Island Battle.

Associated Press boss Kent Cooper, one of the Pulitzer Prize Committee judges, we hear, told correspondent Lee: "I had everything all lined up for the meeting at Columbia University. The votes all fixed for the prize to go to you. But I had a slight headache. So instead of going up there I went home and had a couple of martinis. That's why you didn't get the Pulitzer Prize, kid."

Clark Lee put on his hat and quit AP for Int'l News Service.

One way to get the Pulitzer Prize according to veteran newspaper aces, is to have publisher Roy Roberts of the Kansas City Star on your side ... When the voting was on for the 1945 prize Pulitzers, Roberts made a rather desultory nomination for his fellow townsman, Hal Boyle of AP ... Arthur Krock, the N. Y. Times' Washington man who thought his "exclusive interview" with Truman merited the prize for himself the other day, remarked: "Whoever heard of Boyle?" ... Angered, publisher Roberts hustled around and got the votes for Boyle, who was well deserving of the award.

This year Mr. Roberts cut in his Associated Press friend Relman Morin on the splinter prize ... The source for all of this P.S.'s: "Morin made a hit-run visit to Japan and Korea."

One of the news mags quoted Christian Science Monitor editor E. D. Canham: "Objective journalism is basically wrong; the facts need careful interpretation."

This Personal Journalist discovered that stale fact more than a quarter of a century ago. Objective reporting is not only basically wrong — it is agonizingly dull.

The effect of the gambling investigation is mounting ... Two big connecting links between politics and crime have been convicted in New York, and the tremendous crowd of indictments are going to make international headlines ... But the Sweepstakes Winners were publicized throughout the nation the other day.

The ironic result of the Kefauver investigation is this: It has forced the professional gambler to cover, but it can't drive the winning amateurs off the front pages.

Capt. Charles F. Blair, who flew over the North Pole the other matinee from Norway to Fairbanks, Alaska, and back home to New York, was so crowded for space he carried some of the gasoline in the wings ... His only cargo was 3000 letters ... These trans-Polar letters, the first North Pole airmail in history, were a gift from Capt. Blair to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund ... All you stamp collectors and hunters of historic souvenirs: What are we bid?

Capt. Blair calls his one engine converted plane The Excalibur, the name of King Arthur's flaming sword ... That, too, is the symbol of the fight against cancer.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Anonymous letters usually go into the wastebasket but today I received one that not only gave me several good chuckles but it contains a lot of good common sense.

The writer, who lives in Norristown, Pa., signs herself only "Old Maid Philosopher" and tells me that she is quite far along in years.

I wish she would let me know who and where she is. I would like to meet her and tell her how much I enjoyed her letter.

Let me give you a few extracts from it. You won't agree with everything she says, neither do I. But it's worth reading.

"What is beauty of face or figure? I know a woman, now elderly, who in her younger days was considered a good looker. She never gave her prettiness any thought. She had the good sense to make the most of what nature gave her; had a flair for clothes, and while she had little means, bought only a few very good clothes of becoming color and style and good material. She had a lively disposition, a good sense of humor—yet a remoteness and dignity which forbade a too familiar intrusion. Now an old lady she is still noticed in every gathering or crowd. She is never jealous of others nor critical. She never prates religion but practices it."

"I think I am a fairly good Christian, but personally I don't turn the other cheek.

"Never have I looked for trouble and until I was fourteen did not take my own part. And didn't the other school mates take advantage of that fact! Suddenly I became another person and after I walloped a few, life became more peaceful and a lot more comfortable. By turning the other cheek one only encourages the bullies who go through life trampling on the weaker."

"Douglas MacArthur is my style of a man and I subscribe to his philosophy of interpreting and dispensing Christianity. With Marshall, Acheson and a few more top brass it is pure jealousy, and with Truman plain pigheadedness and egotism. At first I was all for the little man, as I knew he had a long, hard row to hoe, but now he is too much of a bantam rooster. Getting mean and struts. The more MacArthur's detractors blather, the bigger he looms. He counted the dead and wounded, while they talk appeasement. Appeasement, God, how I hate that word.

"That bunch in Washington are SHOUTING to Russia 'We are afraid of you.' Where is the spirit of '76?"

"A neighbor had a little shaggy white and black dog, named Teddy. No pedigree, but heaps of loyalty, love and an unbounded joy of life and fun.

"One day Teddy was hit by a car. Teddy's mistress ran to his side and just stood dazed. Lying on his side, dying, Teddy looked up at her and lovingly, joyously, wagged his tail several times in farewell. Then Teddy was still.

"When my turn comes to traipse over the Great Divide, may I, too, go out as gallantly as Teddy, on to a great new adventure."

And so on — six pages of thoughts from a woman who is nearing the "Great Divide," yet seems to enjoy every moment of the present "Adventure."

Here is another reason I want to meet her.

She says that our Connecticut mosquitoes "are larger and more enterprising" than those in her Eastern Pennsylvania.

Since she is so right in her other observations, she may be right about the mosquitoes, too.

So I want to visit her home, take along some Connecticut samples and compare them with hers.

The Once Over

Phillips

By H. I. Phillips

First Aid to Race Probers—A legislatice committee is taking a look-see at New York race tracks to see how racing operates. We are glad to offer some help in obtaining the Facts of Life at Horse Ovals:

1. The contests are for horses bred for speed and for racing addicts bred for endurance, gullibility and erraneous deductions.

2. The horses run from five and a half furlongs to a mile and three-quarters. The fans run much farther. A horse pops an osselet, bows a tendon, or breaks a leg and has to be retired. A bettor can suffer all four without weakening.

3. Horses begin race at the age of three and usually are thru at the age of eight. A race addict rarely seems to develop beyond the age of three and is through only when in the hands of eight pallbearers, seven of whom are still listening for inside information that he may yet snap out of it and stage an upset.

4. A race horse lives on choice oats and selected hay. (A bettor should live so well!)

5. The ponies race under weights, conditions and classifications. It is realized that there are limits to what they can accomplish on a given afternoon. A race track addict acknowledges no such limitations.

6. Weights are used to give every horse an equal chance. The fans do about the same, loaded or not.

7. Horses wear special shoes. Fans are lucky to wear any.

8. Interest in racing is sustained by huge purses. A horse can earn $100,000 for two minutes work. A fan may work all his life for it, even as an optical illusion.

9. The horses are ridden by a strange race called jockeys. They are too small to take a horse out of a park and yet big enough to show inclinations in that direction.

10. Betting is done by mutuels machines. A mutuels machine operates the same as a sausage grinder, except that the meat goes back to the butcher. It is a hamburger apparatus with a built-in cash register. It offers the only medium by which a man can spend an afternoon in a cement mixer and have it come under the head of outdoor sport.

11. To place a bet you go to a window. These windows are mostly on the ground floor to discourage jumping.

12. Suspense is added to racing by a photo-finish. A photo-finish is taken whenever two or more jockeys finish within telephonic communication of one another.

13. Racing is called the Sport of Kings but it is supported by Deuces Wild and Jacks Back to Back. It has raised to a high art the practice of talking out of one side of the mouth, and developed a race known as Whisperers Anonymous.

14. First race starts around 1:45 p. m. Wrong information begins around 6 a. m. All aboard!

East Stroudsburg Council Formally Organizes Sewer Authority

Five Citizens Appointed To Membership

Formal establishment of the East Stroudsburg Sewer authority took place last night as the east borough council adopted an ordinance signifying intention and desire to incorporate the body.

The ordinance authorizes the five-member body to acquire, bring about, maintain, operate and manage a sanitary sewage disposal system for the borough of East Stroudsburg and other areas as may be designated.

In the instrument presented for council's approval last night by Atty. Charles R. Bensinger, L. J. Kleinle, chief burgess; other borough officers and the members of council designated the five members of the authority and the length of their respective terms.

Dr. R. Fred Jones, 116 Washington St., was first named as a member for five years, while Carl T. Secor, 219 E. Broad St., supervising principal of East Stroudsburg schools, was designated as a four-year member.

Horace G. Walters, 751 Milford Rd., production manager for Paterson-Kelley Co., was placed in the three-year term, while B. K. Williams, 86 E. Broad St., head of B. K. Williams Co., was named for the two-year term. Rudy Manheim, 59 S. Green St., tavern and restaurant operator, was selected for the one-year term.

Attorney Bensinger explained that the first four named were placed in that order alphabetically, while Manheim was appointed to the fifth position on the authority board only last night.

He further explained that, under the 1945 law establishing municipal authorities, the five appointments must vary from one to five years in duration, although each member may be appointed to another term on expiration of his first.

The portion of the authority law pertaining to boroughs also stipulates that the authority board in this instance comprise five members. The law is definite, the attorney said, adding that no maximum or minimum number of appointees is prescribed, but that the law clearly states five members are required.

The ordinance passed last night gave the authority the go-ahead signal for all future sewer planning, and directed that the establishment of a sewage treatment works for the borough be the initial duty of the appointed body.

Now that the authority has been formally organized, it is empowered to meet and to select their own secretary and solicitor.

Three other ordinances — each ordaining and establishing lines and grades for streets—were also passed by the council last night.

First of these set up grades, lines and width of Harrison St., while the second ordained and established Grandview St., as a part of the borough's street network. The third street ordinance pertained to Rose St.

Each of the three included provisions for the laying of sidewalks and other future improvements.

Borough Engineer Edward C. Hess reported an odor condition on Milford Rd. near the Miller store, after which council authorized him to proceed with plans for installing a drain basin and trap at that point.

A motion to advertise for a new compressor for the street department was also passed. It was presented by Councilman Elton P. Hall and Russell Yoch.

Erection of a sign to prohibit heavy truck traffic on Maple Ave., was discussed, and it was also pointed out that a similar condition exists on Braeside Ave., where a restriction sign was placed several years ago. Lettering on the Braeside Ave. sign has since become obliterated, one councilman said.

Ives Wants To Know Where $17 Billions Are Going

Washington, (AP)—"Seventeen billion dollars!" said Senator Ives (R-NY) in a voice of awe. He shook his head, waved his glasses and said it again: "Seventeen billion dollars!"

That's what Congress will be asked to vote in foreign aid this year and next, the senator said—and how in thunderation can Congress find out where the money goes when the administration "tells us as little or as much as it cares to disclose?"

"'Just give us the money,' they tell us in effect. 'We have plenty of facts and reports and we shall be delighted to make them available to you—that is, of course, to the extent that it suits our purposes,'" Ives declared.

He had a remedy: Pass a law setting up a 12-member commission to study the handling of all the government's "overseas activities." On this body would be four senators, four House members and four people named by the President from the Executive branch.

Ives, testifying yesterday before a Senate subcommittee on expenditures, said the merits of the bill were obvious. And yet, he said, "virtually all the agencies which comprise the executive branch of the government have taken a solid stand against it."

Just about then Secretary of Commerce Sawyer came in. He said it might be a good idea for Congress to do some investigating—might save the taxpayers some money on foreign spending. But he couldn't see the need for a separate commission.

"It would be just one more Federal agency," Sawyer said, there are enough agencies now. I should think Congress could get all the information it wanted through its already established subcommittees."

Ex-President Hoover's Commission on Reorganizing the Executive Department has recommended a good, hard study of foreign spending. One of its reports said "confusion, inconsistencies and uncertainty" attend the various programs now.

East Borough Council Okays Play Program

East Stroudsburg borough council unanimously endorsed a long-range playground and youth program revealed last night in its formative stages by a committee representing the Citizen's Playground committee, the East Stroudsburg Exchange, the school board and the council.

Details of the program were not covered when the committee, headed by Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of the east borough Methodist church, appeared before the council last night.

Rev. Eaton explained that this is our first "but probably not our last appearance before you. We just came to see if we're on the right track."

He urged members of council to be mindful of the recreational facilities available to the youth of the borough, and emphasized the importance of playground work.

Assisted by W. Adolph Rake, who is chairman of the Exchange club's city planning committee; Horace G. Walters and Carl T. Secor, the delegation chairman then referred to their proposed program.

Much of this is still in the "thinking" stage, the minister explained as he apologized for a lack of details. But his remarks indicated the playground group is studying operation of the borough playground from a long range view.

At one point when Rev. Eaton repeated that the committee came seeking only council's endorsement at this time, Councilman Roy F. Lloyd observed that "we're all behind the program; all we have to do is sell it to our neighbors."

Councilman Jack A. Wyckoff introduced a motion endorsing the visiting committee's playground program, and it was passed unanimously after being seconded by Councilman Elton P. Hall.

In other business last night, the council awarded a bid for a new heating system for the municipal building to H. L. Cleveland, of East Stroudsburg. Cleveland had presented a bid of $3,262 for installation of a coal burning stoker system.

A higher bid for installation of an oil burning system was dismissed, after council members decided that that type of system would be more expensive to operate.

While considering its street repair program for the year, council noted that proposed resurfacing of Birch St., curb and gutter repairs to Sopher, Yetter and Grandview Sts. and work on Brookside Ave. will cost the borough approximately $11,271.

Reimbursements from property owners bearing a portion of the expense of curb and gutter work will reduce this to an $8,021 net cost.

A Yoch-Hall motion authorized that the Sopher, Yetter and Grandview St. curb and gutter work be put out on bids, while another approved the scheduling of S. Courtland St. for needed repairs.

A Hall - Gilliland motion to adopt an ordinance of application for county aid was also passed before adjournment.

16 Seniors To Graduate

Tannersville—The 16 members of Pocono Township High school's graduating class will receive their diplomas today. Commencement exercises will be held in the school auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

The commencement address will be given by Dr. F. W. Maroney, dean of Brooklyn College, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The valedictory address will be given by Joan Riley and the salutatory address by Eleanor Romansky.

Diplomas will be presented seniors by Dr. Edward Horn, president of the Pocono Township Board of Education.

Boys Register For Day Camp; List Vacancies

Registrations for the YMCA summer day-camp are coming in "very briskly," according to Harvey E. Burris, YMCA boys' work director.

He said there are a number of boys registered for each of the two-week periods, but he noted there are a number of vacancies left in each period.

Mr. Burris asked that registration blanks be mailed to the YMCA day-camp director, Monroe County YMCA. He said a dollar should accompany each registration.

Conferees Agree On Aid To India To Avert Famine

Washington (AP) — House and Senate conferees came to terms yesterday on a bill to lend India $190,000,000 for famine relief.

Under the compromise measure, the money would be used to buy 2,000,000 tons of grain and other basic foodstuffs in the United States.

The measure now goes to Senate and House for final approval.

The conferees eliminated a provision of the Senate bill which would have required India to make repayment in part with monazite sands, an ingredient of atomic research, and other strategic materials. They adopted the language of the house bill, which instructs loan negotiators to try to obtain some strategic materials, but not on an arbitrary basis.

Prime Minister Nehru has announced that India would be forced to refuse help if any political strings were attached to it.

Women To Fill Defense Jobs

Cincinnati, (AP)—A government official said yesterday 2,000,000 jobs must be filled by women and others in the country's defense program by the end of 1952.

The official is Mrs. Helen B. Sater, special field representative of the Women's bureau, Department of Labor.

Addressing a regionol social hygiene conference, she said:

"These two million extra jobs must be filled by women, older persons, the handicapped and workers from other nations.

"As the present emergency continues and the full impact of defense production makes itself felt, the number of women workers—now 19,000,000—is expected to increase to a point never before reached in this country, to a number above the 20,500,000 women in the labor force at the peak of World War Two."

Davis Weiss, Historian, Dies At 83

Brodheadsville—J. Davis Weiss, 83-year-old Monroe county historian and former justice of the peace, died yesterday at 5:30 p. m. in his home here.

For over 38 years Mr. Weiss was Chestnuthill township justice of the peace. In his younger days he taught school for over 15 years.

He served one term as Monroe county merchantile appraiser and was township constable for a number of years.

Always interested in folk lore and local histoy, Mr. Weiss amassed abundant and valuable information over the years and became known as an authority on Monroe county history.

He was the son of the late George and Lavina (Mosteller) Weiss, Brodheadsville and graduated from Fairview Academy here. He was a member of the Brodheadsville Reformed church.

Surviving are his wife, Mary, at home; one daughter, Mrs. Edgar Sittig, Shawnee-on-Delaware, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p. m. at the Edgar Hamm funeral home here. Rev. C. Clyde Levergood, of the Cherry Valley Methodist charge, will officiate.

Explosions Rip Plant

Stony Point, N. Y., (AP) — Wall-buckling explosions and fire ripped through a big chemical plant yesterday. There were no immediate reports of serious injuries, but several persons were treated for flash burns.

A spokesman for the company, Kay-Fries Chemicals, Inc., said the work shift was just changing as the series of blasts jolted the plant, and that all of the employes were believed to have escaped.

The explosions knocked out the north side of the metal-walled plant, which sprawls over a half acre of land, and turned other parts of the structure into hot, bulging ruins. The roof collapsed.

Furious flames, fed by huge vats of chemicals, swept the building for more than three hours, as fire trucks and other equipment from a half dozen surrounding communities battled the blaze.

The body of the brittle star, a deep sea dweller, varies in size from two inches down to a pinhead.

Smithfield School Awards Diplomas To Ninth Graders; Exercises Scheduled Tonight

Minisink Hills—Twenty-first annual graduation of Smithfield township school was held last night.

For the first time in the school's history there will be a double commencement this year. Last night's exercises were for ninth graders who will be going on to High school.

Tonight at 8 there will be another commencement for eighth graders. Because of crowded conditions, the school will no longer have a ninth grade and eighth graders will also be leaving for another school.

Several awards were presented last night.

The Smithfield PTA music committee award was presented to Bunnie Jane Bartholomew and Gerard W. Wendt, who tied for the honor. Mrs. Ruth Shook presented the awards.

The DAR good citizenship award went to Benjamin Hartmann. Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr. made the presentation.

Bruce Huffman received the Charles Palmer Davis current events award. It was presented by Mrs. Margaret Heller.

Diplomas were presented by Raymond Hartmann, president of Smithfield township board of education. Congratulatory remarks were made by County Superintendent John C. Litts.

The address of welcome was given by Gerard Wendt. Roger Hartmann gave the 1951 class memorial.

Poems were recited by Raymond Anuskiewicz, Benjamin Hartmann, Joan Kresge, Ann Yetter, James Kunkle, Richard Zukawski, Harold White.

Music was provided by the Smithfield school band.

The girls' ensemble sang "Flag of Our Land."

Instrumental selections were played by Bunnie Bartholomew, flute solo; Carol Burnley and Gerard Wendt, trumpet duet; Bruce Huffman, saxophone solo; Fred Severud, baritone horn solo, and Carol Burnley, Yvonne Lambert, Fred Severud and Gerard Wendt, who played with a brass quartette. An instrumental ensemble from the band played a march.

Bangor VFW May Sponsor Drum Corps

Bangor—Dyle E. Bray Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, meeting in monthly session last night discussed formation of a drum and bugle corps.

Milford Weidlich was named chairman of the committee to investigate the possibility.

Others named to the committee are James Nicholas, Fred Miller, Michael Altieri, John Pellechia, Kenneth Dutt, Ed Kistler, Ed Finkbeiner, Edgar Hess and Wally Correll.

Group voted to purchase 1,000 rounds of ammunition. The post firing squad, under the leadership of Edgar Hess, was given permission to attend the funeral of LeRoy Cruver, late of Mount Bethel.

Mr. Weidlich, past commander, was introduced as the new Northampton county commander of the VFW. He was recently elected.

Commander Luther May was in charge of the meeting.

Housewife's Reach Basis For Design

Cleveland, O.—To build the kitchen cabinets to serve the housewife's reach and the kitchen to fit the family are aims of the newest program of functional design of the kitchen, reported by Mrs. Mary Koll Heiner of Cornell University to the American Home Economics association here.

The continuous counters and overhead cabinets with many shelves now in vogue are not all that is needed to streamline working conditions for the housewife, says Mrs. Heiner. The body mechanics of the woman putting away the dishes and taking out the roast must be considered first.

The new concept of functional kitchen design uses the same methods which decrease fatigue and increase output in industry—changing the design of the man's work place to fit his normal and mixiмum reach.

The "body economy" value of each new kitchen storage design must be measured by reliable standards, such as are being developed now, reported Mrs. Heiner.

"The problems of an aging population indicate the need for less stooping and reaching and for better visibility," the speaker continued. "These aspects of more function design are equally important in youth. Age merely accentuates the problems."

Shiny Finish For Fixtures For Pictures

Want to clean your brass and copper fixtures, furnishings and ornaments, so the finish will last for years?

A veteran polisher of the building service squad at brass-framed Rockefeller Center gives this advice:

"Go down to your drug store and buy 15 cents worth of oxalic acid. Put the powder in a quart jar. Fill with water. Mix well. Dip your cleaning cloth into this mixture and then into some powdered pumice stone—you can get this at a drug store. Rub the cloth briskly over your metal, then wipe with a clean cloth. Your metal should gleam.

"Then dip another clean cloth into clear lacquer—make sure it is lacquer—and pat it over the metal's surface, covering it completely. Don't use a brush.

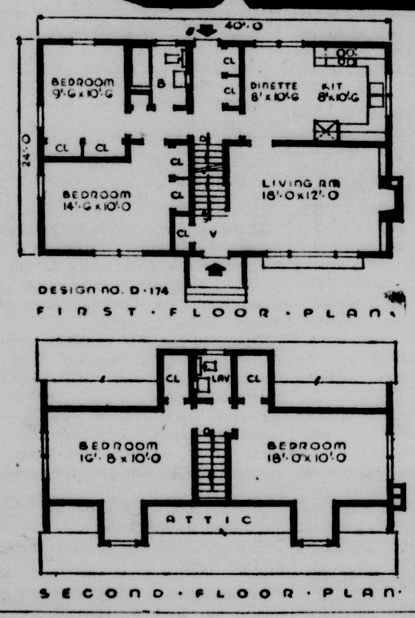

"Now the finish should last three or more years . . . without polishing."

"Oh, yes," he adds, "when after years, the finish does become dull again, use a little paint remover to take off the old lacquer, and repeat the entire process.

Fuse Blows, Lights

The hunt for that fuse that just blew out is eliminated by one of those simple twists of electrical science. A tiny incandescent lamp has been added to the fuse. Now, when the fuse goes out, the lamp goes on.

THE DAVIS has a narrow rectangular plan with a gable room which presents the most economical framing with consequent savings in carpenter labor. Main supports in this plan run through the center allowing use of short lengths.

First floor provides a kitchen-dining room, living room, two bedrooms and bath, with two more bedrooms and bath on second floor. All rooms are well supplied with closets.

Other features include full basement, picture window, fireplace with book shelves, open stairs, linen cabinet and recessed tub.

Exterior finish is siding, asphalt shingles, brick chimney, concrete steps, iron railings, shutter and flower box.

For further information about THE DAVIS, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Mend Roof With Good Compound

A roof that leaks all over can be given a coating of heavy asphalt and asbestos compound, which will fill up cracks and nail holes and preserve the roof for several years. However, before this coating is applied, all curled and broken shingles should be replaced or repaired.

If the leak is centered, it can be located by looking at the underside during a rainstorm. It is very likely to be at the junction of two surfaces—a valley or the joint between a chimney and the roof, or where a dormer is cut through. In this case, the fault is probably in the flashing, but if it is in the middle of a large roof area, it is likely to be from a curled or loosened shingle.

Cost To Decline

Mass production of air conditioning equipment is now getting well under way, and improved methods of distribution are expected to result in further savings to buyers of home or apartment air conditioning equipment, the Refrigeration Equipment Manufacturers association reports. The industry now has the capacity to produce two to three times as much equipment as before the war.

Outdoor Fireplaces

Outdoor fireplaces are found frequently in modern gardens and are no longer confined to the picnic grounds. This feature, popular on the west coast for a long time, is becoming a favorite with the garden enthusiast throughout the country.

Closet Space Lack Leads Complaints

Builders might benefit if they had an opportunity to hear home owners voice their grievances over defects in dwellings.

As suggestions for builders and contractors, a magazine recently conducted a poll of those features of a home—or lack of them—which irked home owners most. Lack of closet space was the complaint voiced most often, with an inadequate supply of electric outlets next in the voting

Third in the unpopularity contest was uneven distribution of heat, while other complaints included poor kitchen arrangements, drafts, rooms that provide no wall space for furniture and rooms that lack sunlight.

Families with children complained about lack of space for keeping toys, and a universal protest against inefficient hot-water heaters was sounded. Garage doors that don't work were among the unpopular items, while a large number of feminine votes went to the house that is inconveniently arranged for care and upkeep.

Other items on the list of grievances against builders included refrigerators not large enough to store the family food supply, drain pipes that clog, lighting fixtures that glare, basements that flood with every rain, garages too small for ease of movement, pipes that rust, dark hallways and stairways, screens that rust and weak water flow.

Advertise in The Daily Record.

Efficient Contractor Cuts Costs

The importance of obtaining the services of a general contractor rather than a home builder parceling out each contract himself cannot be too strongly stressed.

An efficient general contractor will save the builder money at every turn. One of his principal tasks is to co-ordinate construction. If works stops at one point it usually delays workmen all along the line. This is costly. A good contractor keeps material moving on schedule from supplier's to site. he sees that workmen deliver a full day's work and he knows how to avoid friction between unions and individual workmen.

Shoulders Details

Compliance with city ordinances, building codes and other laws is additional detail a general contractor takes off the shoulders of the home builder. Without a competent, financially responsible general contractor it is difficult to obtain financing for a home.

There will be no misunderstanding if everything is placed in writing.

PMF To Hold Sessions At Pocono Manor

Former State Sen. Andrew J. Sordoni of Wilkes-Barre, last night announced that the 45th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Motor federation with 57 member AAA clubs throughout the State, will be held on Monday and Tuesday, June 11 and 12, at Pocono Manor inn.

Pre-convention activities will get under way on Sunday night with the president's reception and dinner for members of the federation's executive committee, according to R. B. Maxwell, of Harrisburg, secretary-manager of the PMF.

Business sessions will be called to order on Monday morning by Mr. Sordoni and delegates will be welcomed by Gerald P. O'Neill, president of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the Monroe County Automobile club.

Business sessions will be concluded the following morning with the election of officers and the nomination of directors to the American Automobile association from the federation.

Walter Fossa will represent the Monroe County Automobile club at the meeting.

Large Elm Tree Cut Down Here

A sharp whirring sound emanating from N. Eighth St., near Main, Stroudsburg, attracted a sizable group of curious passers-by shortly after 3 p m. yesterday.

The mysterious noise proved to be that of a power saw eating its way into the trunk of a large elm near the Eighth St. curb at the side of the John F. O'Neil resident, 800 Main St.

A crew from C. G. Bush and Sons, East Stroudsburg RD 3 tree specialists, were cutting out large chunks of the standing trunk after dismembering the top of the tree, limb by limb.

John Steiger

John Steiger Graduates At Susquehanna

Newfoundland — John Steiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steiger, South Sterling, received a bachelor of arts degree in business administration at graduation ceremonies held Monday at Susquehanna University.

An alumnus of the Greene-Dreher High school, Steiger also was graduated from Keystone Junior College, where he majored in accounting. His extra-curricular activities there won him membership in the honorary Keys society. He also participated in basketball and was editor of the Keystonian.

Steiger entered Susquehanna in 1949 and became affiliated with the Christian association, the Business society, Bond and Key, and was recently nominated and accepted in the National Association of Cost Accountants. He was the managing editor of the Susquehanna, student newspaper, vice president of the Business society and played on the junior varsity basketball team.

Dr. C. S. Flagler will be out of town June 10 to 14.—Adv.

District 3 To Sponsor Bible School

Tannersville—Plans have been made for the community Daily Vacation Church school to be held in Pocono Township school from June 11 to 22.

The dean of the school is Rev. Garnet L. Zimmerman and the school is sponsored by District 3, Monroe County Sunday School association.

There will be classes for pupils between the ages of three and 15 years. The Beginners' class will be in charge of Mrs. Paul Shaffer. Miss Nita Warner will be teacher in the Primary department. Mrs. Robert Frailey will be in charge of the Junior group, and Miss Annabel Niering will be the teacher in the Intermediate department.

The district will again furnish transportation from all areas of the townships included in District 3.

Mrs. Paul S. Shaffer, teacher of the Beginners' department, will be in charge of the music. The assembly programs will be conducted by the various groups of the school.

Two Meetings Slated Tomorrow

Meetings of the Monroe County Production and Marketing administration and the county Agriculture Mobilization committee, both scheduled for yesterday, were postponed until tomorrow.

Mrs. William Bolcar, secretary for both groups, said the PMA board will meet at 10 a. m. Thursday and the mobilization committee at 1:30 p. m., the same day in the PMA office at the county court house.

War Bride Joins Family In U. S.

Pittsburgh (AP) — A young Polish war bride faced a big job yesterday — getting acquainted with two of her children.

Maryla Stiefvater, 26, was reunited with her daughters — Sharon, three, and Christine, two — after almost two years of separation and yards of immigration tape.

The Polish woman was a waitress at an officer's mess in Germany when she met Thomas Stiefvater, then serving in the U. S. Army of Occupation.

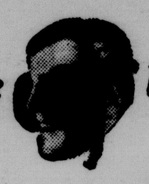

The couple married and had two children. In 1948 Tom was mustered out of the Army and brought Sharon and Christine to Pittsburgh. Maryla stayed in Germany to await the birth of Thomas Jr.

School Work Continues For Boys In Ag Class

Although schools are closing for the summer, vocational agriculture boys from Monroe and Northampton counties still have plenty of homework to do.

"Their school work doesn't stop in June," W. B. Frisbie, vocational agriculture supervisor, explained. "The boys have already begun productive enterprises in farming and farm practice."

A total of 168 boys from these two counties are undertaking 314 projects this summer. Some boys are carrying as high as eight projects; average for the two-county area is two.

During the summer they will have to keep up planning charts, keep a complete labor and cost account record of each project.

A total of 156 boys are conducting productive projects—those having some home use or which will yield a product for sale.

Schools taking part in the program are Bangor, Chestnuthill, Pen Argyl, Pocono, Polk, Stroudsburg.

MR. AND MRS. Harry Bond look reflective as they think back over the fifty years of their married life, while the picture at the right shows their five sons, all together. It was a gay family party, however, held last night in their honor.

The Harry Bonds Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Appenzell—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bond, of Appenzell, yesterday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a family party at their home. Their four sons and their families were all home for the celebration, and bouquets, cakes and a radio were among the gifts presented to the Bonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Bond were married in Tannersville by Rev. D. W. Le Crone, and lived for five years in Pittston, but for the past 45 years have made their home at the present home near Appenzell.

They had five sons, four of whom are still living: Ernest, LeRoy, Donald and William. Their fifth son was Reginald, who died. There are six grandchildren including Loretta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bond; Lorraine, Curtis and Harry, children of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bond; Donna Lou and David, children of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bond, and one great grandson.

Farewell Party Is Given By Mrs. Wilson

Mrs. Sarah Wilson, of 1 North Ninth St., Stroudsburg, entertained last night in honor of a friend, Mrs. Jane Wilson and son, Larry, who have made their home on Broad St., South Stroudsburg. They will leave on Friday for Wheeling, West Virginia, where her husband is now employed.

The table was decorated with orange blossoms, and games and refreshments were enjoyed by the guests who included Mrs. Murtle Long, Mrs. Mary Stallmer, Mrs. Anna Cramer, Mrs. Myrna Garris, Mrs. Hazel Schwartz, Mrs. Edith Christman, Mrs. Olympia Christman and daughter Barbara, Mrs. Martha Bonser, Mrs. Hattie Lasher, Mrs. Florence Henning, Mrs. Lena Wilson, Mrs. Hannah Dody, Mrs. Alice Beaujan and daughter Yvonne, Miss Eleanor Brown and Miss Doris Brown.

Flory Class Meeting

The Flory Sunday school class of the Stroudsburg Methodist church will hold a social on Thursday, June 7, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Ed Snyder, Thomas St., Stroudsburg.

Miss Catherine Ervey

Miss Ervey Graduated At Mansfield

Miss Catherine Ervey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ervey of East Stroudsburg, was graduated last week from Mansfield State Teachers College where she majored in public school music supervision.

A graduate of East Stroudsburg High school in the class of 1946, Miss Ervey worked for a year before entering Mansfield where she was active in many extra-curricular activities.

She was elected to Lambda Mu, national society of musicians, was a member of the college symphonic band, orchestra and glee club. Performed with the College players and was a member of the Women's Athletic association, the YWCA and took part in the May day play.

She will be supervisor of vocal music in all twelve grades at the Hackettstown, N. J., schools this September.

St. Mary's Guild Entertained At Girard Home

St. Mary's Guild of the Christ Episcopal church was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of the Misses Aimiee and Lucie Girard, Bryant St.

Mrs. Walter Angle presided at the business session with Mrs. J. E. Arnold giving the opening prayer. Gratifying reports of the successful rummage sale and spring luncheon were given. Further improvements to the parish house were discussed and a committee was appointed to study the matter and make suggestions.

Mrs. A. Starr Phelps reported on additional projects suggested by the Woman's auxiliary of the Protestant Episcopal church.

There will be no July meeting.

Parents Have Party For Second Grade

Mrs. Ethel Farleigh's second grade was given a party by their parents on Tuesday afternoon at school. Mrs. Sumner Lee Bossler gave three readings "Counting Eggs," "Guiseppe Buys an Automobile," and "The Class in Elecution."

Mrs. Farleigh was presented with a tray from the children with Marjorie Drake making the presentation.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. Russell Balmer, Mrs. Sumner Bossler and Mrs. James Kitson assisted with the party.

Children attending were Marjorie Drake, Robert Bechler, Veletta Davis, Billy Bartron, Carol Copenhaver, Laura May Hall, Carl Cyphers, Douglas Kitson, Glydia Yoch, Dorothy Bond, George Taylor, Lee Bossler, Viola Counterman, Susan Balmer, Karlene Baechtold, Susanna Harl, Donald Henry, Betty Ann Ace, John Eschenbach, James Farry and Billy Campbell.

Ball Game Marks All-Boy Birthday Party

Brian Farris celebrated his 8th birthday with an all-boy party held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Farris, 107 South 8th St., Stroudsburg, on Monday, June 4.

A complete dinner was served to fifteen boys, his classmates and neighborhood pals, at the Farris Home. Each boy received a red baseball cap as a favor and at 6:15 the entire party adjourned to the playground for the Little League baseball game in which one of the party, Barry Trethaway, was playing for the Security Trust Co. team.

Guests included John Savidge, Jimmy Gougher, Donald Grover, Russell LaBar, Billy Schoch, Russell Schaller, Ronald Walker, Alfred Strouse, Robert Haigh, Carl Kohl, Jay Harman, Stevie Jones, Rickey DePuy, Barry Trethaway, and Brian Farris.

June Wedding At Parsonage, Tannersville

The parsonage of the Evangelical and Reformed church at Tannersville was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, June 2 at 2:30 p. m., when Miss Martha Ridgeway, of Pocono Pines and Philadelphia, and Rudolph Henry Montbellier of Fort Lee, N. J., were united in marriage by the Rev. J. M. Shellenberger in the presence of twelve relatives and close friends.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Dora C. Field, of Pocono Pines, and the late Archie Lyle Ridgeway, wore a champaign colored lace dress with brown accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Riddagh of Philadelphia. Mrs. Riddagh wore spring-green embroidered organdy accented by a corsage of yellow rose-buds.

The bride's mother was attired in navy with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Montbellier is a graduate of Tobyhanna Township High school and Bethlehem Business College, and is employed by Farm Journal, Inc., of Philadelphia. The groom, son of the late Albert and Elizabeth Montbellier of New York, is employed by Hill's restaurant in that city.

A four-course dinner was served to the wedding party of fourteen at five o'clock, after which the bride and groom departed for a destination of their choice. They will be at home to their friends after Labor day.

Card Party Open To All On County Republican Day

All Republican Women of the county are invited to be the guests of the Council of Republican Women at an informal card party to be held on Tuesday afternoon, June 10 at Shawnee Inn, preceding the banquet on Thursday night.

Mrs. William W. Gorman, chairman of the card party, announced yesterday that all women whether they plan to attend the banquet or not were invited. There will be prizes for both bridge and canasta. Play will begin at 2 o'clock, and women may reserve tables if they wish though it will not be necessary.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, it was another one of those days, with everything happening at once and enough stories to fill social pages. And the thing is that no matter how much you get in, a lot of the colors are faded by the time you read it.

Can't put into print the happiness in Mrs. Bond's voice for instance when she was talking about their golden wedding party last night. And we should have mentioned too, that her mother, Mrs. Kresge, is alive to see how well her daughter's marriage has turned out. Over ninety she is, too.

Can't get down on paper the tears that mingle with the graduation rejoicing. However Bunnie Bartholomew's tears weren't all happy ones last night since her mother was taken sick yesterday afternoon and was in the hospital for Bunnie's graduation from Junior high.

Can't let you taste those fancy cakes that the Misses Girard served to the guild yesterday afternoon, or make you feel the satisfaction the Sisterhood felt at their dinner party.

However, if you could read between the lines of our day-to-day stories there'd be no need of soap operas or magazine cereals. And when you're really living it as we will be tonight at Nan's graduation, well who's got time for television?

Bridal Shower For Miss Cramer At Kresge Home

A bridal shower was held at the home of Rachel Kresge, Dreher Ave. Stroudsburg on Thursday, May 31, in honor of Miss Mildred Cramer.

Miss Cramer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cramer of East Stroudsburg and is to become the bride of John Fetherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Fetherman of Stroudsburg in late summer.

The bride-to-be received many gifts which had been arranged on a table decorated in white and pink. Assisting Mrs. Kresge as hostess was Mrs. L. W. Fetherman.

Other guests included Lois Aschel, Lorraine Cramer, Gertrude Kintner, Frances Plattenberg, June Fenner, Shirley Merwin, Jean Anthony, June Strunk, Nancy Miller, Nancy Van Why, Mary Heller, June Bamka, Frances Schaller, Olive Spring, Rose Schaller, Jane Dennis, Mrs. Ralph Fetherman and Ruth Gordon.

Games and cards were followed by refreshments.

Brownies Hold Mothers' Tea Investiture

A Mothers' Tea was held on Monday during the regular meeting of Brownie Troop No. 1 at the Presbyterian church, Stroudsburg.

Button flowers decorated the invitations which were made by the Brownies at the previous meeting. Singing games and songs were part of the entertainment, and the mothers participated in "Why Doesn't my Goose"—a popular fun song.

Joanne Dippre, Kathleen Edinger, Sandra Tretheway, Anna Gower and Ellen Spring looked into the pool, saw themselves, and were invested as Brownies. They received their Brownie Pins, and all gave the Brownie promise and sang the Brownie song.

Refreshments prepared by the Brownies were served and the meeting closed with the Girl Scout Goodbye song.

Those present were Mrs. Claus Jordan and Judy; Mrs. Helen Dippre and Joanne; Mrs. Ann Edinger and Kathleen; Mrs. Robert Haigh and Linda; Mrs. Robert Schell and Margaret; Mrs. Edward Warnick and Kay; Mrs. William Henry and Dianna; Mrs. George Spring and Ellen; Mrs. Sherwood Gower and Anna; Mrs. Elton J. Dening and Bethany; Mrs. Francis Grover and Donna; Mrs. Jack Tretheway and Sandra; Mrs. Lida Hauser and Brenda Torzillo; Jacquelyn Torzillo; Faith Zahoric; Dianne Yutz; Helen Louise Thomas; and Mrs. Frederic and Mrs. Roger Acker, leaders.

Frantz Will Mark 92nd Birthday

Stewart Frantz of Lennox Ave., East Stroudsburg, is today celebrating his 92nd birthday in the house he built 55 years ago. At that time it was the third house on "the flats," which is now pretty well built up.

Moreover it cost him $528 to build, he recalled, with the $28 for the foundations. It has served him well, and he brought up seven of his eight children there.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Amos Frantz, he was born in Snydersville, and worked in the limestone pits when he left the Snydersville school. At 21 he was working in Bethlehem, where he was when he voted for Garfield for president.

Later he moved to Stroudsburg and worked as a farmer on the Flory farm, now included in the town limits. There are four children still living: Mrs. Lewis Heiney, of Stroudsburg; Mrs. Bessie Miller, Allentown; Jesse Frantz and Lewis Frantz with whom he makes his home.

Candlelight Installation For Gradales

In an impressive, candle-lit ceremony Monday night at the YMCA the new officers of the Gradale Sorority for the coming year were installed and the new members were inducted. Mrs. Henry Kresge, advisor; Mrs. Jean Farry, Prima; Mrs. Evelyn Tweedie, Tribune; Mrs. Mary Scheller, Quaester and Mrs. Dot Andress conducted the ceremonies.

Mothers of the new officers witnessed the induction in which Mrs. Marie Catudal was installed as Prima, Mrs. Pat Dean as Pro Prima, Mrs. Audrey Wilkins as Tribune, Mrs. Grace E. Grace, as Quaester and Mrs. Dot Shields as Historian.

The new members joining during the past year in attendance were: Marion Burke, Janet Rodenbaugh, Dot Possinger, Jean Heller, Kay Sweeney and Beatrice Steinmetz.

A Past President's pin was presented to Mrs. Louise Gage by Mrs. Jean Farry, the retiring Prima. Mrs. Farry expressed her appreciation for the cooperation by everyone during the past year.

The Club Fernwood was chosen as the place for the annual banquet on Monday, June 18. All members desiring to go should meet at the YMCA on the night at 6:30. Reservations should also be made with Mrs. Marie Catudal.

Refreshments were served by the committee.

WSCS Officers Installed At Local Church

The new officers of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Stroudsburg Methodist church were installed by the new minister, Rev. Walter S. Johnston at the meeting held at the church on Monday night.

Mrs. Ray Welsh, retiring president, introduced Mr. Johnston, and after the installation, Miss Catherine Wolverton, the new president, took up her duties.

The meeting opened with devotions led by Miss Ruth Pipher, assisted by Mrs. Randall Roberts, with Mrs. Merlin Rutt as pianist. Silent prayer was given in memory of Mrs. Ralph Bisbing, an officer of the organization. Mrs. Walter S. Johnston and Mrs. Rhoda Wagner were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. Welsh was presented with a gift from the society by Mrs. Rutt, and the program included a talk by Mrs. Nelson Frantz on the Near East with a moving picture following "South of the Clouds" and "Bridges Into the Future."

Refreshments were served by the hostesses with Mrs. Earl Pipher as chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Robertson, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. H. Ray Saunders, Mrs. Alfred Repp, Mrs. Irving Price, Miss Ruth Pipher, Mrs. Laura Powers, Mrs. Randall Roberts, Mrs. Jerome Reinhart.

Ruth Hussey Accepts Role As Laurel Blossom Time Queen

Actress To Be Crowned At Dance

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Ruth Hussey, glamorous screen, stage radio and TV star, will be crowned Queen of the 1951 Laurel Blossom Time festival in Pocono Mountains at the revival of the annual Laurel Blossom coronation ball in Shawnee inn here the night of June 20.

Miss Hussey confirmed the appointment here on June 20 in a long distance telephone call with Mrs. Rowena Stephens, owner-operator of Pocono playhouse, Canadensis, where Miss Hussey will appear in the near future.

Preceding the grand coronation ball involving a court of 18 beautiful Laurel Festival princesses who will serve in Miss Hussey's Laurel Festival court, four of the fashion world's greatest authorities will collaborate to stage a spectacular fashion show.

Walter Fossa, who announced Miss Hussey's acceptance of the Queen role, last night, also gave details of the fashion show. It will star these designers and fashion experts:

Ceil Chapman, outstanding designer of exotic evening and cocktail gowns, who recently designed most of Elizabeth Taylor's wedding trousseau, will stage her particular specialty . . . a show of evening and cocktail gowns.

Emily Wilkins, authority on young misses dresses and author of widely read books on good grooming for young ladies, will display hits for many young people.

Alan Graham, just returned from Paris where he was with Jacques Fath, foremost designer in Europe, will deliver the Parisienne flavor and viewpoint on fashions.

Clair McArdle, who is best known for sports clothes and bathing suits which best typifies the American girl, will have a display of latest sports clothing including bathing suits such as are worn by vacationers in Pocono Mountains.

Attractive, professional models will be utilized by all the experts.

Women of the Poconos will see the glamorous fashions shown in the main lounge at Shawnee inn. The show will consume about one hour starting promptly at 8 p.m.

Coronation ball starts promptly at 9 p.m. with Tommy Tucker's band of the year playing for dancers. Dress is optional. Tickets now on sale and moving very fast throughout the Poconos region are $5 per person. Proceeds will be devoted to a permanent Laurel Festival fund.

Laurel Queen will be crowned just before midnight.

Two more high school princesses were announced yesterday. They are:

Gloria Hansen, Greene-Dreher High school, Newfoundland, was announced as princess representative for that school by Joe Jacobs, principal. She's 16, five feet six inches tall, weighs 134 pounds, blonde hair and green eyes. Miss Hansen is a senior and was Queen of May this year.

Joyce Carol Hill, Hawley High school, was selected to represent that region of the Poconos as princess. She's valedictorian; received a scholarship at Lebanon College of Music and has won the DAR medal for outstanding citizenship.

Two additional nominees for the princess contest division were also announced yesterday. They are:

Betty Waltz, employe at Hotel Sterling, Sterling, Pa. She just completed senior year at Cornell, majoring in mathematics. Miss Waltz is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority and sang in Sage Chapel choir at Cornell.

Mrs. Bettsy Gaunt, 21, who is an employe of First Stroudsburg National Bank, is the other nominee. Mrs. Gaunt has light brown hair and green eyes. She is in the clerical contest division.

Pictures of all the contestants are on display in the E.A. Bell Insurance Co. window, Stroudsburg.

The United Nations Flag was adopted by the General Assembly on Oct. 20, 1947.

Death Valley is the lowest land surface in the western hemisphere.

POSTOFFICE INSPECTOR Joseph J. Kinane (right), Chipperfield Drive, Stroud township, was honored last night by Monroe County Postmasters' association at a dinner at Rhodes Inn, Scotrun. Speaker was Major Thomas E. Morrison, left Signal Corps depot, Tobyhanna. Louis DePaul, Mount Pocono postmaster and association president, is shown presenting Mr. Kinane with a gift. D-Day Occurred Seven Years Ago

Utah Beach, Normandy, (AP) — High French and Allied officers came to this strip of sand last night where history was made seven years ago.

It was the eve of the anniversary of D-day, when Allied troops swarmed over the English channel and battered their way into Hitler's "Fortress Europe."

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is due today to visit this area, for the first time since the war, and honor the soldiers who lost their lives here June 6, 1944.

Honor Roll Unveiled At Kresgeville

Kresgeville — Unveiling services for the Polk Township honor roll and dedication of a new lunch room were held Sunday at the township high school.

Services were under the direction of Mrs. Russell Shupp, president of Polk township memorial committee.

Principal speaker was Howard Mount, past commander of Thomas P. Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was introduced by James Gould.

Unveiling ceremonies were in charge of Mrs. Stanley Dunning, mother of a veteran; Mrs. Leon Werley, a Gold Star mother, and Mrs. John Souders, who substituted for another Gold Star mother who was ill.

During the unveiling, taps were played by William Andrews and Kathryn Griffith.

Edward Doney, a member of West End American Legion post, was in charge of dedication services for both the honor roll and lunchroom.

During the ceremony selections were played by Polk Township High school band, under the direction of Jay Albright, student leader.

Rev. Alton P. Albright, of Pleasant Valley Reformed charge, was in charge of the devotions.

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles.

We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving.

So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true.

We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be.

We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics.

We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides—at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale.

But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS.

One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflow Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price.

We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty.

We might claim—you'll find more room—more comfort—more luxury—a smoother ride—more conveniences—more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field.

But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own.

And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Special Golf Tournament Planned For Shawnee Course

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

There seems to be more interest each day in a baseball league that would enable kids between the Little League and American Legion ages to play the game in organized fashion and under proper supervision. If a team, group of teams or a league of this nature isn't formed this summer it is almost certain to become a reality next year. If the Exchange Club doesn't form such an organization, there are reports making the rounds that a group of adults, independent of clubs, will band together to do what they can for these boys.

It would be a shame to see the work done by the various Little Leagues go up in smoke, as boys passing their twelth birthdays would have to remain idle for a couple of years before being able to join the American Legion ranks. If the youngsters could be kept in action, under proper supervision, they would certainly help the baseball fortunes of both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools in future years.

Russell "Buck" LeBar, one of the greatest supporters of athletics at East Stroudsburg High school and a former employee of Hughes Printing Co., reports to Camp Kilmer, N. J., on Saturday, where he will depart for an unknown destination in Europe. LeBar is currently home on a seven-day delay enroute leave. LeBar passed on the information that Randy Morris, Russ Staples and Bill Quinlan, all former East Stroudsburg High athletic stars, are currently stationed at Camp Stoneman. Pittsburgh, Calif., where they are awaiting sailing orders for the Far East.

Staples played football, basketball and baseball at Eastburg, while Morris was a member of both the baseball and basketall squads. Quinlan will also be remembered as a member of the Pocono A. C. basketball machine, when Doug Schoonover coached the organization's entry in the Blue Mountain Basketball League. George N. Kemp American Legion Post baseball team is short of funds and could use some donations if anyone feels so inclined.

Foul play was noted during the first day of action at the newly constructed Delaware Valley Speedway last Sunday, when some unscrupulous character put blasting sand into the gas tank of a stock car owned by Harold "Bub" Learn. Tannersville, and Kenneth Werkheiser, 6th. St., Stroudsburg. The sand virtually ruined the machine's entire engine, but this column was informed last night that the car will be ready to run again this week, after many long hours of labor on the damaged engine.

Jolley's Auto Exchange, Stroudsburg Body Works, Taylor's Sunoco and Heller's Garage put the car together for Learn and Werkheiser and keep it in running order. However, the sand incident put all hands to extra work and took away an opportunity of winning some prize money from the drivers. The incident took place sometime between the first and third qualifying heats and according to reports received last night, the person who did the deed is about at the end of his ropes.

Frank Radler, outstanding pitcher and manager for the Stroudsburg Poconos during the past three campaigns and current pilot of the DeLand entry in the Florida-State League, underwent surgery recently for an ailing pitching arm and a growth the size of a marble was removed. The object had been pressing on a nerve and gave the hard working right hander plenty of pain. Radler now carries eight or nine stitches in his arm, and every follower of the DeLand club is hopeful that the surgery will return the hurler to active duty very shortly.

DeLand is currently two games behind the league leading Orlando club, while holding down the number two spot. DeLand recently won two straight games from the first place club, one by a 12-0 count. Radler's crew also had a seven-game winning streak snapped recently by the Sanford club, currently holding down seventh place in the standings. Radler's arm trouble will undoubtedly cause a great deal of concern in Monroe County, where he became a great favorite with both diamond fans and non-fans alike during his tour of duty with the Poconos.

Mike Rubish, golf professional at Glen Brook Country Club, played baseball with such present and former major league stars as Joe DiMaggio, Joe Gordon, Charley "Red" Ruffing, George Dickey, Walt Judnick, Jerry Priddy, Ferris Fain and Bob Dillinger, while stationed in Hawaii during World War II, with the Seventh Air Force. Mike also played on a football team at the same base which featured 13 or 14 all-Americans and several pros. Rubish at one time held down an end position with the Washington Redskins, of the National League. However, Mike's one and only love in the sports world remains golf, a game he started playing as a kid. Rubish has made a terrific hit as a pro at the local club during the early portion of the present season.

Pirates Find New Power To Blast Out Total Of Twenty-One Hits For Favorable Verdict, 8-0

Boston (AP) — The last place Pittsburgh Pirates supported Paul La Palme with a 21-hit attack as he shut out the Boston Braves, 8-0, last nightafter drawing his first major league starting assignment. It was the fifth straight setback for the slumping Tribesmen, who were limited to five safeties.

The lefthanded La Palme, brought up from Indianapolis two weeks ago, is a former Braves' farmhand. He did not permit an opposing hitter to get to second base until the ninth inning, when Walker Cooper singled after Bob Elliott walked.

Paced by George Metkovich with two doubles and as many singles, the Pirates left 18 base runners stranded to equal a major league record first set by the 1905 Pittsburgh club.

Billy Meyer's previously luckless forces fattened their batting averages at the expense of starter Johnny Sain and three others. Ralph Kiner clouted two doubles and a single and Hank Schenz, Wally Westlake and George Strickland also totaled three hits each.

As far as the Braves were concerned, the game was over when Metkovich and Kiner each doubled in the third inning. Sain was driven to cover in the fifth, when the Pirates built up a 6-0 lead.

Konstanty's First Start Of Season Results In Loss For Phillies At Hands Of Chicago, 3-2

Philadelphia, (AP)—Jim Konstanty, making his first starting appearance since he lost the world series opener, 1-0, to the New York Yankees last fall, failed again last night as a starter as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2.

The loss put Konstanty's log for the season at two wins and five defeats. He was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth inning after allowing all the Cubs' runs.

The Cubs won the game in the fourth. A triple, two doubles and a single produced their three runs.

Bounce Back

The Phils bounced back in the fifth with two runs, but brilliant pitching by Bob Rush turned them back in the late innings when they threatened to knot the score.

The game ended with Ed Pellegrini perched on third base with the tying run. He was running for Willie Jones who had tripled, missing a home run by inches.

The Phils' bespactacled relief pitcher was no puzzle to the Cubs as a starter. They tagged him for nine hits in the five innings he worked, and he was in trouble in the first and third before Chicago finally pushed across its winning runs.

A great peg by Richie Ashburn cut down a Cub runner at third base in the first and a fast double play killed off a potential Chicago rally in the third.

In relief, Russ Meyer held the Cubs to two hits in the last four innings, but his heroic effort came after the damage had been done.

The Phils two runs were unearned. Del Ennis opened the fifth with a two bagger, the first hit off Rush. After Jones walked, Granny Hamner bounced one in front of the plate.

Browns Trip A's Behind Garver, 10-1

St. Louis (AP) — Picking up two runs in each of the first three innings the St. Louis Browns backed up the masterful four-hit hurling of Ned Garver for a 10 to 1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics last night. It was Garver's eighth victory.

Garver was hitting as well as pitching, knocking out a single and a double and batting in one run.

Hits Hard

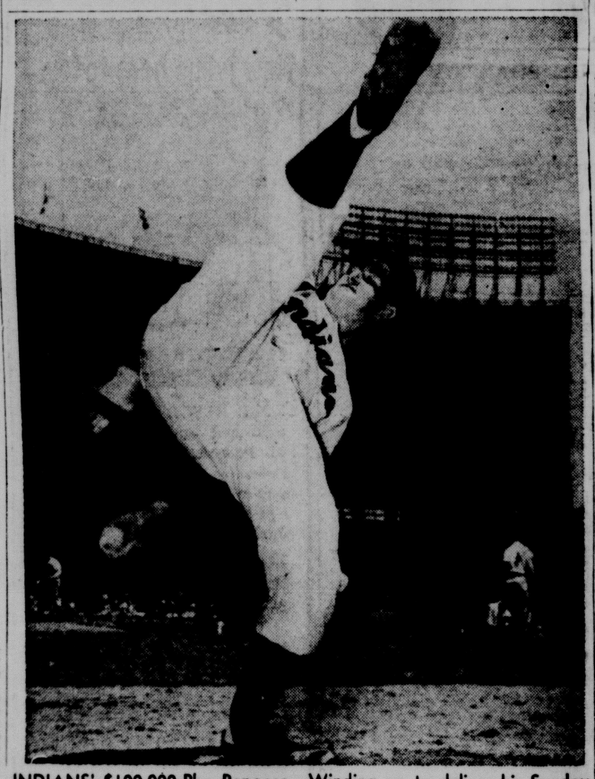

Sherman Lollar also clubbed the ball freely, batting in two runs with a third-inning four-bagger, another one in the first with a single, and he scored from second in the eighth after he hit a double.

Garver held the A's to just one hit for six innings—a single by the newly-acquired Hank Majeski.

In the seventh Ferris Fain and Lou Limmer both singled and when Gus Zernial did the same, Fain scored for the lone Philadelphia tally. A doubleplay brought Garver out of the inning.

Ned walked just one man—Eddie Joost in the ninth—and a doubleplay killed that threat.

Maglie Notches Ninth Victory As Giants Decision Reds, 3-2

New York, (AP)—Sal Maglie turned in his ninth straight victory last night as he pitched the New York Giants to a 3-2 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds. The Giants broke a scoreless tie with two runs in the seventh. Wes Westrum and rookie Willie Mays singled the runs home.

Maglie was in trouble throughout, granting nine hits to the six the Giants collected off Harry Perkowski and Frank Smith.

Ted Kluszewski homered for the Reds in the eighth. Bob Usher tripled to start the ninth and scored the Reds' final run on pinchhitter Barney McCisky's fly ball. Maglie retired Grady Hatton and fanned Connie Ryan to end the game.

First Start

Perkowski, making his first start since the 1949 season, blanked the Giants on one hit until the seventh inning. He walked Al Dark to start the frame. Dark moved to second on a bunt and scored the first run of the game on Wes Westrum's single. Monte Irvin beat out a hit and, after Whitey Lockman forced Irvin at second, Mays singled to score Westrum.

The Giants pushed over what proved to be their winning run in the eighth. Maglie singled to start the inning. He advanced to second on a sacrifice, moved to third on a single by Dark and crossed the plate after Bob Thomson flied out.

Count Turf Wins Polynesian Purse

New York (AP)— Count Turf, the Kentucky Derby winner, turned on the jet power in a stretch drive yesterday to win the $5,000 Polynesian purse at Belmont park and leave Bold—the Preakness champion—far behind.

Appearance

For a time it appeared as if the Putnam stable's Combat Boots, only other starter, would shame both of the big two in the three-year-old ranks.

But Little Conn McCreary, who bounced home Derby day with Count Turf, managed to get Jack Amiel's speedster under the wire in the final jump for a neck decision. Bold was eight lengths back of Combat Boots at the finish.

West Bangor Upsets East Bangor, 5-2

Bangor—West Bangor bunched five runs in the first two innings here at Memorial Park last night and went on to take the measure of East Bangor, 5-2, and knock the visiting contingent back into a three-way tie with Roseto and Pocono A. C. for the number one spot in the circuit.

West Bangor pounded Unger for four markers in the first and one in the second before chasing the hard working right hander in the third in favor of Bob Parsons.

Rally Fails

East Bangor attempted to pull the contest out of the fire in the late innings, but the best the visiting contingent could do was a pair of runs in the sixth frame.

"Ulio" Uliano hurled a masterful two hitter for the winning contingent, giving up a triple to Tucker and a single to Gilbert and had a no-hitter with two outs in the sixth round.

Uliano helped his own cause by blasting out two of West Bangor's six safeties.

Legion Club To Hold Practice

All members of the George N. Kemp American Legion Post baseball team are urged to attend tomorrow night's baseball practice at East Stroudsburg Playground, it was announced last night by Tom Carmella, athletic officer at the local American Legion Post.

Carmella also announced that the team had recently been presented with a dozen new baseballs by Jim Copenhaver, of Kreamee Ice Cream. The Legion club is in need of other equipment and donations will be gladly received, Carmella further stated.

Games

Any team of this or any other area wishing to book a game with the American Legion club is urged to contact Carmella as soon as possible.

Tomorrow's drill is listed for 5:30 p. m. and is the most important drill session to be held by the squad during the present campaign.

Pirates Sign Hurler

Pittsburgh, (AP) —The Pittsburgh Pirates signed up a school boy pitcher whom they found in their own backyard.

The hurling prospect is Jackie Brown, 18-year-old, 180-pounder from nearby Elizabeth, Pa., who has a couple of no hitters to his credit.

Option

The youth, was optioned to the Waco, Tex., club in the class "B" Big State League. That club immediately optioned him to Salisbury, N. C., in the North Carolina State League, a class "D" loop. Both clubs are Pirate farm units.

First National Bank Gains Nod Over People's Coal, 6-5

A sixth inning rally failed by two runs of giving People's Coal Co. its first Stroudsburg Little League victory of the season last night, as the First Stroudsburg National Bank scored a 6-5 verdict before a large crowd at Stroudsburg playground.

The First National club took a 4-1 lead at the end of the first inning and People's Coal Co. came back to cut its deficit in half with a marker in the second.

Winning Runs

However, the ultimate winner put the contest on ice with two more tallies in the fifth and held the upper hand through the final out, despite the fact that People's Coal came up with three markers in the sixth.

Kitchen was the big gun for the losing aggregation, banging out three hits in four trips to the plate, while Setzer, with two-for-three, led the First National attack.

Tonight's contest, on the same field, is listed between People's Coal Co. and Stroudsburg Security Trust. The game will begin at 6:30.

Barthold Leads Field At Glen Brook

Mrs. Fran Barthold won a recent golf tournament for women at Glen Brook Country club, with a score of 75, including handicap over the rolling 18-hole layout. Mrs. Oriale Nitrauer finished second with a count of 77 strokes for the same distance.

A total of 20 players took part in the action and in addition to the two top prize winners the list included Sally Fansler, Peg Cramer, Henrietta Baldwin, Bea Towe, Alice Groner, Pat Rubish, Vi Shaffer, Madine Lockwitch, Lorraine Farber, Georgia Litchenberg, Lorraine Rusk, Bobby Westbrook, Helen Haynes, Peg Shell, Lorene Hansen, Mickie Wallace Jo McDowell, Fran Barthold, and Ann Newman.

Clinic

These women will also meet in their weekly golf clinic session tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

The clinic will feature a discussion on rules, mannerisms of golf and fundamentals of long irons.

Mike Rubish, golf professional at Glen Brook, is also starting a caddie clinic at the course on Friday, at 9 a. m. The clinic is being held to improve the work of the caddies. Those boys making an "A" rating will be allowed to play golf on Mondays.

Brion Gains Decision

London (AP) — Cesar Brion, rugged Argentine heavyweight, spoiled Jack Gardner's bid for major recognition last night when he outpointed the British and European heavyweight champion in a bloody ten-round bout before 50,000 fans in White City Stadium. Gardner had an 18 pound weight edge, 210 to 192.

Both fighters bled freely from eye cuts and the young Briton's face was a red smear as the final bell sounded.

Bowlers To Meet

A special meeting of the Monroe County Bowling Association officers will be held a week from tonight at the home of Robert Cooke, 710 Phillips St. The meeting is listed for 8 p.m.

May Claim Title

Pompton Lakes, N. J., (AP)—Joe Louis said yesterday he would claim British recognition as the world heavyweight champion if he whipped Lee Savold in the Polo grounds on June 13.

"That's the first I ever heard of a heavyweight champion fighting and not having a chance of losing his titles," said Louis. "Sure I'll claim it."

A. C. Signs Bonser

Tom Bonser, veteran infielder, was signed by Pocono A.C., Monroe County's entry in the Blue Mountain league yesterday, it was announced last night by Fred Hershey, general manager of the club.

Duff To Present Prizes To Winners

Shawnee-on-Delaware — A special golf match has been arranged for the Shawnee Inn course on Tuesday, June 12, when Republican Day will be celebrated at this Pocono Mountain resort. Sen. James H. Duff will be on hand to present the various tournament prize winners with their rewards.

The tournament has been designated as the Senatorial Sweepstakes Golf Tournament, and is under the direction of co-chairman Mrs. Frank Patterson Jr. and Mrs. Olaf Pederson.

Plans

Plans call for the tournament to last all day and a large field is expected to enter the battle. Groups are planning to come from the Portland Cement Co., Bethlehem, as well as many local players and golfers from neighboring areas.

Several judges and state senators and representatives will also be in the starting group.

The tournament is being held in conjunction with the banquet of Monroe County Councils of Republican Women at Shawnee Inn.

Duff and Sen. Homer Capehart are the featured guests at the affair.

Tigers Blank Senators, 4-0

Detroit (AP)—Gene Bearden started his first game for the Detroit Tigers last night and blanked the Washington Senators with only four hits. George Kell rapped four straight singles and Jerry Priddy homered as the Tigers won, 4 to 0.

Vic Wertz saved a shutout for Bearden, who had been a relief pitcher until tonight, by a leaping catch against the rightfield screen in the ninth inning. Bearden, whose 20 wins in 1948 helped Cleveland win the pennant, allowed only three balls to be hit farther than the infield in the first five innings. He recorded his second win against one loss.

Bunch Singles

A crowd of 16,164 saw the Tigers bunch singles by Dick Kryhoski, Priddy and Kell for a run in the third inning.

Don Johnson, who suffered his second loss against no wins, gave way for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning.

Priddy lined his third homer of the year into the lower leftfield stands. Kell and pinchhitter Steve Souchock singled and Johnny Groth scored them both with a two base blast to deep right center.

Patterson-Kelley Tucker's Triumph

Tucker's Chevrolet and Patterson-Kelley scored victories in the Monroe County Softball league last night. Tucker's team won over Worthington Mower, 15-11, at East Stroudsburg Junior High school, while Patterson-Kelley shaded Line Material, 6-5 at East Stroudsburg Playground.

Winning Hurler

Larry Levy was the winning hurler for Tucker's, while Rev. Ernest Campbell and Marv Decker divided the losing chores for Worthington Mower. George Mickey was the winning pitcher for Patterson-Kelley and Ray Pensyl the loser for Line Material. Bill Lee homered in the fifth with one on for Patterson-Kelley.

Tonight's schedule calls for Union Printers and Eagles to meet at East Stroudsburg Junior High and Tucker's and IAM tangle at East Stroudsburg Playground.

Pale Hose Show Power Against Bosox

Chicago (AP) — In two mighty scoring thrusts of four and six runs, the sizzling hot Chicago White Sox smothered the Boston Red Sox, 10-2, for their fourth straight win in three days over the Red Sox.

This time it was Randy Gumpert, notching his fourth win without defeat, who tooled the victory that kept the White Sox three and one-half games ahead of the runner-up New York Yankees.

The Yankees kept pace with an 8-2 win over the Cleveland Indians.

Run Wild

Parading to their eighteenth win in their last 20 starts, the White Sox broke up a budding mound duel between Boston's Willard Nixon with a four-run outburst in the sixth inning which erased a 1-0 Boston lead.

Nixon, suffering his first loss against three wins, yielded to Boston ace, Mel Parnell in the sixth. But Parnell beat a hasty retreat after pitching a two-run homer to Jim Busby, his first of the season. Before Bill Evans and "Chuck" Stobbs finally got the side out, the White Sox had hammered seven straight hits and rattled across six runs.

Gumpert scattered eight hits so effectively, the Bostons got more than one safe blow in only one inning, the ninth when the Red Sox countered their second run.

Portland Host To Johnsonville

Portland—The only contest on the Blue Mountain League schedule will be held here tonight, with the cellar-dwelling Johnsonville club invading the home domain of the fifth place Portland Apollos. The contest is scheduled to get underway at 6:15 p. m.

Record

Johnsonville has lost all eight of its league starts this season, while Portland is currently sporting a record of three victories and a quartet of setbacks.

George Kays will probably do the pitching for Portland, while John Polinsky will undoubtedly be on the hill for Johnsonville.

Yankees Put End To Losing Habit With Verdict Over Indians In Final Contest Of Series, 8-2

Cleveland (AP) — The faltering New York Yankees finally came up with the unbeatable combination of good pitching and solid socking yesterday to rout Cleveland 8-2 and snap the sizzling Indians' winning streak at nine games.

Allie Reynolds, the big Cherokee righthander, tossed a five-hitter and his teammates backed him up with a 13-hit barrage, including homers by Yogi Berra and Bobby Brown and three doubles.

Breaks Spell

The victory broke the world champions' three-game losing spell and kept them three and one-half games back of the inspired Chicago White Sox who walloped Boston, 10-2.

Berra's homer in the second and Brown's four-bagger in the sixth enabled the Yanks to hold a 2-1 edge over Early Wynn for six innings. Then the Yanks broke the game wide open with two runs in the seventh inning, three in the eighth and one more in the ninth.

Dodgers Increase Lead In Senior Circuit With One-Run Decision Over Cardinals In Thriller

Brooklyn (AP) — Roy Campanella's double to center scored Carl Furillo from first in the ninth inning yesterday to enable the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers to nip the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2. It was the Dodgers' fourth straight victory and stretched their league lead to four and one-half games over the Cards.

The loss snapped the Cards' modest two-game win streak.

Homer Helps

Trailing 2-0 going into the last of the seventh, the Dodgers closed in on Gil Hodges, eighteenth homer of the season. They tied it up 2-2 in the eighth when George Munger, who had pitched fine five-hit ball through the first seven frames, tossed his lead away with an error.

Carl Erskine, who replaced starter Joe Hatten in the eighth, was the winner. Howie Pollet, Munger's relief, was charged with the loss.

Jersey Player Leads Field

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Miss Betty Park, Glen Ridge Country Club of New Jersey, will lead the Women's New Jersey Golf Association into the final round of its golf tournament here this morning, after touring the Shawnee Inn layout in 80 strokes yesterday. With the help of a nine handicap the straight shooting lassie finished the 18-hole grind with a 71 net score.

Miss Jean Carlson, Manasquan River course, was second with a net count of 72, on the strength of an 80 gross score and an eight handicap.

The Neilson Spring Tournament Trophy will be awarded to the player with the lowest net score at the end of tomorrow's action.

Mrs. Paul Geary was third in the net score standings at the end of 18 holes, using a 96 with a 20 handicap for a 76 score.

Other low gross scores in yesterday's initial round belonged to Mrs. William Hockenjos, Baltusrol, with an 82; Mrs. A. J. Bryant, Upper Montclair, 83, and Mrs. James Dorment, Montclair, 84.

Mrs. Hockenjos was the center of attention for most of the round due to the fact that the Baltusrol member was playing with a handicap of only three strokes.

Association Holds Tourney

Skytop—Dr. John Flanagan, Schuylkill Valley Country Club, moved out in front of the pack at the end of the first round of the annual spring golf tournament of the Philadelphia Senior Golfer's Association here yesterday, on Skytop Lodge's 18-hole layout.

Second place in the "A" division is currently held by Henry E. Snayberger, also of Schuylkill Valley, with an 85 gross, 11 handicap and 74 net score. Flanagan's first place figures are 87-15-72.

Third Place

Third place is occupied by Harry Thompson, Plymouth County Club, with 86-10-76 figures. The remainder of the top six in this division are Al Ziegler, Springhaven, 90-12-78; George Pain, Rolling Green, 93-12-81, and Ralph Campbell, also of Rolling Green, and also with a score of 93-12-81.

Money Bill Submitted To House

Harrisburg (AP)— A $625,115,405 general appropriations bill to finance the bulk of Commonwealth operations in the next two years was submitted to the House yesterday.

In other years, the bill signalled the approach of adjournment of the Legislature. But it's a different story in 1951 because of the Senate deadlock on taxes.

Chairman Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) of the House Appropriations committee explained his introduction of the bill this way:

"The House has completed its action on taxes. Now it is ready to start work on appropriations."

The Senate is at an impasse on passing Gov. John S. Fine's proposal for a one-half of one per cent personal income tax because of the opposition of 11 GOP senators and 20 Democrats. The $119,000,000 measure cleared the House more than a month ago.

Chairman Leroy Chapman (R-Warren) of the Senate Finance committee forecast that the general appropriations bill, after passing the House, will be held up indefinitely in the Senate until the tax picture is cleared up.

The appropriation bill is $4,716,185 above Fine's budget estimates. Some $5,125,000 was added to the estimates but other items were cut by $1,198,350.

Proper Window Space

When the modernization of a house is contemplated, the size of the windows is a point to be considered. Small windows, unless they are on the sunny side of the house, are often inadequate for the proper lighting of a room. Small panes of glass in the sash are also less efficient than a window with single or double panes.

New York Butter

New York, (AP)—Butter 1,396,051, steady Wholesale prices on bulk cartons: Creamery, higher than 92 score (AA) fresh 70 cents, 92 score (A) fresh 68¼, 90 score (B) fresh 67½, 89 score (C) fresh 66¼.

Mix Determines Concrete Strength

The strength of concrete is determined by the water-cement ratio. Under average conditions, the use of six gallons of water to one sack of cement and enough sand and pebbles to give a workable mixture will provide a strong watertight concrete.

If seven gallons of water are used to one sack of cement under the same conditions, concrete of much lower strength will result. But if conditions permit the use of only five gallons of water to one sack of cement, concrete of about double strength and durability of the seven gallon mixture will result.

Sloppy mixtures generally produce a weak, porous concrete. Mixtures that are too dry may result in a honeycombed concrete of low strength.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Take your time—that is, take time to evaluate properly, time to do a job well, not just finish it. And don't strain along the way, if you would avoid defects in the completed work.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Where you can help another to facilitate matters, solve problems or make easier the tasks of all, by all means do it. We always gain by aiding others. Smile.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Note admonition to Aries, it holds for you today. Don't try too hard, nor attempt too much. But neither should you shirk duties in the excuse that your day is crowded—be steady, ready.

June 21 to July 23 (Cancer)—Don't miss out by being cantankerous or moody—likely temptations. Save yourself headaches and stomach trouble by steering clear of argument and resentment. Be inwardly happy.

July 24 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Avoid harming health through anger—anxiety. Act, think logically and you will arrive at solid, logical gains. Take only honorable, practical heads into your confidence.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Look into your everyday habits for flaws that so often unwittingly upset the applecart. Could you not have left unsaid that criticism, or forgotten that other person's error?

September 23 to October 23 (Libra)—In a pinch a rightly developed Libra native can handle more than his—or her—share, and come out on top. Here—is a chance to show your mettle; although odds may be unknown. Keep smiling.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Not especially attractive for other than routine matters and work for which you are trained. But good endeavor and earnest trys always bring some sound returns. Don't discourage.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Activities and interests that require keen mental alertness are tops today, which suggests also that if intelligent management is maintained you should benefit anew in YOUR job.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—More finesse and delicacy today will bring surer results, and better. Difficult tasks, laborious work ask greater care, patience. AND, know what you are doing in investments!

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Day can be much as you wish, depending upon how you approach client or task and how you manage from there on. Don't expect great results, but do work earnestly, hopefully.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Aspects more favorable than otherwise so keep this in mind as you work, study, teach. Research, journalism, all-brain work under fine Mercury aspects. Have faith in YOU and your work.

YOU BORN TODAY: A natural leader, ambitious, ardent, generous. At times too flighty in fancy to give the real talented YOU a chance to perfect an undertaking before moving to another. Strive for inner contentment, patience. And keep right enthusiasm alive daily. Great variety of talents in Gemini, general capability, too, but proper consistency of effort and system are essential to success. Periods for complete rest and relaxation necessary for good health. Birthdate: Nathan Hale, Amer. patriot; Pierre Corneille, Fr. dramatist, poet; John A. Roebling, engineer, designer Brooklyn Bridge.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

GET ACQUAINTED
WITH THESE UNUSUAL FEATURES OF ROG'S RUMPUS ROOM

- The ultimate in Pocono atmosphere and decour
- The huge tree cross-sections imbedded in the bar room floor.
- The sunken dance floor.
- The "View-all" dining mezzanine.
- The Red Telephone at the entrance desk (I know that this is a silly feature, but I have had over 200 comments about it in one week). (Attention Phone Company: stock up on Red Telephones.)
- The menu that features only the unusual.
- The Kitchen that is staffed with experienced connisseaurs (and very temperamental!).
- The prices that compare.
- The orchestra music now playing on week-ends that is unique and fitting.
- The "Moon-Tip Terrace" where you can see all of the Poconos you read about in those fancy folders.
- Roger—the only head waiter in the country who cannot remember your name. (Horrors!)

Vacation Bible School Opens Next Monday

The East Stroudsburg Community Vacation Church school will be held June 11 to 24 in Grace Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg. Rev. William Wunder is the host pastor.

The daily sessions, Monday through Friday will convene at 9 a. m. and close at 11:30 a. m. The closing of the school will be held Sunday, June 24 at 7 p. m.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Vacation Church school, for many years known as the Daily Vacation Bible school. Special efforts are being put forth this year throughout the country to mark this half century celebration.

Rev. B. H. Hostetter, of the Christian & Missionary Alliance church of East Stroudsburg is dean of the school. He will be assisted by the local pastors and a selected corps of workers from the cooperating churches.

Two radio broadcasts have been arranged during the sessions of the school. They will coincide with the Design For Living programs of Station WVPO, on Friday, June 15 and 22.

The opening chapel services will be held in the auditorium of Grace Lutheran church. Miss Charlotte Herman will serve as the organist and the pastors and department heads will conduct the devotions and bring the morning Childrens' Sermons.

The average attendance of the school in past years has been slightly over 300 and the workers are anticipating a similar response on the part of the children this year.

Staff of this year's school includes:

Beginners, Mrs. B. H. Hostetter, superintendent; Mrs. Elwood Shiffer, Barbara Shiffer, Mrs. M. Finelli, Bernina Hostetter, Mrs. E. Werkheiser, Silvia Younkin, Betty Stiff, Mrs. Stanton, teachers.

Primary, Miss Mildred Deacon, superintendent; Mrs. Fran Wingerter, Mrs. Sara Bard, Lauretta Baucher, Eleanore Decker, Marlene Shatto, Charlotte Toewe, Connie Werkheiser; Dolores Keller, teachers.

Juniors, Mrs. Paul Cramer, superintendent; Mrs. Grant Keiper. Mrs. Arthur Wiest, Charlotte Herman, Joan Wallace, Mrs. Fred Fatzinger, Frances Naugle, Mary J. Williams, Connie Beers, Joan Fritz, teachers.

Intermediate, Mrs. Dewey Jacoby, girls; Larry Vail, boys.

Safety guards include William Strunk, Frank Schaller, Bernard Capuano, Paul Hoffman.

Portland

Mrs. Gwladys Carpenter
Ph. Portland 22-B

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Cramer and daughter, Pat, Mrs. William Healey and daughter Mrs. Ethel Seeley visited on Sunday with Mrs. Healey's son and family at Chester.

The Children's day services of the Portland Presbyterian church has been postpond until Sunday June 17 and will be held at the morning hour of the worship service. There will be no Sunday school on that Sunday. The offering on Children's day will be given to the Board of National Missions. Parents who desire baptism for their little ones will find this an ideal Sunday and should contact Dr. David R. Edwards at the Manse.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Levine and son, Sanford, of Elizabeth, N. J., are spending some time with Mrs. Levine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Effross and family on Delaware Ave.
